LOCAL LAONICS.

Read Swab Bros. new advertisement. About time to get your Christmas eye opened. Largest assortment of school shoes in town at Robinson's.

Epworth Leaguers will be numerous in town for several days. New Winter Millinery goods at Mrs. Kate S. Smeltzer, East Jackson st.

The new Bethlehem Vindicator enters its fourteenth year this week. The new Presbyterian church at Falls Creek was dedicated last Sunday.

Resolutions and cards of thanks are charged for at the rate of five cents per line. Mrs. W. B. Alexander gave a tea party to her numerous friends last Thursday evening.

The Jefferson County Medical Association met at DuBois last Friday afternoon. West Reynoldsville is not behind the times, a night school is flourishing over there.

The Daughters of Rebeckah will give a "Shoe Social" in the I. O. O. F. next Monday evening. There was a shooting match at George Burkett's, in the Horn Settlement, Saturday.

Have you seen Mrs. A. E. Hetherington's new stock of millinery goods? The latest styles. The Oil City Fuel Supply Co. is laying three thousand feet of additional pipe in West Reynoldsville and Prescottville.

Saturday was pay day for Winslow township school teachers. It requires over one thousand dollars per month to satisfy their claims. Sixty-five thousand shingles were required to put a new roof on the mammoth building of the Reynoldsville Hardware company.

Rev. H. G. Furbay went to Rathmel yesterday afternoon and married James Beverage Jr. and Dollie Walker, both of the above named place. The new Catholic church at Adrian was dedicated last Sunday. A special train was run from here over the R. & F. C. R'y. The crowd from this place was small.

A dead rooster in the black water of the Sandy Lick creek, just above the bridge, adds greatly to the beauty of the stream in its present stagnant condition. Wednesday evening, October 26th, Rev. H. G. Furbay performed the marriage ceremony for Alexander Watson and Rosena Carney at the residence of the bride's parents in this place.

Rev. W. H. Buice, of Greenville, formerly pastor of the M. E. church at this place, will lecture before the Epworth League convention in the M. E. church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Epworth League convention, of the Clarion District, which will be held in the M. E. Church at this place will open at 2.00 P. M. to-day. Two sessions to-day and three to-morrow, Thursday. All are cordially invited to attend each session.

"Bits of Wisdom" will be found in this issue of THE STAR. The Evening Express, a bright, new paper of Lock Haven, has published the same article twice within a month, therefore, we consider it worthy space in one issue of this paper.

The DuBois Courier gave its readers at this place a column article Saturday morning about the great conflagration at Milwaukee almost six hours before any other daily reached here. There is no disputing the fact that the Courier is a good morning paper.

Samuel Whittaker, who is noted as a horse jockey, and who has been in the livery business at this place for a number of years, recently under the name of Whittaker & Beck, is now in the business himself at the old place on Jackson street, and requests the public to call at his stable when they want to hire a horse and buggy, hack, carriage, &c., as his prices are reasonable.

The Ridgway Advocate says that five years ago Elk county had about ninety school teachers and now they have nearly one hundred and forty. That is on an average of about one teacher for every one hundred and fifty-six souls in the county. Elk county is just half the size of Jefferson county in population.

A Penfield lad named Ed. Evans, had his arm so badly wounded by a gun while out hunting last Friday afternoon that amputation was necessary. The boy died Saturday. There are many boys in Reynoldsville who go out hunting and we have been expecting every week to have to chronicle some sad accident happening to some one of them.

A Republican meeting will be held at Punxsutawney to-morrow, Thursday, evening which will be addressed by John W. Reed, of Clarion, and others. A torch light procession is also on the program. A special train will be run over the R. and F. C. R'y, leaving the Company store, in this place, at 5.30 P. M. Fare for round trip, fifty cents.

Monday evening, Oct. 31st, was the 47th anniversary of Mrs. E. Cressman's birthday, and a number of her friends assembled at her home on Jackson street to celebrate the occasion. The presents were numerous, among which was a complete dinner set. About ten o'clock an elegant repast was served, after which a short time was whiled away with vocal and instrumental music.

Resolutions from the Thistle Lodge No. 19, A. P. A., and the Shining Light Lodge, No. 27, A. P. L. A., of Rathmel, on the death of Mrs. William Lyle; and from the Confidence Lodge, No. 344, K. of P., of Rathmel, on the death of Charles Aldrus, also resolutions from Mahoning Assembly, No. 9517, of Punxsutawney, headed "To the Friends of Labor," will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

Monday night was Hollow-e'en and the youthful urchins amused themselves in the early part of the evening throwing corn and beans against windows, and other little innocent pranks. After closing up time the older boys amused themselves by hauling wagons, sleds, wheelbarrows, &c., to some place where the owner had to hunt for them the following morning. There was no damage done to property.

