TALK CITY ELECTION

To Plan Clean-up Campaigns at a Meeting Celebrating Prohibition Victory.

What part shall the women voters of Tulsa play in the coming municipal election? Shall the woman voter affiliate herself with one of the five parties or herself as an independent voter? What shall be the attitude of the organizations of white women toward the negro women voters? Methods of electioneering in those who instruct our children? What reforms social or otherwise are needed in Tulsa? The above five matters will be discussed pro and con at the celebration meeting of the Federated Women's Christian Temperance Union of Tulsa on Friday at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Fifth street and Boulder avenue.

The meeting was set for Friday so that the members could publicly observe the going into effect of the constitutional amendment which prohibited intoxicating liquors. This program has been prepared, according to Mrs. A. C. Bancroft, the president.
