

Pipe Valves Fittings
THE SCRANTON SUPPLY AND MACHINERY CO.

Norrman & Moore
FIRE INSURANCE
120 Wyoming Avenue

Lackawanna
THE Laundry

508 Penn Ave. A. B. WARMAN

MEARS & HAGEN
Offer for This Week
A new line of 40 inch all wool Bourette Stripe Cheviots, made to sell for 75c; 7 yards will cost you $2.03, or only 29c per yard.

Carpets, Wall Papers, Window Shades, Draperies, Mattings, Rugs, etc.

WILLIAMS & McANULTY.
127 Wyoming Ave.

CITY NOTES.

"A Study in Scarlet." Common council will hold a regular meeting this evening.

"The Limited Mail" will be the attraction at the Academy of Music this evening.

Several skating parties from this city yesterday went to Elmhurst, where the ice is splendid.

It is queer, but people all over town are beginning to ask each other what there is in "A Study in Scarlet."

Patrick Hannon, of the South Side, was adjudged insane by Doctors Gansler and Walsley yesterday afternoon.

The recent Metallic company of James-town, N. Y., is putting in the portion of the files at the municipal building.

Chief Ferber will petition council for nine extra permanent men, the intention being to work the department on a paid system by easy stages.

The feeling in favor of the purchase of a chemical engine is growing daily. Much damage by water could be avoided if the city owned such an apparatus.

Michael Ford, who lives near Leggett's creek in the North End, was run over by a Delaware and Hudson train in Olyphant Tuesday night. He is not expected to live.

James Allen, who was arrested with five pairs of socks in his possession, and suspected of stealing them, was discharged by order of Chief of Police Simpson yesterday.

A package from Mrs. N. H. Brooks, clothing from Adams and a dozen handkerchiefs from some unknown person were the articles received by the relief agents yesterday.

Alfordman Wright yesterday married John Weiland and Selma J. Quinn, of Freeburg. The bride was given away by her father and Constable Thomas Hart acted as best man.

Frank Cutler, the popular fisher at Wonderlaid, entertained about fifty of his friends at his parent's home on Diamond avenue last evening. A very enjoyable time was had by all.

T. J. Snowden, the well known innkeeper of this city, was yesterday elected vice president of the Pennsylvania Lumberman's Protective association at a meeting held in Lancaster.

The store of H. H. Cannon, the Wyoming avenue candy merchant, was closed by Deputy Sheriff Grayson yesterday on an execution issued on a judgment for $400 held by Contractor Frank Meyer.

The board of engineers at a meeting Monday night decided not to have Chief Ferber enter the contest for a belt against Binghamton's chief in aid of the Hough and Ready Fire company of Montrose.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Quinn, who died on Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Services will be conducted at the St. Luke's mission, Dunmore. Interment will be made at Dunmore cemetery.

Leland T. Powers, who will lecture on "David Copperfield" at the Y. M. C. A. hall to-morrow evening, will be greeted by a large audience, as he is one of the ablest and most popular lecturers who ever addressed a Scranton audience.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Home for the Friendless will take place to-morrow at 3 p. m. in the hall of the Young Women's Christian association. The public is invited to attend. All members are entitled to vote.

The marriage license granted by the clerk of the courts yesterday were to Thomas O'Malley, of Scranton, and Sarah O'Malley, of Dunmore; John Weiland and Selma J. Quinn, of Freeburg; Ernie Seacor, of Dunmore, and Susie Hofer, of Scranton.

"A Study in Scarlet."

DIED.
S. G. FLORY—S. G. Flory, at his late residence, 1305 Washington avenue. Funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"A Study in Scarlet."

HOW TO GET A LICENSE

The Tribune Answers Several Important Questions Asked by a Subscriber.

IS AN EXTREMELY EASY MATTER

It is fashionable to print in Newspapers the Names of All Who Procure Licenses—It is the Custom, Also, to Publish Marriages—Licenses Only Good in One County.

