OUR CLUB BRACING UP.

Ten Innings Were Necessary to Defeat the Cahills Yesterday

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug 14.—It took ten innings to decide the contest of this afternoon and the Bisons pounded a victory when Quarles lost his nerve. Boyd singled to right and Hoffer to left and then O'Brien piloted the ball to center, and the winning run came in. Daly and O'Brien collided in the fifth inning and the former was so badly shaken up that he had to retire from the game. It was this circumstance that gave the visitors the lead. Attendance 1,400. The score.

WILKES-BARRE WORSTS PROVIDENCE

In Took Eleven Innings to Wrest the Game from the Champions.

WILKES-BARRE, Aug. 14.—The leaders of the league had a great eleven-inning battle to-day with Wilkes-Barre, Lovett being in the box for the visitors. He lost his first game. Meakin pitched for the home team in a magnificent game, receiving almost perfect support. The features of the game were Knight's fielding, Lytle's work at second and three double plays by the Providence infield. Attendance, 900.

BINGHAMTON STILL IN IT.

But from Present Indications Toronto Will Take the Franchise.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 14.—E. F. Rogers, a member of the Eastern league directors and president of the Wilkes-Barre Base Ball association, to night says:

"The Eastern league situation remains the same. Binghamton is still in the league, and the Providence club will go there and play Thursday under th arrangement that was made with Buffalo and Springfield. President Powers passed through Wilkes-Barre today en-route to Buffalo. He in company with President Frenalin, of the Buffalo club, Georg. Kutzen, of Syracuse, and others, who will visit Toronto, and it is quite probable that another city will be in readiness to take Binghamton's franchise Friday or Saturday of this week. The Scranton club was scheduled to play in Binghamton Friday and Saturday, but it is quite possible that the new member to take Binghamton's place will go to Scranton to play, thus transferring the game from Binghamton to Scranton."

SCRANTON PLAYERS DEPART.

Four Old State Leaguers Sign with the Philadelphia Club

Pitcher Long Tom Flannaghan, Shlewheeler Massey, Stultz and Westlake of the defunct Scranton State league team have signed with Philadelphia which club they will meet in Scranton to-day.

Stultz and Massey will probably be assigned positions at once, and Long Tom will expect in the box when his arm has recovered from a two weeks' rest.

The transfer of the players to other cities would indicate that the Carbondale project has been abandoned so far as the Scranton players are concerned. It is now reported, in fact, that a local professional team will not be maintained in Carbondale.

CLINTS FROM THE DIAMOND.

George Stultz of the old State league club, has signed with Reading.

Second Baseman Lynch, of Springfield, is a player who's head needs reducing.

Johnson is as good a player as has been seen in a Scranton uniform since the days of Dan O'Leary's Indians.

The Anthracites, of the West Side, challenge the Comets to a game of ball on Sunday morning next at 9 o'clock. The latter club will name the field of contest. Answer through the TRIBUNE.

The Reubens and Cynthias played a game of ball at the Driving park Saturday. It resulted in a victory for the Reubens, the score being 11 to 7. McAndrews and Leonard were the opposing pitchers.

The James Boys Base Ball club, of Pine Brook, challenge the Electrics, of the South Side, to a game of ball on the 26th, at 2:30 p. m. for $10 a side. John Mularky, captain; Bill Brown, manager. Answer through TRIBUNE.

A base ball team composed of the members of Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin Camp, No. 8, Sons of Veterans, will play a game of ball with O. S. Smith Camp, No. 196, Sons of Veterans, of Jermyn, Wednesday, Aug. 15 at Farview, where the seven county veterans' association will meet on that day.

LABOR AND THE BALLOT.

Philadelphia Record, Dem.

If the workingman shall cast his ballot for the best interests of the people of the whole country his own interests cannot possibly suffer. While there are many seeming wrongs to be righted in the relations that exist between employers and employes in this country, their rightful determination can only be arrived at through dispassionate discussion by men competent to look at both sides of a case. In any event, a better settlement of disputed question is to be hoped for at the hands of legal tribunals than can ever be reached by a strike, which in later years has almost invariably been attended by acts of violence.

THE AMENDMENT ACCEPTED.

Wilkes-Barre Record.

Says the SCRANTON TRIBUNE: "'Give the country a rest,' says Hill. It has had too much of that already. 'Give the country work,' says the Republican party. Which is the wiser cry?" That's good talk. But what's the matter with giving the Democratic party a rest and the country work at the same time? That would be a double-barrelled, breech-loading stroke of policy that the people would gladly welcome.