The books are now open to receive stock for the Reynoldsville and Rathmel street railway. If you want stock in the road make it known to some of the directors. A charter has been applied for and will probably be here this week and then a special effort will be made to raise the necessary money to build the line. We have good hopes now of seeing electric cars run in Reynoldsville because the people are in earnest about the matter.

A number of coal cars runaway at the Big Soldier mine one day last week making considerable of a wreck and injuring a driver, Walter Manson, and a trapper, Walter Crosswait, slightly. It was fortunate that no lives were lost. The grade into the mine is steep and the empty cars were left standing without any brakes on and they started into the bank and ran into a trip of cars that was going in ahead of the runaways.

Annie Enewine, who was sixteen years old the 18th of last June, died at the home of her father, Peter Enewine, at 3.00 A. M. Thursday, Oct. 27th, after a few days illness. Miss Annie was one of the dining room girls at Hotel McConnell until recently. The funeral services were held at the Lutheran church at 2.00 P. M. Sunday, conducted by Rev. E. Cressman, and her remains were buried in Beulah cemetery beside her sister, Maggie, who died about two years ago.

Two special cars, the "Virginia," A. G. Yates' private car, and the superintendent's car of the B., R. & P. R'y, were run to this place over the R. & F. C. R'y last Friday with the following officials and friends: A. G. Yates, wife and daughter, of Rochester; Supt. J. H. Barrett, of Bradford; George E. Merchant, general manager; Charles Clifton, of Buffalo, treasurer; A. Dolbear, supt. motive power; Capt. Abbott, of Bethlehem, Pa., and Austin Blakeslee; of Coal Glen.

The ladies of the W. R. C. surprised Mrs. J. L. Ewing last Thursday evening, that being her birthday, by calling at her home without giving her any notice of their intention. It was a pleasant gathering. As a token of their esteem for the old soldier's wife the Corp presented her with a handsome plush covered rocking chair. Mrs. Ewing also received several other presents. The ladies of the Corp, who are always ready with something good to eat, did not fall this time, and refreshments were served.

The rankest article we have seen in many a day, appeared in the columns of the Falls Creek Herald last week. Such articles are odious to newspapermen and common decency. After the editor "cooled off" he wrote an apology for making a fool of himself. Hold your temper, Bro. Bangert, hold your temper. M. L. McQuown, editor of the Raftman's Journal, whom Bangert thought he was exterminating forever, will continue to publish the Journal and will not lose any subscribers by the rank attacked from Falls Creek.

Cow Killed. Jonathan Whitmore, the drayman, lost a valuable cow Monday noon which was horribly mangled near the A. V. R'y station by mail train eastward bound. Mr. Whitmore has been keeping his cow in a pasture field near the engine house all summer so that she would not be killed by the cars. The lease for pasture expired Saturday evening and Mr. Whitmore thought it was not worth while to renew the lease and kept his cow in the barn until Monday noon and then let her out. The bovine was walking down the track to the pasture field when she met sudden death. Mr. Whitmore has been unfortunate lately. It was only a few months ago that he was compelled to shoot a good mule.

Narrow Escape. Willie Reynolds, youngest son of Dr. S. Reynolds, and foster-son of Albert Reynolds, who is just recovering from an almost fatal attack of diphtheria, had a narrow escape one day last week from what doubtless, would have been instant death. He was "over the Ab's house," the next door neighbor, where he spends at least half of his time, sitting at a little desk near a bay window drawing pictures when a twenty pound window weight came crashing through the ceiling, passed close to his head and struck the floor with great force. The rope on the weight had broken and as a bay window has been added to the house since first built there was nothing but lath and plaster to check the weight in its descent.

A Predicament. Sylvester Brennan, of Pancoast, has charge of a lumber camp for Degnan & McDonald, near the above named place, in which ten men are engaged at work. One morning last week they found themselves in a predicament for want of tobacco. They were all addicted to the use of the saliva-producing weed and on the morning referred to there was only one little piece of tobacco in the crowd and, like a pack of hungry wolves after one poor innocent victim, they all wanted it. Mr. Brennan came to town that day and bought thirty large plugs and returned to camp that evening to appease the tobacco appetites of that suffering gang of men. Poor fellows! Only one chew during the day. What a pity!

Two Brick School Houses. The school directors of this borough have decided to build two six room school houses in Reynoldsville that will cost $15,000 each when completed. The East End building will be erected on Main street on the vacant lot east of Tom Reynolds' barn. The directors have two locations on Hill street and one on Grant street for the new building in the West End but have not yet decided on a location. As soon as all necessary arrangements can be completed the contracts will be let for work erecting the new structures. The directors propose to put up school houses that will not only be substantial but will also be an ornament to our thriving town. They are wise enough to look past the present and are providing for the future.

