

WILL HAVE HOT TIME COMMENCEMENT EVENTS OF KLAMATH HIGH SCHOOL

Water Users' Session Will Be Stormy According to Barometer

The rejection of the Clear Lake dam project has stirred matters in the Klamath project. For a time it seemed as if everything was moving along serenely, but indications now are that while matters were placid on the surface things were brewing in the bottom and that at a meeting Friday afternoon there will be a commotion that is likely to cause a change in the complexion of the entire project. It appears that the amendment asking for a change in the time of holding the regular annual meeting will be a very insignificant thing compared with the demands of a resolution that will be introduced. The Herald is informed that some of the prominent in the Klamath Water Users' Association that a resolution will be introduced at the meeting asking for the removal of D. W. Murphy from the position of project engineer. This resolution has the endorsement of some of the directors, a majority it is claimed, and is now in the hands of an attorney who is preparing the same in legal form. The grounds upon which the removal of Mr. Murphy will be asked for are not known. The result of this movement will have a decided bearing upon the project, no matter what the result of the action will be. It has also been stated that other resolutions may be introduced that will cause changes in the present conditions of the project.

that if the resolution is passed it will come from the majority of the association members and not from a small clique that may have a majority vote in a poorly attended meeting.

Breaks His Arm

T. A. Crogan, while engaged in blasting about three miles west of town yesterday afternoon, had the misfortune to sustain a broken arm. He was holding the crowbar used in tamping and the man striking it missed and struck him on the right arm with a sledge hammer, causing a fracture of both bones in the forearm. He walked into town and Dr. Hamilton reduced the fracture.

A large government surveying outfit started for Langell valley this morning where they will work for a few weeks, surveying laterals and farm units. Three wagons hauled out the men and the equipment.

Re-elected County Surveyor

M. D. WILLIAMS

The declamatory contest at the High School last night was one of exceptional interest as every participant in the event was strong in his or her selection, and the class as a whole showed remarkable talent.

The program, with the exception of a few changes, was carried out as it was printed. The contest was won by Miss Mamie Boyd, who recited the selection "Boy Orator of Zepa's City," and at the close of the program Prof. R. H. Dunbar, on behalf of the judges and Mr. L. B. Appleby, the donor of the gold Medal, presented the prize to the winner of the contest with a few well chosen remarks to all of the contestants.

The student taking part in the contest showed splendid literary taste in the choice of their selections, and in addition to being well rendered the story told by everyone of the selections was interesting to the audience. The musical numbers on the program helped make the evening an exceedingly pleasant one for the audience as well as a highly profitable one for the participants in the contest.

The large assembly hall at the High School was crowded this afternoon when the graduates presented their class day exercises. The large attendance at all of these school functions is indicative of the interest that the people take in educational affairs. Every number on the program was applauded and the class history, class prophecy, class poem and the class will were prepared so as to make them both pleasing and interesting. In the presentation of their class day exercises the students showed that their time in the High School had been profitable spent and that they had acquired things that will help them on in the world. The musical part of the program was entirely by members of the class and the selections interspersing the other numbers made the afternoon a pleasant one for the large number of school enthusiasts who witnessed the exercises.

NEW REGIME TONIGHT

Mayor Stilts Will Make His Appointments After Taking His Seat

Tonight when the city council meets in regular session B. St. Geo. Bishop will turn the reins of government over to Mayor John R. Stilts. The new mayor and the new councilmen will take their oaths of office and as soon as this is completed the new regimens will take charge of the city's affairs. The new councilmen will be F. E. Ankney, Silas Obenchain, E. T. Sanderson and Marion Hanks. Mr. Hanks is absent from the city and will not take his seat tonight. Mayor Stilts will resign as councilman in the Second ward and the vacancy will be filled by appointment. It is generally understood that C. B. Crisler will be appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Stilts.

Mayor Stilts has made no announcement of his appointments and will not do so until after he assumes the duties of the office. But notwithstanding that he has said nothing in regard to this matter the rumor is current that C. C. Low will be asked to fill the office of chief of police temporarily and that A. E. Gillett will be retained as night policeman. Dr. E. R. Hamilton will receive the appointment of city health officer and John Irvin will likely be the new city attorney. Don J. Zamwalt according to the rumor is slated for reappointment as city surveyor.

The mayor will make all of his appointments temporary at the outset and will not make any of them permanent until he is satisfied that they will uphold his administration in every respect.

The personnel of the council will be as follows: First ward, A. Castel and F. E. Ankney; Second ward, Silas Obenchain and the successor to Mr. Stilts; Third ward, F. T. Sanderson and Marion Hanks.

Another Contest

County Clerk Chastain is today hearing the evidence in the contest of Obie Newton vs. Mrs. L. B. Yaden. This is another of the cases where the defendant made a homestead filing some four

TICKETS TO KLAMATH

Southern Pacific Stations Agent Here to Handle Passenger Traffic

Within a few days the city of Klamath Falls will have the advantage of having transportation tickets for all parts of the United States on sale in this city. It will no longer be necessary to buy a ticket to the railroad, where it was heretofore necessary to buy railroad tickets to the destination of the passenger. T. A. K. Fassett, formerly traveling freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, arrived here last night and as soon as the tickets arrive will open an office in conjunction with the Klamath Lake Navigation Company. He will look after the passenger traffic for both the local company and the Southern Pacific. Baggage will be checked from this city the same as it on railroad points and aside from not being on the railroad this city will have the same service as towns with rail connection. Passengers will be allowed 150 pound of baggage in and out of this city.

Tickets direct to Klamath Falls will also be placed on sale in all railroad offices so that this city will have the advantage of having immigrants buy their tickets through to Klamath Falls.

Final Count Slow

The counting of the ballots in Linkville precinct was not finished until 4 o'clock this morning. This was responsible for the delay in getting the complete returns, and clearly indicates the necessity for the subdivision of this precinct. The division will be made this Fall, but not until after the presidential election, so that at that time there will be the same jam as at the election on Monday. The time for the division does not come until after the election.

The complete count in Linkville precinct made no change in the result of the election as announced in the Herald last night. The final count shows that the county goes dry by a majority of 81 votes. The complete count of the county with the exception of Odell precinct will be found on the last page.

Lecture Tonight

Rev. Edward Adams Cantrell will deliver his farewell lecture at the opera house tonight on the subject, "Think or Surrender." The lecture will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will be free as have been all of his other lectures.

Rev. Cantrell has been in this city for about three weeks and has made many friends while here. He leaves in the morning for San Francisco, and will lecture there, in Oakland and in Berkeley before returning to his home in the East. He was very favorably impressed with the Klamath project and thinks it compares favorably with the other projects of the West. He says that it is very probable that he and a number of others may come West and settle in one of the irrigated districts, but no definite place has been selected.

Re-elected Congressman

W. C. HAWLEY

Merryman Elected

Returns from Lake and Crook county give Merryman a majority of 301 votes for Joint Senator. Crook gave Springer a majority of 296, while Lake went for Merryman by 150 and Klamath gave Merryman 446.

Clouds of dust can be seen from the city in the vicinity of the new fair grounds. Contractor E. W. Smith has a large force of men at work and is building a track that will be a credit as well as a pleasure to the county when the fair is held this fall.
