

WASTE IN A GRAFT

The waste in Federal printing may be summed up as comprised in two general classes—such as occurs from various causes in the conduct of the printing plant itself; such as results in publishing pamphlets and volumes either really not needed at all, or, if needed, issued too expensively or in too large numbers. Of these two classes of waste, that existing in the plant is purely a business matter, and can be remedied to some extent by following more closely the best commercial methods. That occurring in connection with the character and amount of production probably can be met permanently only by some form of supervision dealing especially with the three questions which should be considered with every proposed publication—the question of publishing at all, the question of economy in mechanical presentation, and the question of restricting the size of the edition so as not to exceed the number of copies required by wise distribution. Distribution, indeed, form a perplexing problem by itself. The commercial publishers catering to a definite demand avoids dead stock by reprinting. With Federal publications the tendency is toward only one edition and that a liberal one. Herein is the possibility of serious waste; people are always to be found who will accept any kind of a book if it costs nothing. Therefore, distribution is limited solely by the number of copies Congress or government officials are willing to issue. The object of most Federal publications could be attained at a very small part of the present cost if they were sent free only to libraries and public institutions, and certain important newspapers which agree to review them, and sold for a nominal sum to all others. Such a policy would be a radical departure from present procedure, especially in the case of Congress, for little by little senators and representatives have become distributing centers and official book agents for literature on all subjects.—W. S. Rossiter, in September Atlantic.

and their presence in the city is distinctly felt in every quarter. Some of the Hoo-Hoos have travelled three or four thousand miles to attend their annual convention, but the hardships of their trips did not have any appreciable affect upon their ability to enjoy the good things of life. According to the custom of that queer order the annual convention was called to order at nine o'clock this morning, this being the ninth day of the ninth month. The convention will remain in session four days and the members will then return to their many point of interest on their way. There are several hundred delegates in attendance at the convention, representing nearly every state in the union.

The Value of a Trade-Mark.
A trade-mark is usually some one particular mark on goods to show their origin, but, as a matter of fact, may now, original quality, feature or characteristic of an article of manufacture, if widely made known through advertising, becomes valuable as a trade-mark, and is protected by the courts, so that one article may have many "trade-marks" that belong to it alone. Thus, for example, in the case of Cascarets, Candy Cathartic, the name "Cascarets," the expression "Candy Cathartic," the peculiar shape and color of the box, the octagonal tablet, and the letters "C. C. C." on each tablet, are all expressive trade "marks" of that popular medicine, because they indicate their genuineness, distinguish them from imitations and have become universally known to the people.