French Women Inspectors.

Women are chosen in France as inspectors of work of women and children in factories. Here there is a limit of age; they must be over thirty and not more than forty-five. They must pass an oral and written examination in the text of the laws bearing upon the subject, and they must prove that they have lived at least five years in the department where they are to serve. They have 150 establishments to visit in a month, and concerning these they must report to the prefect. They are all sworn in. The salary is about 1,800 francs ($600) a year.—New York Sun.

OH, THE BABIES!

175 Died in Boston in a Week.

Cholera Infantum Is Raging Now.

Lactated Food Should Be Fed to Little Ones.

August a Critical Time for Thousands.

Every Mistake in Diet Must Be Avoided.

The death rate goes up with a jump. There were almost a hundred cases of mortality due to cholera infantum alone in Boston during the last week, says the Herald of that city.

One hundred and seventy-five babies died from this and similar causes.

The fearful jump in the infant death rate that comes in August is due to improper feeding during hot weather.

In thousands of homes where love and watchfulness seem to have surrounded baby with every safeguard, these two conditions that lead to cholera infantum often exist—improper diet and possibly of contagion in food.

These cases are preventable, and every death from an intestinal disorder shows either neglect or ignorance on the part of parents.

There is no reason today why baby should not receive proper nourishment, and be kept absolutely free from any possibility of contagion.

Lactated food is always obtainable. Physicians and mothers who have brought up a family of children know how nutritious, how easily digested, and how absolutely pure lactated food is, and how eagerly it is taken by children that cannot take other nourishment. Lactated food saves babies' lives.

The diet of a child from six months to three years old should be as carefully regulated as in the first weeks of its life. And during hot weather especially, the first symptom of diarrhea should cause redoubled watchfulness. Children who are evidently not thriving, who show a lack of energy, who are becoming listless, fretful, thin and weak, must quickly gain strength, or the slight attack of diarrhea that a strong child readily overcomes will prove fatal.

There is always a chance of slight mistakes in feeding baby, and in hot weather such errors often result in cholera infantum, to cure baby is not strong and abundantly nourished.

Babies properly fed on lactated food never succumb to cholera infantum!

The experience of hundreds of physicians, public institutions, and thousands of mothers prove that lactated food is the safest article that can be used as the diet of young children during the hot months.

Mothers who have never used lactated food should remember that it is an expensive as to be within the reach of the humblest home. Enough may also be made from a dollar package to last nearly four weeks. The food thus prepared from plain directions on each package costs less than five cents a quart, and lactated food saves babies' lives.

NEWS NOTES FROM WALES.

Special Correspondence.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The verdict in the Albion colliery explosion inquest was correctly foretold in these columns three weeks ago, and the probability of censure upon the management has been borne out.

The inquiry extended over nine days. Considerable interest was manifested in the proceedings and as the last evening proceeded a crowd numbering a couple of thousand congregated in the Market square to await the verdict of the jury. Toward 9 o'clock the excitement became intense, especially when it became known that the jury had disagreed, it being reported that six of them supported the manager's version and the remaining seven that of the mining inspectors. So stifling had the heat in the room become that one of the jurymen, T. Jones, the rate collector for the Ystradyslais parish council, and restorative had to be provided.

A verdict was arrived at at 10:20 p. m., after over four hours' deliberation. The jury found that the deceased lost their lives through an explosion of gas that took place at the Albion colliery on June 23, 1894, which explosion was accelerated and extended by coal dust, but the jury disagreed as to the exact place at which the explosion had its origin, and they were unanimously of opinion that shotfiring was practised in the colliery when the men were at work without sufficient precautions as to their safety and contrary to rules; they were also of opinion that the under-manager neglected his duty in not seeing that his subordinates in the night shifts performed their duties in accordance with rules; that the firemen were negligent in not reporting gas when found; and that there was not a proper system of watering in this mine.

The jury made the following recommendations:—(1) That shot-firing in timber shall be absolutely prohibited; (2) that all old workings shall be properly stored or gobbed; (3) that a record shall be kept of the number of men in the mine at all hours; (4) that thorough inspections shall more frequently be made by Her Majesties' inspectors, because we consider the present examinations by the workmen's representatives are worthless.

The matter will no doubt be thoroughly ventilated in Parliament. OWEN.
