TILDEN'S SCHEMES.
How He Defrauded His Workmen.

The New York Times prints a letter from Michigan, which describes with many details the heartless way in which Samuel J. Tilden swindled the miners in his mine in that state. The men were paid in scrip that could only be redeemed at the store of Tilden & Wetmore, and, as most of the men were usually in want of ready money to send to relatives in Europe, they were obliged to pay discount of twenty-five or thirty cents on the dollar. This too, when the firm had sufficient money in bank to redeem every cent. The attempt was made to deceive the workmen into believing that agents redeemed the scrip, but it is now well known that the firm bought it in. The fact is, the New York mine did then, and does to-day, pay its men less wages than any other mine in the region, and there is not a laborer in the New York mine who does not hold himself ready to step into the mine of any other company when there is an increase of force. It is notorious on the Peninsula that Tilden's men are worked harder for the little wages they get than the men in any of the adjoining mines. In the Jackson mine and the Superior mine, in the same region, men are paid fair wages, which are not reduced because they are working through a poor cut and fail to take out the usual amount of good ore. In Mr. Tilden's mine the men are paid a certain amount per ton for good ore taken out, and as there is a surplus of miners the contracts are necessarily low. Consequently a poor cut is a calamity. It may safely be said that while the workmen in the adjoining mines realize very nearly three dollars a day, the workmen of the New York mine get but little more than half that as an average. If there was but little profit in the mines the case would look better for the New York millionaire. But I was told by the agent of the largest mines that they realized at this comparatively dull time at least $1.75 per ton. The New York mine, run with half-paid and had-worked men, will realize more than this. This year it will take out eighty thousand tons of ore, and Mr. Tilden's share of the profit will be, at the lowest calculation, $100,000. Other mines issued scrip, but they had no money and did not pay as the New York mine did, and it was a clear case of shutting down or throwing the men out of work. But the backers of the New York were millionaires, and the mine was and is to-day a paying institution.

A Useful Tree.
Mr. Morgan, an English consul resident in Brazil, cites, in a recent report to his government, the caronba tree, a species of palm, as one of the most valuable vegetable productions of the country. It flourishes without culture at Bahia, Rio Grande de Norte, and other well known localities, resists drought, and appears green and luxuriant. Its roots possess properties similar to those of the sarsaparilla. The trunk furnishes a superior fiber. When the tree is young it yields wine, vinegar, a saccharine matter, and a species of gum closely resembling sage. Its wood is excellently suited for the manufacture of musical instruments, as well as for tubes and conduits for water. The pulp of the fruit is very palatable, and the oily nut roasted and pulverized is a good substitute for coffee. The trunk also yields a flour similar to maizena. With the straw, hats, brooms, and baskets are made, and over half a million dollars' worth of it are exported to England yearly. Lastly, a wag, used in the manufacture of candles, is extracted from the leaves.

Responsibility of Relatives.
HERE is a fact not generally known: An act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed June 13, 1836, says: "The father and grandfather, and the mother and grandmother, and the children and grandchildren, of every poor person unable to work, shall, at their own charge being of sufficient ability, relieve and maintain such poor person at such rate as the Quarter Sessions of the county where such poor persons reside shall order and direct. This, it will be seen, makes children and grand children responsible for the support of their parents and grand-parents, if the latter are unable to maintain themselves; while it also makes parents and grand-parents liable to the support of their children and grand children, in case the latter are destitute and unable to work for a living."

The subscribers to the stock of the great Centennial Exhibition, it is now said, will receive a dividend on their shares of at least 50, and perhaps, 75 per cent. This is largely more than was expected, as probably not one subscriber in a hundred ever supposed it would pay back a cent; indeed, in many instances the scrip has been framed and hung up as an heir-loom for future generations of the family now possessing it.
The real estate of the late Stephen Gould was sold at Allentown on the 4th inst. The Hickory Run property was purchased by Mr. Albert Lewis, of White Haven, the lumber price of that section of country, for $26,150. Messrs. Bryan, Christ, Mellick and A. S. Gould were the buyers of the Buena Vista property, at $25,000. The Allentown property was knocked off to Messrs. Harvey and Holban, of Allentown, for $18,500—the three properties thus bringing in the aggregate the sum of $69,710.

