FOREST CITY.

Mrs. J. D. Caryl, of Scranton, visited friends in this place Tuesday.

G. M. Patterson, of Carbondale, was a business visitor in town yesterday.

L. O. Gramble, of Honesdale, spent yesterday in town.

Excellent sleighing is being enjoyed in this borough.

Harry Yewens and Fremont Stokes, of Scranton, were in town on business yesterday.

NEWS OF THIS VICINITY TUNKHANNOCK.

Attorney Rush J. Thompson was over from Dushore yesterday.

W. S. Passer has been promoted to baggage-master on the through night express and J. P. Daniels fills the vacancy on trains 83 and 94 made by his removal.

Dr. J. F. Butterfield has been down from Montross this week on a visit to interest capitalists in the proposed telephone line to connect that place and this, touching at Springville, Lake Carvay, and all the little hamlets along the line.

There is little doubt that such an enterprise would be profitable as well as convenient. We have no telegraphic communication with the City or the Hill more direct than by the way of Scranton. At Lake Carvay, during the summer season, a telephone would doubtless be kept busy a greater part of the time, as summer resorters are not for the most part, the only ones who have been in the hands of Dr. L. E. Meade, who is endeavoring to work up interest in it.

Detective W. H. Richmond was brought before Esquire Kutz for a hearing yesterday on charge of impersonating a detective, performing by Bert Pratt. A number of the defendants in the Waterman murder case, who were dismissed, but held to bail on charge of arresting I. E. Wescott without authority. He also gave bail to appear at court in answer to prosecution for surety of the peace by Len Wall. The latter had previously been prosecuted by Richmond on the same charge, and was held to bail.

Hon. W. N. Reynolds has withdrawn his name from the congressional canvass, leaving the field clear for E. J. Jordan, esq., the nominalizing convention will meet next Monday.

The officers of Tunkhanock consistory of Heptapolis are: Archon, W. L. Shaw; provost, N. Fox; secretary, S. C. Dodge; treasurer, W. E. Little; chancellor, Orlando Osterhout; prelate, J. P. Slesker; inspector, William Campbell; warden, E. H. Plimney; sentinel, A. E. Bader; trustee, P. H. Krav; Peter Ace, Theodore Stroeter; medical inspector, Dr. J. W. Denison.

Miss Effie Reynolds pleasantly entertained a sleighload of young people from Mehoopany Tuesday evening.

Court Notes. Commonwealth vs. supervisors of Tunkhanock township, charged with neglecting to repair road at Lake Carvay, continued to next term.

Commonwealth vs. Lorana Murphy, charge, kidnapping. Grand jury return not a true bill, county to pay costs.

In the case of the commonwealth against Fred Wall, Bert Pratt and J. E. Wescott, indicted for the murder of W. W. Waterman, the grand jury, after a long and tedious investigation, found true bills against Wall and Pratt, but not against Wescott.

The defense in the Harford-Kelley murder case closed its testimony at 3:30 p. m. yesterday, and the witnesses were discharged. A large mass of testimony was brought to show that George Kelley, the victim, was a quarrelsome and dangerous man, and had frequently threatened, while drunk, to kill Harford. Kelley's spite against Harford seemed to be based upon an old feud which he alleged the latter owed him.

The defendant was called to the stand and allowed to relate his own version of the affair. After detailing the circumstances up to supper time, he said: "Kelley claimed at the supper table that I owed him for a board bill, and I said I didn't. George grabbed me by the throat and pushed me back ward. Milheim threw him out doors. Afterward I sat down to the table, and George came in during supper and sat at the table. We had no further trouble—talked together. We took our axes from the gate and started down the road. He asked me what made me get on Kelley's side. I told him I didn't. He said he would 'split my d— brains out,' then raised his axe and came at me. I raised my axe and struck him. I had been warned against him.

Robert Martin testified to hearing George Kelley say he would "have a drop of Harford's heart blood for every dollar he owes me." Harlow Martin, W. M. Kinney and Perry Brown and others each testified to substantially the same thing.

The witnesses were making their pleas last night, and it is probable that a verdict will be reached sometime today.

