Local Men Buy Plant At Toledo

The purchase of the Toledo Canning company plant at Toledo by a group of local packers who will start operations in a few days under the name of the Yaquina Bay Packing Co., has been announced. Fred Kurts, manager of the Producers' Canning and Packing Co. of this city is the principal investor.

The deal has been under consideration for some time by the local men, who decided to take over the plant from Toledo bankers as soon as they learned of the opening there. The plant has about one-fourth the capacity of the Producers' Canning and Packing Co., but it is expected that between 10 and 20 carloads of canned goods will be turned out before the season closes.

Robert J. Newton, who has been connected with the Producers' Canning and Packing Co. for some time will be manager of the new venture, and will begin operations as soon as the black-berry crop of Toledo is ready.

Local men deny the report that there is any connection between the Producers' Canning and Packing Co., or the old Kurts & Co. and the new organization. They also say that the announcement that blackberries on the coast will go at 4 cents a pound was not authorized by the packers, and that the probability is that the coast price will not reach 4 cents.

Polk County Court

Circuit Court.

D. H. Looney vs. John Doe (H. H. Pauls). Stipulation filed by plaintiff's attorney with clerk of the court wherein it is stipulated that the clerk is to pay the plaintiff $38.90 of the plaintiff's which was paid into court at the commencement of this suit, said amount to settle plaintiff's costs and disbursements; that the remainder, $11.50, should be paid to the defendant or his attorney.

Joseph L. Van Dorn vs. Edna Katherine Van Dorn. The defendant, through her attorney, filed her answer to the plaintiff's complaint wherein she denied that she has treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner and that she would leave the plaintiff's home at intervals, sometimes staying out all night. She denied, further, that she kept company or corresponded with other men and that she went east to St. Paul without plaintiff's consent or knowledge.

William Branchflower vs. Tom Ottinger and Lloyd Simkins. The defendants, through their attorney, B. A. Klika, answered the plaintiff's complaint on file herein and filed their separate answer in defense wherein they pray the court to dismiss plaintiff's complaint and for judgment against the plaintiff, for attorney's fees and costs and disbursement of the action.

Ennis D. Walt vs. A. Nelson. Transcript of judgment from the circuit court of Linn county filed in the circuit court against the above named defendant.

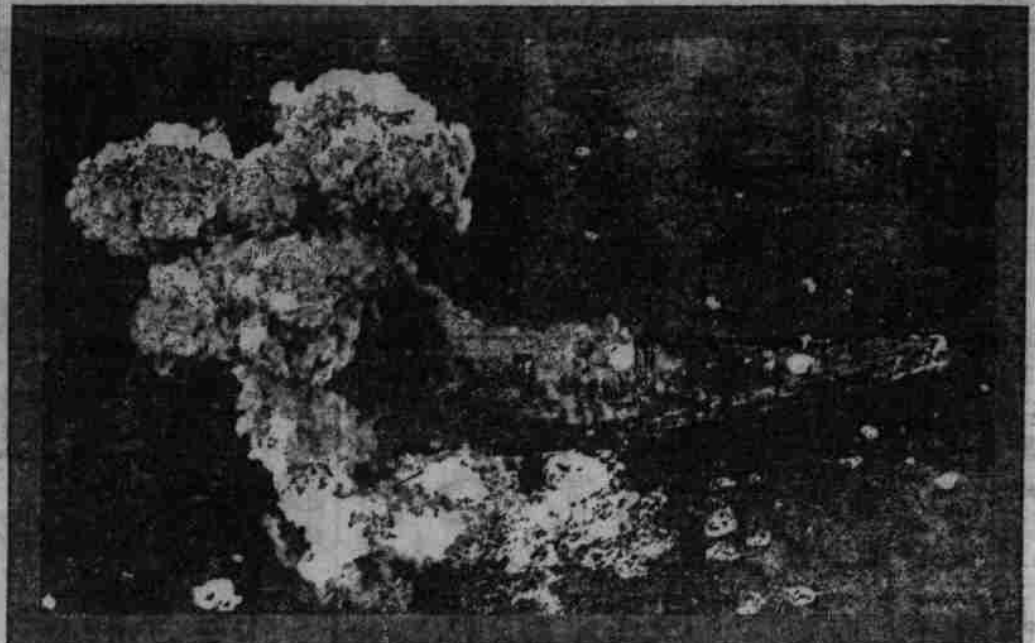

First National Bank of Redmond vs. J. C. Cokerham. Transcript of judgment in the circuit court of Multnomah county filed in the circuit court of Polk county against the above named defendant.

Mary Haller vs. J. W. Orr and Andrew Kershaw. The above mentioned case went to trial yesterday before County Judge Ana B. Robinson. The cause of this suit was a complaint filed some time ago wherein Mary Haller, the plaintiff, alleges that Sheriff Orr had wrongfully attached four cows which were her property and that he still held the animals. Mr. Orr was represented by Mr. Kershaw's attorney. Witnesses were heard and arguments made before a jury of six men empaneled to hear the case. Many of the Grand Jurors, citizens, were called as witnesses and others came as interested spectators and, while the jury was deliberating, they waited impatiently in the court room and corridor. The jury returned a verdict against the plaintiff and in favor of the defendants.

SINGLE $20,000 CHEMICAL BOMB SINKS $20,000,000 DREADNOUGHT

U. S. Naval Official Photo, Underwood & Underwood, N. Y. In the bomb were the familiar ingredients used in household medicine to dye the children's shoes and their mothers' dresses.

