OUR STORES AND THEIR CONTENTS!

What to Buy and Where to Buy It.

KRISS KRINGLE'S BILL OF FARE.

Never in the history of our nation were the Christmas festivities as joyous as those of the present year...

Knowing the difficulty that some folk experience in deciding what to buy and where to buy it, we have at great pains prepared a list of the leading houses in Philadelphia...

Mr. J. W. Evans & Co., No. 318 and 320 Chestnut street, presents an animated panorama of every article suitable for a Christmas gift...

Mr. J. M. Harrison, No. 500 Chestnut street, is of course a center of attraction for the holiday season...

Mr. J. R. Campbell & Co., No. 727 Chestnut street, offer a large and well-selected stock of dress goods...

Mr. J. C. Moore, No. 810 Arch street, offers a fine and fresh stock of ribbons, embroideries, and lace goods...

FOURTH EDITION THOMAS.

TOTAL ROUT OF HOOD'S ARMY.

The Disastrous Defeat of the Rebels.

THE RAILROADS REPAIRED IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC.

New York, December 22.—The Times has received a special despatch from Franklin, Tennessee, dated yesterday, which says:—The Rebel retreat from Franklin to Duck river leggers all description.

Hood told his corps commanders to get off the best way they could with their commands.

The Rebel army is now beyond Columbia. The railroad is now in operation, and trains run to Spring Hill. The telegraphic communication is all right in all directions.

The Rebel loss during the campaign was 17,000 men, 51 cannon, and 18 general officers, killed at Franklin, 1400; wounded, 3500; and 1000 prisoners. Before Nashville, and in the retreat to Columbia, 3000 killed and wounded, and 6300 prisoners.

The Union loss at Franklin was 3300, and before Nashville, and in the retreat to Columbia, 3000 killed and wounded, and 6300 prisoners.

Hood has a pontoon bridge above the shoals on the Tennessee river, where our gunboats cannot reach them.

Hood marched on Franklin with 40,000 men and 65 pieces of artillery. He will have lost nearly all his men.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

A SUCCESSFUL SCOUT IN VIRGINIA.

The Ice Blockade of the Potomac.

ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC.

Special to the Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, December 23.—Some days ago Lieutenant Colonel Clendenin started out on a scout from Fairfax, with detachments of the 8th, 13th, and 10th Light Cavalry. The party scouted as far up as White Plains, on the Manassas Railroad, without meeting any number of Rebels in arms; but on returning, on Wednesday, having struck towards Middleburg, and when near that place, they encountered a large body of Mosby's guerrillas.

A spirited fight ensued, which resulted in the capture of the guerrillas, with a loss to them of the major and one lieutenant mortally wounded, and fifteen prisoners taken by our troops. Lieutenant Colonel Clendenin's victory resulted in the capture of the guerrillas, with a loss to them of the major and one lieutenant mortally wounded, and fifteen prisoners taken by our troops.

The steamer Daniel Webster, due here yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, with the mail and passengers from Choptank, got caught in the floating ice at the mouth of the channel opposite Giesboro Point, all morning her passengers reached the city by walking on the ice to Giesboro. The steamer Daniel Webster, bound down the river with her cargo, was caught in the ice last night, and after a long and arduous struggle, she was finally freed, and is now on her way to the city.

The weather of the past few days has caused ice to form on the Potomac to a considerable thickness, and navigation is suspended for the present.
