CHICKASAW'S BABBLING.

The People as Seen Through a Wathful Report's Eyes.

Due West, S. C., Sept. 7, 1896.

President C. E. Todd came home Tuesday by way of Abbeville. He is now in the lower part of the county in the interest of the College.

C. E. McKay's visits to Due West have become very regular. We always know when to look for him.

W. W. Edwards, of Abbeville, was up with his wheel last week.

Mrs. Jennie Cain, mother of Mrs. R. S. Gallop, died Wednesday evening and was buried in the A. R. P. graveyard the following day.

Rev. O. Y. Bonner is out again.

After an extended trip of several weeks Mrs. H. M. Johnson and son, Horace, will spend a few days in Due West.

Miss Elsie Seale and brother, Glover, returned to Woodruff Saturday.

Mrs. J. K. Hood, of Anderson, after a pleasant visit to friends in Due West, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Hood, who accompanied him, will remain with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, for several days.

Rev. B. H. Grier and family, of Yorkville, arrived Tuesday. Mr. Grier preached for Mr. Bonner Sabbath morning.

The dormitory and brick machine have given all the leaders a job.

Remember the Colleges open the last Wednesday in September.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Acker, of Belton, have been on a visit to Mr. T. A. Tolbert.

Miss Euphonia Young arrived home Saturday.

Messrs. J. T. McGill, J. Y. Miller and S. A. Pressly leave this week for Gastonia, N. C., to engage in the mercantile business. Due West regrets to lose such young men.

Don't forget the trustees meeting, first Saturday in each month from 9 to 11. Teachers must be on hand promptly with blanks properly filled out.

M. T. G. Ellis is now trading in cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and McMillan, of Abbeville, have been in town.

The trustees of the Lindsay graveyard will meet next Saturday evening at four o'clock at Ellis's store.

Messrs. Bell and Nance have made 700 gallons of syrup up to date.

To Mrs. D. B. Ellis, a son, September 1st.

Mrs. W. K. Ellis, of Donalds, spent Sabbath day with her brother, John.

Miss Annie Ellis has been on a visit to her cousin, Miss Addie Ellis. Miss Addie accompanied her home.

M. B. Clinckenshel had the misfortune to lose his barn with six thousand bundles of fodder last Wednesday night. Insurance $50.

Miss Lula Metcalf entertained a number of friends Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Giffin, of Honca Path, were visiting in town Thursday.

Miss Mary Mattox came over from Donalds to attend the McGee entertainment.

Miss Bertie Ellis is at home again.

Miss Minnie Black has been visiting friends in the country.

Miss Lulu Giffin leaves this week for Egypt.

Miss Mollie Ellis worshipped in the A. R. P. church Sabbath day.

Resolution of Thanks.

Whereas, the Union Republican party of Abbeville County, assembled this day for the purpose of electing the delegates to the Union Republican State Convention to convene in Columbia on Sept. 17th, and nine delegates to the Congressional District Convention at Enley, S. C., and

Resolved, That we hereby express an appreciation of the kindness of the court officials in so courteously and liberally tendering to us the use of the court room.

By order of County Chairman,

Abbeville, C. H. S. C., Sept. 4, 1896.

If you want a nice cool drink, try celery phosphate for 5 cent a glass at Speed's.

TROY'S TEA TABLES.

Many Personal Paragraphs—Death of a Lovely Woman.

Troy, S. C., Sept. 7th, 1896.

Rev. C. E. Todd from Due West preached at Long Cane, yesterday morning, and here in the A. R. P. church last night.

Miss Cora, and Miss Jule Mose, two beautiful young ladies from Verdery, spent last week here with Miss Mollie Little.

Mrs. T. P. Thomson, and Little Frank, are visiting in Abbeville.

Miss Bell Leard is in Augusta on an extended visit to her brother's family Mr. John Leard.

Mrs. W. H. Adamson has returned from the dormitory, where she has been to see her brother.

After a long drought, we had a nice rain Saturday night, which has cooled off the parched earth considerably.

Rev. W. E. Johnson will preach here in the Baptist church next Sabbath evening at 8 o'clock instead of 4 in the afternoon.

Rev. T. W. Sloan, after a pleasant stay of two weeks in New York, is expected home this week and will preach here in the A. R. P. church next Sabbath.

He will not take all his vacation at present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Presley and their pretty little daughter Margurite, after three years stay in Europe, are expected at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Robinson next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Chatham, Jr., arrived Tuesday. Mr. Grier preached for Mr. Bonner Sabbath morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chiles of Millway, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dandy.

Long Cane is being touched up with paint, and whitewash brush, getting ready for Presbytery.

Miss Mary E. McCaslin, daughter of the late Mr. Patrick McCaslin died from a complication of diseases at Mrs. Jane Wilson, at Long Cane on the 25th of last month, and was buried at Long Cane, Dr. J. L. Wilson of Abbeville conducting the funeral services.

Mrs. Betta Caldwell Talbert, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Caldwell, and wife of Mr. T. A. Talbert, died here at the home of her parents on last Tuesday evening at 11 o'clock, and 25 years, she was young and lovely, and the pet and pride of the family.