A Business Change. Ralph E. McKee and John W. Warnick, two enterprising young men who succeeded A. G. Milliren in the grocery business in the Bee Hive building about two and a half years ago, sold their store Friday of last week to A. A. Swab, who has been a resident of Reynoldsville for almost four years, and D. F. Swab, of DuBois. The new firm will be run under the name of Swab Bros. McKee & Warnick done a good business and won friends. The retiring young merchants both have several good offers, but have not yet decided what they will engage in. They are scholarly chaps and met with success as school teachers, both having taught a number of terms before embarking in the grocery business. We wish them success in the future in whatever business enterprise they may enter. Swab Bros. are taking hold of the store with a determination to conduct their business so as to receive a reasonable share of the public patronage.

The Real Side. Miss Isabelle Arnold, of this place, who is attending the Conservatory of Music at Boston, Mass., is an active christian worker and a great "book worm," who has often read about people engaging in christian work in the "slums" of great cities, is now experiencing some of the realities of such work. A few Sundays ago she, and her room mate, were strolling along one of the streets of Boston when their attention was attracted by singing in a building they were passing and they wandered in and there found a large number of ragged colored children from the "slums" of the city who had been gathered there by an old christian gentleman that had assumed the responsibility of teaching the little urchins the way to a better and nobler life. Miss Isabelle felt it was her duty to assist in the good work, and offered her services and expects to be at her post of duty every Sunday afternoon among the negro offshoots of that city during her stay there.

Enterprise at New Bethlehem. We visited New Bethlehem last week and, notwithstanding the fact that the place seems to be isolated to a certain extent from other towns, it is undeniably a live little town and one that keeps pace with the times. The population is only about fifteen hundred and the town is supplied with natural gas, has good water works, and work is now being done on a sewer line which will give the town an excellent sewer system, something that Reynoldsville, with its four thousand of a population, has not got, but is sorely in need of, and must, at no distant day, have a good sewer system. A number of new and substantial buildings are being erected there. The foundation has been laid for a large brick school house and the frame work of the new Methodist church is up. The A. V. R'y Co. is just finishing a brick station that is a beautiful specimen of architecture. It is the prettiest station, by far, along the Low Grade Railway. The town is also blessed with a live local paper. A comparison of the business places of New Bethlehem and the advertising columns of the Vindicator, however, indicates that many of the business men of that place do not appreciate the intrinsic value of a home paper as an advertising medium and do not give it the support they should. No one can gainsay the fact that a newspaper is the main-spring of a town, even if it is not edited one-third as well as many of its readers could do it. There are many men to-day who are doing a large business and have made money simply because they have embraced the advantage offered in the columns of a newspaper. A paper is the criterion of a town. Advertisers will not only get large returns in hard cash for the money expended in the columns of a home paper, but add their influence to make the town of some consequence outside its suburbs. If the spirit of enterprise continues New Bethlehem will have a street car line from Oak Ridge and Fairmount before many years. If a town the size of New Bethlehem can have a good sewerage, why, in the name of Bartholomew Copenhagen, or any other man, can't Reynoldsville go and do likewise?

Fire Alarm. Shortly after five o'clock Saturday evening the fire alarm was given which soon filled Main street with people and brought the hose cart and hook and ladder truck out in short order. The fire was in the rear end of the old Logan building on the corner of Sixth and Main streets, which is occupied by a Hungarian family. The fire caught from a defective flue and was extinguished before the fire company got there. The hose cart would have been at the fire much sooner but the company was stopped at Arnold's corner and informed that it was only a flue burning out. The second alarm was given and they proceeded to the fire and attached the hose to the plug but did not turn the water on. A lounge, suit of clothes, some bedding and a few other things were destroyed. There was a stiff breeze blowing at the time. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time to save quite a conflagration.

Good Advice. Every young married man should subscribe for a home newspaper. His wife has probably always had the pleasure of reading one at home and it would be heartless to deprive her of the paper after she is married. Then, again, it will help make the home bright and happy and the wife need not waste her time visiting her neighbors, who take a home paper, to find out what is going on. It will save cold dinners and give the wife more time to darn her husband's socks.—Punxsutawney News. The above is good advice and THE STAR is just the paper to subscribe for. It contains all the local news. Try it!

A Family Relic. Hood Knox, the benedict, while on his wedding tour received a bible of antiquity from an aunt. The bible is over five hundred years old, and was brought from Dublin, Ireland, one hundred years ago. It was at one time the property of Mr. Knox's great great grandmother. The book has been re-covered with buckskin which is worn through at the lower corners where handled the most. The book has the semblance of antiquity. Several family records have been obliterated from its pages by time and others recorded on the few yellow leaves for that purpose.