Which Party Administered the Government Wisely?
This reform Democracy profess to desire to restore the national credit to good old Democratic times. Let us look into this.

When Buchanan administered the government he failed to secure income enough to pay the ordinary expenses of the government. And in order to do this he peddled out 6 per cent bonds in Europe which he sold for 88 cents on the dollar, or at 12 per cent. discount. The same kind of bonds which Democracy under Buchanan sold at 88 cents on the dollar are now sold at $1.25 when they run for 20 years, and at $1.15 when they run for a shorter period.
Thus the difference between Democratic and Republican credit is not less than 25 per cent.

The triumph of our arms at the great International Rifle match, is a source of gratification to every American, while we can readily understand how our friends of various foreign origin wish that "father-land" had produced the best shooters. It is no use, however, America is the marked of destiny, the favorite of fate. Time's noblest offspring is the last, "you know." We, not speaking editorially but nationally propose to outstrip all creation from this out. We are just getting it trim. By jumping higher, diving deeper and staying under water longer, coming up dryer, swimming further, shooting better, running faster, sailing swifter and crowing louder, we propose to outbrag and outstrip the "wide, wide world." See if we don't.—Lawrence Tribune.

The following is the Democratic monument to be placed over its grave in November:
Slavery.
Slave trade.
Nullification.
The Goghan bill.
Fugitive slave law.
Dred Scott decision.
The rebel war claims.
The right of secession.
Resistance to the draft.
Not a man nor a dollar.
Opposition to amendments.
The Democratic rag baby.
The Democratic Rebellion.
No right to coerce a State.
Encouragement of desertion.
Treason to the government.
To the victors belong the spoils.
Division of school fund for sectarian uses.

A wag was requested by an old lady to read the newspaper for her. He took it up and read as follows:
"Last night, yesterday morning, about one o'clock in the afternoon, before breakfast, a hungry boy, about forty years old, bought a big custard for a levy, and threw it through a brick wall nine feet thick, and jumping over it, broke his right ankle off above his left knee, and fell into a dry mill-pond and was drowned. About forty years after that, on the same day, an old cat had nine turkey gobblers; a high wind blew Yankee Doodle on a frying-pan, and killed a sow and two dead pigs at Boston, where a deaf and dumb man was talking to his Aunt Peter."
Whereupon the old lady, taking a long breath, exclaimed: "Du tell!"

MR. TILDEN's attempt to extricate himself from the charge of perjury, and of defrauding the Government out of his income tax, is a sad failure. He has but added falsehood to perjury, and convinced no one of his innocence, but many honest Democrats are now quite convinced to the contrary. And yet his party are satisfied with him. He is a representative Democrat of to-day. The party who tried their best to destroy the Government, who starved Union prisoners at Andersonville, are not very much ashamed of his crimes. The fact is they know their man. He was so long connected with Tweed and New York politics that to be honest would have disqualified him as a candidate for the Democratic party.

At Beaver, Utah, Judge Boreman has passed sentence on John D. Lee, an ex-bishop of the Mormon church, convicted of participation in the Mountain Meadow massacre. The prisoner having the right, under the laws of the Territory, to choose hanging, shooting or beheading as the mode of his death, chose shooting. He was therefore sentenced to be shot on the 26th of January next. The Judge said that others, equally guilty, might hereafter expect punishment. The Mountain Meadow massacre took place nineteen years ago, when a party of emigrants were murdered on the plains, at the instigation of the Mormons.
The consolidation of the old Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth Internal Revenue Collection Districts of this State into one has just been completed. The District is styled the Twelfth, and consists of twelve counties—viz: Wayne, Susquehanna, Wyoming, Sullivan, Bradford, Luzerne, Columbia, Montour, Pike, Monroe, Carbon and Northampton. Edward H. Chase, of Wilkes-Barre, is Collector.
The Chislett murderers at May's Landing, New Jersey, were sentenced last Friday. John Hill and John Fullam were condemned to be hung on the 27th of October, and Isaac Dayton, who became State's evidence, was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor in the penitentiary. Beating, who aided the murderers to get away, got two years in the State prison.
