THE USE OF TOBACCO.

An Appeal From the Salem Purity Alliance.

ED. JOURNAL.—Will you kindly allow space in your valuable paper for a few thoughts and some comments on the present non-enforcement of the tobacco and cigarette law; in regard to the sale of tobacco and cigarettes to minors, and the use by minors of the same. It is a very common thing to see youths and even very small boys smoking deadly cigarette. Now we wish to call the attention of our newly elected city officials to the fact, and as they take the oath of office let them remember that the law says that it is unlawful to sell tobacco or cigarettes to minors, and we shall look to them to protect our boys from this evil, and to the Fathers and Mothers we would say, do as you love your children aid the offices in this unpleasant duty. Remember that while the officers have the power to stop this evil, they need and ought to have the hearty co-operation of every Father and Mother.

Yours for Truth and Purity.

It is reported from Portland today by a gentleman, who has just been there, that Senator Mitchell has 39 Republican members, of the legislature, pledged to him, and his managers are now laboring with the Populists and Democrats. It takes 46 to elect a senator in Oregon if all are present and voting.

Mr. Smiley, who is a woodchopper by occupation, is private prosecutor and the complaint alleges the tools were stolen on the 8th inst.

George was arraigned before Justice Johnson this morning on the charge of larceny from a dwelling. His trial was set for 1 p. m. Saturdry.

FUNERAL PARTY.—The remains of Mrs. Sarah L. Hayes, wife of S. E. Hayes, who died at Salem Dec. 9th, were taken to Oregon City this morning and will be interred at the family burying place on the farm five miles from the city. The remains were escorted by Mr. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman (son-in-law and wife) and Miss Edith Howard. Mrs. Hayes was a noble pioneer woman of Oregon. Her wish expressed before death, that her obituary be that she was a good mother, a faithful wife and a kind neighbor is as noble an eulogy of her character as we can print.

THE POSTOFFICE.—The removal of the Salem postoffice continues to be a subject of local conversation. It is now learned that the inspector expressed a preference for the Williams & England bank building, a lease to which would have to be made by Receiver McNary. But it is understood the court would confirm such a lease if made. It would enhance the value of the property some. About $500 to $700 would have to be raised to make the change from present location.

FRAUDS.

Still Charged at Salem.

But the Sensational Elements in the Case are "Large."

The Oregonian sensational reporter has given up the "bucketshop" frauds at Salem. It is intimated he has been called down for transactions in which he had a hand not far from the opera house

Mr. Richardson of the law firm mentioned in the telegrams from Salem, says his firm has never given out anything for publication. He claims they have evidence of fraud and will prove it up in court when the proper time comes.

Mr. Eller the operator is still at Salem and will resist all attempts of the Western Union to throw a cloud on him.

The "bucket-shop" controversy continues to agitate the public mind No legal steps have been taken, as was intimated would be, but some very interesting points are developing. It has become known that Mr. Eller was offered a position by the company at some other place but refused. No effectual way of exonerating Mr. Eller exists unless it would be to reinstase him as manager at Salem.

It is also intimatad that a Salem lawyer has dropped some cash into the slot and has taken an unprofessional method is seeking to recover.

Mr Boltger of the Salem wheat exchange is the only man who seems to be indifferent to developments. He refuses to make any statement for publication.

THE RIVER FALLING.—The Willamette river registered 10 feet above low water mark this morning, indicating a falling off of 4 feet in the river's stage during the past week. Traffic on the river is at its best, there being a large manifest of freight as well as good list of passengers on each in-coming and out-going steamboat.

Tax Sale.

The Marion county sale of lands for delinquent taxes was continued today. The attendance was not large and Sheriff Wrightman bid the property off rapidly. There was little strife and no competition to speak of to get the property. Bids were confined to officials and attorneys, mostly on slips and memoranda and handed up to the sheriff, who then called off the parcel of lots or lands asked to be sold. Then the sheriff went through the formula of calling off the once, twice, thrice, etc.

Geo. G. Bingham, attorney, bid on a parcel of Van Eaton lands, but did not bid enough, and the land went to the county.

There was some complaint among owners of property, who have been unable to pay taxes, at being taxed up 50 cents a line for the advertising, when 10 cents a line would be a fair price these hard times. But it is said to be only the legal fee, and necessary to keep alive an official organ, if it has to be done by taxing delinquents from $1 to $10 apiece.