Beech Creek Railroad Extension. [Lock Haven Express.] The roadbed of the Beech Creek railroad extension, from Kermoor to Lajose, in Clearfield county, has been completed. It is thirty-six miles long and cost $1,000,000. The rails will be laid and the road will be open for business on Dec. 1.

Notice. As we have sold our grocery store to Swab Bros. we respectfully ask all parties owing us to call and settle their account at their earliest convenience. MCKEE & WARNICK. Oct. 28th, 1892. Buy your school shoes at Robinson's and save money.

THE TRUE VERSION.

A Few Misstatements and a Fancy Sketch from the Courier. President Roberts and directors of the P. R. R.; W. H. Barnes, president, and David McCargo, general superintendent, of the Allegheny Valley R'y, passed through this place last Thursday afternoon in a special train of five coaches. The train made no stops over the road only for water and orders. Our bright morning friend, the DuBois Courier, published an account Friday of the trip and some changes to be made about the 15th inst., that must have been the offspring of a fertile imaginary brain, or else the editor was misinformed. The Courier, by the way, is given to boasting and enlarging on things connected with DuBois' welfare. The Courier said the officials tarried at Falls Creek over an hour inspecting the company's property there, and that they scanned the works at the Berwind-White shaft at DuBois, "looked down the big black holes and then proceeded on their journey." The paper also said that the road would soon become a portion of the Pennsylvania system, and that all trains would run through to Renovo, and that freight would be billed through to and from the east. Just so! Quite a news item. The truth is, the train stopped at Falls Creek long enough for the conductor to register and the special passed the Berwind-White shaft at the rate of forty miles an hour. The A. V. R'y is controlled by the P. R. R. and is already in that system, but is operated as a separate organization. Driftwood will continue to be the terminus of all Allegheny Valley trains, and as for freight being billed through to and from the east after the Courier's proposed change, that is done now and has been for several years. The article referred to would give the impression that DuBois is the focus for the railroad companies, and all changes are made for the good of that town only. Superintendent Rumsey, who was in charge of the special train carrying the Pennsylvania and Allegheny officials, informs us that whenever any changes are to be made in the present running of trains the benefits to Reynoldsville and Brookville will not be lost sight of. There is some talk, however, of—in the near future—making the DuBois accommodation a mail train and running it through to Driftwood to connect with the 9.40 p. m. train on the P. & E. for the east. If this is done the Reynoldsville people can leave here at 6.50 p. m. and arrive at Philadelphia at 6.50 the next morning. There is nothing definite about this change yet, but the officials are considering the matter. The business on the Low Grade Division, east of DuBois, is growing. Coal and coke plants already having been put in operation at Tyler and Glen Fisher, and a large lumber mill now being erected at Medix Run where 100,000,000 feet of hemlock will be manufactured, it is hoped that the business will justify the running of the evening train through to Driftwood instead of stopping at DuBois. Arrangements have been made to run a through coach from Pittsburg to Williamsport and vice versa, so that people along the line of the Low Grade will not have to change cars at Driftwood. A through coach from here to Pittsburg has been run for five years.

The Institute. Prof. J. H. Hughes, County Supt., says: "The Jefferson County Institute convenes Nov. 14th. The instructors in the day sessions will be Dr. E. E. White, Columbus, Ohio; Dr. Theo. B. Noss, Clarion, Pa.; Dr. Chas. W. Deane, Indiana, Pa.; Dr. A. J. Davis, Clarion, Pa.; A. D. Maloy, A. M., Lock Haven, Pa., and others. The evening entertainments as far as arranged will be a lecture by John R. Clark on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15. A concert by Miss Edith Ross' Grand Scottish Concert company on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16. This company comprises ten of the most skilled singers and players to be found in the city of Glasgow, Scotland. On Thursday night there will be an elocutionary and musical entertainment by Miss Sarah Jeffers. We are working in hopeful anticipation of a pleasant and profitable week. We cannot be satisfied with the results of former institutes, good as they may have been. The coming convention, in its work for the teachers and schools of this county must surpass anything ever attempted in other years. We shall endeavor as much as in us lies to so arrange and conduct the deliberations of the institute that its aim and purpose may be realized through the teachers in the better work of the schools and the more efficient education of the children and youth committed to our care for instruction."

Notice. The firm of McKee & Warnick have this day sold all their stock of groceries, &c., belonging to their business to Messrs. D. F. & A. A. Swab, who will do business under the firm name of Swab Bros. McKee & Warnick. Oct. 28th, 1892.
