Constipation The Father of Many Ills
 No one can reasonably hope for good health unless his bowels move once each day. When this is not attended to disorders of the stomach arise, biliousness, headache, dyspepsia and piles soon follow. Appendicitis is also believed to be caused by constipation. If you would avoid these ailments keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed. These tablets produce a gentle movement of the bowels without any unpleasant effects.

THE HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

Bordeaux Mixture is great stuff lime. This is the lime to which for plant disease, says today's plant lesson of the American Forestry Association. Often it is the case that you will want to combine insecticides with fungicides in the spraying, and Bordeaux Mixture is the thing. However, it should be remembered that Bordeaux Mixture is not fatal to insects—but is an effective control for various types of fungus disease. Here is the combination for making the mixture. Copper sulphate, blue stone or blue vitrol, three ounces. Slump or hydrated lime, three ounces. Water two and one-half gallons. Procure the ingredients at a drug or seed store. If lump lime is used, it must be fresh. Instead of lump lime, some prefer fresh hydrated

ARCADIA ITEMS

Sunday being a beautiful day, a large crowd turned out to Sunday school. It was the regular preaching day, but for some cause the minister from Chickasha failed to come. He was to fill the place of the regular Arcadia minister, who closed a protracted meeting Sunday morning at Amber.

Am. Legion Sends Man to Help Get Claims Straight

Oklahoma City, April 23.—The American Legion of Oklahoma now has a resident representative at Washington, D. C., to assist former service men in the state in perfecting claims against the government or in straightening out compensation of allotment tangles. Election of Harry B. Gilstrap of Chandler, as department service officer of the American Legion was announced here today by Earle M. Simon, department adjutant.
 Major Gilstrap is now in Washington serving as secretary to Representative Manuel Herrick. He is in close touch with the bureau of war risk insurance and other governmental agencies dealing with ex-servicemen. He has accepted the office to which he was recently elected by the state legion executive committee and will take up claims direct with bureau heads in an effort to obtain speedy action in all cases referred to him. Up to the time he went to Washington, Gilstrap was a member of the legion executive committee from the fourth district.

"Claims should be forwarded by local post officers of the Legion to Mr. Gilstrap through state headquarters in this city," Mr. Simon said in outlining the policy which was to be followed. "All posts keep a supply of forms necessary or they may be obtained from state headquarters. Claimants who do not live at a convenient distance from a legion post may write direct to the state legion office."

Gets Medal of Honor At White House 17 Years After Saving Battleship

For the first time in history, the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest award for valor, was awarded at the White House to Robert E. Cox, a chief gunner in the navy. The ceremony took place seventeen years to the day from the time Cox, whose home is in Belmont, Pa., saved the battleship Missouri from destruction. After an explosion in a turret had ignited powder in an adjoining magazine, Cox flooded the after magazine at the risk of his life. Thirty men were killed in the accident. Cox, as a warrant officer, was debarrred from receiving the medal of honor by the law providing for its award only to enlisted men. In February special legislation was enacted permitting an exception to be made in Cox's case. President Harding presented the medal personally.