A young man who is very evidently hovering in that uncertainty between the blissful state of holding a young woman's hand three hours every night and the danger of missing the creases in his trousers by getting on his knees before this county scribe, writes THE TRIBUNE as follows:

SCRANTON, Jan. 9, 1894.
DEAR SIR—Seeking information, I know of no better source than through your journal. If not too much trouble will you at an early date kindly print in THE TRIBUNE facts regarding the marriage license.

Will you please answer the following questions:—
First—Is it necessary that the names of parties obtaining license be published?
Second—Must notice of marriage be published?

Third—Is license obtained in one county of this state good anywhere in Pennsylvania or only in county where granted?
Fourth—Form of application for license?

By complying with above request you will greatly oblige yours truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.

If the marriage license editor of THE TRIBUNE only knew which particular subscriber of this paper's many thousands is the author of the above he could better furnish the desired information. It might be that Punch's advice of "Don't" might be applicable to "subscriber." The editor's ideas regarding the questions asked are of the opaque variety so much in vogue nowadays among newspaper men who are completely in the possession of their own minds.

First question: "Is it necessary that the names of parties obtaining license be published?"

IT IS NOT NECESSARY.
The editor of THE TRIBUNE does not think it any more necessary to print the names of all persons who pay 50 cents for a marriage license than it is to eat pie with the aid of a fork. Still it is quite fashionable, and "subscriber" should follow the prevailing style regarding this matter. It should give a citizen of unalloyed pleasure to any citizen to read in the newspaper that he has been granted a marriage license along with George Prokopovitz, John Droleck, George Raspasko, Michael Perko, Frank Barrilla, Andrew Coanawgo, Barney Crevolis, Matthew Tolavitch, John Slop-nitzki, Joseph Gionelato, Peter Winchiewicz, Anthony Kosuth, Raff Macrao, Sumpko Parka, Mowat Casdops, and a few other well known and prominent persons.

Second question: "Must notice of marriage be published?" It must, if any of the leading young reporters of a well regulated newspaper like THE TRIBUNE know of the great "Subscriber" friends would all be greatly delighted to hear that he has agreed to pay a young lady's board bill for an indefinite period. Besides, a wedding is a way ahead of Christmas, or a birthday so far as the matter of presents from loving friends and relatives is concerned.

THIRD QUESTION: "Is a license obtained in one county of this state good anywhere in Pennsylvania, or only in the county where granted?"

The editor regrets very much to state to "subscriber" that if he gets a marriage license in Lackawanna county he must patronize the home ministers, aidmen, or justices of the peace. This is in keeping with the true Republican policy of protecting local industries. Get "subscriber" and the young lady upon whom he calls every night are patient persons, they can, by waiting until Oct. 1, 1895, secure a license at the Lackawanna court house and meander over to Wayne, Susquehanna, Luzerne, or in fact any other county in the state, where the marriage license will be found to work just as well as here at home. But we would advise "subscriber" not to wait, as the average young lady is mighty fickle, and she may at some near day—or night—object to the not altogether pleasant odor of a celluloid collar, and want to read in their mutual agreement of love, sweet love.

Fourth question: "Form of marriage license?"

THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE is sold for 2 cents a copy, whereas a marriage license costs 50 cents. We are afraid that general Clerk of the Courts Thomas would object if we printed his marriage license business. We have information in great large wads and we are always pleased to distribute it among our friends, but we are rather shy on marriage licenses. Mr. Thomas, though, has a plentiful supply, and he is always glad to give them away at the regulation price of 50 cents.

"A Study in Scarlet."

NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.

Patrick Ruane receives frightful injuries in Johnson's Mine.

Patrick Ruane, a miner employed in Johnson's mine, was burned so badly by an explosion of a keg of powder yesterday that it is feared he will die.

Johnson was working in his chamber and had with him a keg of blasting powder. A spark was probably dropped into the powder, for it exploded with terrific force. Ruane was burned by the flash so badly that his flesh hung from him in several places. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital.

In diagnosing the case the physicians said that if Ruane could live twenty-four hours he would recover.

"A Study in Scarlet."

PERSONAL.