The modern replica of David's sling shot is an aerial bomb. When $20,000 worth of chemicals, launched from one of Uncle Sam's bombing aeroplanes, destroyed a present-day Goliath in the form of the German battleship "Ostfriesland," once the pride of the Kaiser's navy, a new era in warfare, as important as the superseding of the crossbow by the gun, was ushered in. The development of chemical warfare means the end of costly armaments in the opinion of many leaders of Congress who witnessed the sinking of the German warship off the Virginia coast. Through the reduction of armaments they see relief for the taxpayer—and relief for the taxpayer is very important these days to every Congressman who has an eye to the elections less than two years away. In the 1,000 pound bomb which sank a $20,000,000 dreadnought, without even a direct hit on the vessel, were the same ingredients that go in the aspirin tablet on the bathroom shelf, the dye in the children's shoes, or in lady's dresses. Five such bombs can be made for the cost of one 14-inch shell.

"The arsenals of the future," declares General Amos Fries, Chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, "are the chemical and dye plants of a nation. We can disarm so far as our explosives, powder and war gases are concerned, just in the same ratio as we build up a peace-time industry in coal-tar products."

How to protect the chemical industry built up in America during the war is causing serious concern in Congress. To prevent Germany reentering the American market, an extension of the war-time selective embargo such as has been enacted by England, France, Italy and Japan, is advocated, until American plants have developed the full requirements necessary for national defense.

Accident Funds Are Invested in School Bonds

Funds of the state industrial accident commission aggregating $46,500 were invested by the state bond commission, Thursday, in bonds of Oregon school districts as follows:

- School district No. 18, Jackson county, $5500 at 100.
- School district No. 31, Klamath county, $12,000 at 100.
- School district No. 14, Lake county, $9000 at 98.
- School district No. 10, Morrow county, $20,000 at 98.

The Jackson and Klamath district bonds were purchased directly from the school district, those being the only issue offered direct. The Lake and Morrow county bonds were purchased through dealers.

Apple Picking Has Begun

Hood River, Or., Aug. 26.—Local growers have begun the harvest of Gravenstein apples this week, and indications point to the beginning of the harvest of the main commercial varieties a full week earlier than usual. It is expected that growers will be calling for fairly full harvest crews by September 20. Next week growers will begin picking Kings. These earlier varieties of apples are grown in limited quantities and no outside help is needed for their harvest.

High Railroad Rates Boost Water Cargoes

When transcontinental rail freight rates plunged upward with a 33 1-3 per cent jerk, a year ago, Pacific northwest lumber began moving to Atlantic Coast markets through the Panama Canal.

The break from car to cargo delivery has resulted in an increase of 5838 per cent in water-borne intercoastal lumber shipments, the first six months of 1931 as compared with the first half of 1920.

Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in the water movement, the total volume of business of Pacific northwest mills in Atlantic Coast markets, is substantially less than it was a year ago.

Details of the Pacific northwest cargo trade are contained in the semi-annual shipping and inspection report of the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau.

In addition to showing that Atlantic coast lumber cargo shipments jumped from 1,544,595 feet the first half of last year to 33,843,494 feet, the first half of this year, the report reveals gains in nine cargo markets and losses in a like number of overseas and coastwise markets, with a net loss of 13 per cent.

The California market, with 347,901,289 feet delivered by water the first six months this year compared with 498,649,446 feet for the same period last year, shows a loss of 30 per cent.

The European markets show a loss of approximately 53 per cent. The west coast of South America 41 per cent. Australia, 58 per cent. China, 12 per cent.

Japan, rebuilding her six larger cities, and being the greatest per capita lumber consuming nation, bought heavily, recording an increase of 31 over the first six months of 1920. Japan thus far this year has taken $0,850,884 feet last year.

Clifford Smart to Be Appointed Sea Scoutmaster

Clifford A. Smart, who attended the recent boy scout camp at McCredie springs as a leader, will be appointed sea scoutmaster of the Salem scouts at a meeting of the boy scout council, some time early next week, according to an announcement from scout headquarters. He has already consented to serve.

Smart is well qualified for the work, having attended Annapolis naval academy and spent over two years in the U. S. navy.

Columbia Fish Pack Runs Short

Astoria, Ore., Aug. 26.—The fishing season on the Columbia river ends today with the salmon pack the smallest in a decade, according to statements by cannerymen. They estimated 15,504,000 pounds of raw fish were used in canning. The estimated pack of mild cured and cold storage salmon is 3050 tierces. This will bring the total amount of raw fish consumed to nearly 20,000,000 pounds.

The money paid to fishermen was slightly less than $1,900,000. The amount paid fishermen last year was more than $3,000,000.

The pack is estimated to be worth in the market of the world a little more than $4,000,000.

PITS DUE TO BAD PRIMING

LONGITUDINAL SECTION OF RIFLE

What poor priming does to your rifle barrel

It eats away the smooth surface, digs little "pits," and ruins the accuracy of the barrel.

It means a longer, a much longer, life for your rifle. With most ammunition, rifle barrels become inaccurate very quickly. The U. S. Cartridge Company has a rifle which has fired 250,000 U S Cartridges and is still fairly accurate.

Through fifty years of effort the U. S. Cartridge Company has developed a priming that minimizes the effect on the rifle barrel. The famous N. R. A. .22 and all U S Rim-Fires are made with this priming.

Be good to your rifle. Keep it clean—which is easy if you use only U S Cartridges. We sell all popular styles and sizes. Money back if not satisfied.