Amos Wilcox, who has for some time past been in Binghamton for medical treatment, was brought to his home in this place Friday.

picture that might grace the walls of any art gallery this side of Brushville. The apparition, as last seen, is described as appearing in her own bonnet in a robe of white which trails to the floor. This robe is finely trimmed with lace at the neck and sleeves with a double row of the same in front running from the floor to her shapely neck. (This description was given us by a married man.) After the robe is properly adjusted, the apparition has a serene before a long mirror, comprising a skirt dance, interspersed by high kicking. Another peculiar feature of this specter is the fact that it chews tutti-frutti during the entire programme. It would be advisable to ring down the curtain before the performance commences.

CARBONDALE.

The regular monthly tea by the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church was served in the chapel last evening. The annual election of officers for the society, also occurred, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Frank Colwell; vice president, Mrs. George Davis; secretary, Mrs. E. M. Peck; treasurer, Mrs. E. E. Hendrick. Also a vice president was elected to look after the affairs of each month. They are the following: For March, Mrs. E. M. Peck; April, Mrs. William Rimbunburg; May, Mrs. Grant Nicholson; June, Mrs. Aaron Fowler; July, Mrs. Wallace Dimock; August, Mrs. Stephen Kular; September, Mrs. John Langford; October, Mrs. William Jones; November, Mrs. Mary December; Mrs. Charles Hallcock. HONESDALE.

A horse owned by Fletcher Bunnell ran down Union hill Tuesday night, and breaking loose from the sleigh, dashed up the side of the hill, and high works. Directly back of Menner & Co.'s store repairs are being made to the high works; the horse fell through here and disappeared from sight. This led to the first report that the horse had gone under the ice in the canal. After much difficulty and hard work the horse was taken out, severely bruised, but not much the worse for his mad escape.

The finale of Professor Heft's dancing class will be held at Pioneer hall Monday evening, Jan. 21. The occasion will be a masquerade ball. Admission, gentlemen and lady, 50 cents.

From the Wayne Independent: "The Trip to Chintatown" will be produced in the Opera house by No. 1 company on Tuesday evening next. Manager Silverstone says the audience would do well to appear in full dress costumes.

People from out of town should not think from this that Honesdale people are in the habit of going to the theater in uniform. The prices for this entertainment will be 50 cents, 75 cents and $1, which, no doubt, the play deserves, but there will be the same small stage and scenery of by-gone days, the same ornate chairs handed down, the same craning of necks to see the top of the stage.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. N. Foster was held from her home at 3 p. m. yesterday. A large number of out of town relatives were present. Rev. William H. Swift conducted the services.

Miss Lydia Perkins, while taking dinner at her place of boarding on Tuesday last, had the misfortune of having her pocketbook stolen, containing a check of $11, and as near as she could recollect about $10 in money and her monthly railroad ticket. No clue could be had for its mysterious disappearance.

The store of Messrs. Price & Parker was broken into on Monday night last and thieves partook freely of the stock on hand, consisting of from thirty to fifty pairs of gloves, about fifteen pairs of shoes, dress goods, neckties, pants overall, etc., to the amount of about $150. No clue has as yet been had. The thieves made entrance through a window on the north side of the store into the floor department. The store is situated at the summit at the junction of the Factoryville and Abington and the Schuylkill and Mill City turnpikes.

Mrs. James S. Wagner is convalescing from her recent illness.

A. W. Stephens has given up the janitorship at the laboratory and will be succeeded by Leroy Hall, of Sharon, Pa.

The gymnasium, which was damaged to the extent of over $700 by last term's fire, has been appropriately refitted and is now in use.

The class drills under the directorship of Messrs. Harper and Bunnell are very well attended, thus giving evidence of the appreciation in which this duty is held by the students.

HOOD'S IS THE GRANDEST

Raised from a Weak and Low Condition to Perfect Health and Strength After Four Years Suffering.

"C. I. Bond & Co., Lowell, Mass. 'Gentlemen—I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest remedy yet made, and it has done more for me than you claim for it. My wife is sick for the past four years. For years she was so bad that she was unable to do any of her household work. We had good physicians at the old but never her health. She was suffering from Bright's disease and Lameness in the Back. Her tongue was covered with blisters; had no appetite, and was very weak and low with general debility. I insisted on her taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she has been improving ever since. She has taken five bottles, and is so well now."