John A. Nalla spent last evening in Wilkes-Barre.

Professor J. H. Crowell, of Carbondale, spent yesterday in Scranton.

Mrs. J. W. Custard, of Tankhannock, is visiting her son, Joseph Custard, of 214 Mulberry street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Madigan, of Carbondale, were in Scranton Tuesday attending the funeral of his brother.

Mrs. John Milligan, sr., and daughter Nettie, of Carbondale, are spending the week with friends in the city.

Mrs. Andrew Paul, of Eureka, Utah, with her children, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. H. Golden, of Providence.

John Boyce, proprietor of the Chinchilla House, and Miss Isabella Vesly, daughter of the late John Vesly, of Chinchilla street, were wedded at Holy Rosary church yesterday morning.

EX-JUDGE IN COURT

Mrs. Mary Roseagle Wants to Recover $3,000 that He Invested for Her.

MONEY WAS SUNK IN A COAL MINE

The Plaintiff Thinks that the Stock in the Wyoming Manufacturing Company Was Not a Good Investment, but the Defendant Says It Was Until the Panic of 1884.

Ex-Judge John Handley is the defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

The action was begun on May 3, 1887, and on April 6, 1889, after the case had been tried before the late Judge Connelly, a verdict for the defendant was returned. A new trial was granted, and the case was taken to the supreme court, where it was argued during the last week of February, 1892. The supreme court decided in favor of the plaintiff and the case was sent back to this county to be retried.

This county to be retried. The defendant in a suit that is being tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 3. The plaintiff is Mrs. Mary A. Roseagle, of New York, who wants to recover $3,000 that she lost on an investment made for her by Mr. Handley.

TO GET RID OF THEM

Begging to Be Stopped in the City of Scranton.

FIRST TEST CASE TO BE MADE

A Little Child Picked Up on the Streets Yesterday to be Given a Hearing by Mayor Connell—Under the Provisions of a City Ordinance—Colonel Ripple Interviewed.

Begging on the streets of the city of Scranton, or in any part of the city, is to be stopped. The Associated charities has taken up the matter in dead earnest, and a test case is to be made.

For years the city has been beset with class who, although being not in needy circumstances, instruct their progeny to daily go out begging from door to door, asking for and taking everything conceivable, from a loaf of bread to a pair of shoes, a hat, a shawl, a dress, or a coat.

Even in the city's most prosperous condition the begging has been practiced with profit, and the mendicants are not confined to any particular portion of the city. Girls, and even boys of tender years, are sent out, and in a degree of independence and self-reliance, they are taught to become hypocrites and prevaricators.

The public generally will rejoice that an end is to be put to this disgraceful practice, and if the effort proves successful, as it undoubtedly will, it will all very materially in separating the deserving from the unworthy, and will place the latter class where it properly belongs, behind the bars of our penal institutions.

A TEST CASE.
A little girl, apparently under 12 years of age, is the first person to be arrested, and a test case is to be made of her. The little one, who is from the West Side, was picked up on Lackawanna avenue yesterday. She gave an officer who was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

Later in the day Mrs. Dugan applied soap and water with good effect and the child was then sent to the orphanage, where she will remain until Mayor Connell's return from New York, when the hearing will take place.

The little one was picked up by Mrs. Pettigrew and taken to Colonel Ripple's office in the Third National bank. An officer was sent for and the little girl was taken to the city hall.

REVIVAL AT DUNMORE

Series of Successful Services Being Conducted by Rev. Ralph Gilliam.

THREE MEETINGS IN ONE DAY

Prayer Meetings Held All Over the Borough—Mr. Gilliam Preaches at Each Service in the Presbyterian Church—Sermon on Skepticism in the Evening.

The revival meetings being conducted by Rev. Ralph Gilliam, was assisted by E. Fay Mills in his meetings at the Adams Avenue tabernacle, at the Dunmore Presbyterian church, are attracting great interest.

Yesterday was a special day and three services were held at the church. Prayer meetings were held in all sections of the borough and were all largely attended. Mr. Gilliam preached strong sermons at both forenoon and afternoon sessions.

