A QUESTION

Every citizen of Klamath Falls should ask himself this question. Am I doing everything I could to impress upon strangers the advantages of this town and county as a permanent home, or am I allowing myself by careless remarks to discourage would be investors and residents? After asking yourself this question just spend ten minutes in serious thought and see if you are not partly responsible for some of the people who are weekly going out of here disgusted with the people and their manner of doing business. Perhaps you are not aware that each week from three to four people, who came here with money to invest, leave the country with an unfavorable impression to report to their friends. This however is the plain truth, and these few who leave will do more to prevent others from coming here than can be overcome by all the advertising that we will do in the next year. The trouble is that our real estate men do not work together, each one is working as individuals, with the sole purpose of selling some of their own property at a profit to themselves. Now these men should form an association, and when a buyer came here, see that he got what he wanted. If one cannot sell him, let some one else do so. The main object to be obtained is to satisfy the investor and by all means keep him here. Do not let him get away. We have two or three street brokers, who never sold a piece of property in their lives, who always "butt" in on every new comer and bore him so that he is driven out of the country before he has had a chance to see anything of our resources.

A "manless Eden," a heaven in Wyoming for all suffragettes, a place where under the trained hands of twenty or more fair Chicago girls, a model little city will spring to life, is being planned by Mrs. T. Vernetta Morse, president of the Arts-Crafts Institute, who will be the "Mother Eve" of the colony. An agent has already been dispatched to Wyoming to search for a sight for this colony and young women are preparing lists of farming implements, carpenters' tools, lumber, brick and other material necessary for the building of the first places of habitation. According to Mrs. Morse, mere man will be employed in the first instance to break the ground of the new colony. Then he will be dispensed with entirely. The young women themselves will proceed to build the houses, lay out the gardens and plant their truck.

Dr. Robert Koch, celebrated German scientist, before leaving St. Louis for the west, told his friends of all he had ever seen, the American women are the most beautiful. He said that in addition to beauty the American women had a decidedly pleasing air of independence.

Doesn't look as if either of them were as sure of their political future as they pretend to be when Taft will not resign from the cabinet, and Bryan and Johnson are both said to be making lecture engagements for next year.

MILLS ADDITION LOTS

are Advancing in Value

When blocks in Mills Addition were offered at bargain prices a number of shrewd investors bought; since that time values have increased materially.

These Lots are Bargain Buys at present prices, and there is every reason to anticipate an advance in prices. Remember these lots are FIFTY feet in width and ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY FEET deep—more than double the area of most town lots offered to investors.