His subject last night was "Skepticism," and one of the largest audiences of the week great interest. This spacious auditorium was insufficient to hold the crowd, necessitating the opening of the large doors leading to the lecture room.

Mr. Gilliam's text was, "The Son of man has come to save that which was lost." "There are here tonight," said Mr. Gilliam, "many who are expecting to hear me slip at the skeptic, but I want to talk to the so-called moral man as well as the skeptic. There is not one bit of hatred in my heart tonight because everyone's belief is not the same as my own."

"I do not believe," he said, "in skepticism that keeps a man from accepting Jesus Christ as a Saviour, but it is sin. Get sin out of the heart and skepticism flies away. There are the honest and dishonest skeptic. The first is honest in his skepticism and says very little about it, but the dishonest skeptic is forever denouncing his skepticism before the people and in most cases he does not know what he is talking about."

"There are men who are doubters, but they are true men because they are honest in their doubt. I do not believe Christ can save a man against his own will. No one can save a pure life but the man who wills to be saved. The dishonest skeptic cannot withstand argument and if cornered will generally escape by saying mean things."

"There are men here tonight that are honest in their skepticism; but I do not believe that there are any here tonight that will go out of the door skeptic if they were to go to God for light. The honest skeptic wants to believe but cannot, because of the doubts in his heart. You cannot surrender your will to God and offer up prayer expecting to have it answered."

The second part of Mr. Gilliam's talk was given to the moral man. He said: "The man who lives a pure life but yet is not a Christian and the man who is always talking about his morality. The latter claims he has always paid his debts and treats his neighbors honestly. This he is continually flaunting before his fellow men and scores everything concerning the church. What good men need is to take their places before God as sinners and yield to Him."

"I would say to the pure moral man, add to your already good life the hope for the hereafter and give your heart to God. Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all else will be added unto you."

"To the man who knows he is a sinner I would say, listen to the text, 'The Son of God is come to seek and to save that which was lost.' All a sinner must do is to take his place as one of the lost and he is saved."

"Jesus is not coming but, as the text says, 'He is come.' He is seeking the lost ones, not the ones already saved. The devil is bidding for your souls; Jesus of Nazareth is bidding for your souls. The one offers worldly pleasures and hell hereafter; the other offers peace and joy in heaven. Which bid are you going to accept?"

Services will be held today at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m., in the Dunmore Presbyterian church. Many Scrantonians attend the meetings, and much good is resulting from Mr. Gilliam's labors.

TWILIGHT ORGAN RECITAL
It Will Be Given by Professor George B. Carter at Elm Park Church.

Professor George B. Carter will give a twilight organ recital at the Elm Park church Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, to which the public is most cordially invited to attend. Admission will be free.

In giving this twilight recital, Professor Carter is following the leading church organists of the country, as for some time past this form of musical entertainment has been quite the fashion. No children under 15 years of age will be admitted unless they are accompanied by adults. The recital will be rather religious in its character, although much of the music will be secular. The doors of the church will close promptly at 4:30 o'clock, and after that hour no one will be admitted to the recital.

Professor Carter has arranged his programme in such a manner as to please every one who will attend. It shall be as follows:

Grand Chorus.....Gullmont
G. B. Carter.
Minuet.....Gullmont
G. B. Carter.
"Abide With Me".....Allen
Quartette
Home, Sweet Home.....Dudley Buck
G. B. Carter.
Antie Lowrie.....Dudley Buck
G. B. Carter.

Twilight, Quartette.
Poet and Peasant (by request), G. A. Carter.
Adagio.....Merkel
G. B. Carter.

The Elm Park church quartette, consisting of Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, soprano; Mrs. A. E. Connell, contralto; Alfred Wooler, tenor, and Llew Herbert, bass; will assist Professor Carter.

Music Boxes Exclusively.
Best made. Play any desired number of tunes. Gutschick & Sons, manufacturers, 1308 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Wonderful mechanical organs, only $50 and $100. Specialty: Old music boxes carefully repaired and improved with new tunes. **