On the 22nd of last September she was happily married to Mr. T. A. Tolbert, and they were happy in their new home.

The fragrance of the orange bloom still wafted from the bridal wreath, the waning light of their honeymoon was blushing a red tinge before the mellow dawn of a brighter day. But! how inexcusable is life. She was a member of the M. E. church here, a teacher in the Sabbath school, but she has gone where congregations never break up, and Sabbath have no end. It was sad, and touching to see the aged father, as he took a last look at his precious child, saying it wouldn't be long that they would meet again.

Rev. P. Bradley conducted the funeral service to a large congregation, and she was buried in the family burying ground by the side of a sister, and brother.

Life is like a lovely morning. Middy merrily into noon. But it fades without warning. Comes the shadow to receive us. As we follow one by one. And its warning voice will grieve us. Till the setting of the sun.

UNION-BRADLEY.

All Sorts of Good Things for the Reader.

Union-Bradley, S. C., Sept. 7, 1896.

Miss Emma Flinn of Greenwood, S. C., is visiting Misses Naomie Flinn and Iva Bush.

We are indebted to Miss Sara Lou Talbert, for an invitation to a soiree, given at her home in Bradley, on the evening of the 1st inst. Some of our young people attended and claim to have spent the evening most pleasantly.

Master Boze Pratt, has recently visited his brother, Lindsay Pratt, who is now in business in Greenwood, S. C.

The farmers of this section seem so much grieved over their short crops, that they are manifesting very little interest in the election, which is so fast approaching. We hope they will attend, as we are deeply interested in some of the candidates, and really wish every man to vote for them.

Mr. F. P. Bush has been mowing some excellent hay for Mr. Jim McFerrin. Mr. Bush has a fine mower and does quite an amount of work, both at home and in the vicinity.

The large quantity of hay which he has stored for winter is a convincing proof that there is money in cutting grass, which will, in a few months, be his handsomely.

On the evening of the 5th inst. a delightful soiree was given at the home of Mr. G. P. McFerrin, in honor of the visiting young ladies.

Our kind host and hostess did every thing in their power to add to our enjoyment, and I think we would voice the sentiment of the entire assembly, if we could ask, when will we be permitted to spend another evening so pleasantly in their homes.

Some strangely equipped travellers passed through our section quite recently. The party consisted of a man, woman, three very small children, and a colored boy.

We could not determine their mission, although they claimed to be "fortune tellers and traders."

The vegetables in every garden near us are parched by the warm dry weather. Turnip patches will prove a failure unless we have a late fall, with plenty of rain.

Mr. J. A. Banister, Jr., is hauling lumber to Troy, S. C., which is to be used in constructing a large store for Mr. Will Bradley.

Mr. Tate Harling, who has been spending sometime with his parents, has returned to his home in Pelzer, S. C.

Mr. A. O. Johnson, one of Union's hand-soners, and most talented young men, attended the soiree at Mr. G. P. McFerrin's. He seemed unusually happy, as a certain young lady from Russellville, S. C., was among the guests.

Mrs. Alfred Faulkner, of Augusta, Ga., is visiting her uncle, Mr. J. A. Banister, Sr.

The Y. M. C. A. was conducted last Sabbath night by Mr. Moore, P. M. subject, "Peter's denial of Christ." After he had concluded Messrs. Tate, Harling and Davis made short talks which were enjoyed by all. More of the members are taking an interest in the Y. M. C. A. and a pleasant surprise to set and listen to the young men express themselves upon such religious topics that are brought before the Y. M. C. A.

CLEMSON COLLEGE.

Actings and Doings About the Great Institution.

Clemson College, S. C., Sept. 7, 1896.

A telephone line between the College and Calhoun, has just been completed.

Dr. W. E. A. Wyman, V. S. has just published a bulletin on "Fouled Horses," and Red Water in cattle. Any one wishing this bulletin or any other can get it by sending their address to Dr. Wyman. He has his dissecting room almost completed, and will soon give the boys some dissecting to do.

Prof. McGee has put up three hundred tons of sludge.

Superintendent Mayfield and a part of his family, visited the President and Mrs. Craighead a few days last week.

Last Sabbath night, the Y. M. C. A. was conducted by Prof. John G. Clinckenshel.

On account of the illness of Rev. Mr. Zimmerman, there was no preaching Sabbath.

An organ minstrel consisting of five of the Cadets and five of the Pendleton boys, was given in the college chapel Saturday night. The proceeds which amounted to forty dollars will be given to the Episcopal church of Pendleton.

What has become of "Glo"? Is he still in the East, or has he emigrated to the "Wild West" as he was talking of doing?

Miss Lewis and Miss Heavewell, two accomplished young ladies living near here, are teaching a dancing school. Several of the cadets are preparing themselves to spend a pleasant vacation this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Evans and their daughter Hettie, accompanied by Miss Lucy and Miss Lizzie Gilbert, came up to see Mr. John Evans of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Evans returned last Monday. The young ladies will spend sometime near the mountain college.

Miss Smythe and Miss Sloan of Charleston, and Miss Blythe of Greenville, spent Saturday night with the Misses Hardin.

Last Friday night and Saturday, we had a seven inch rain.
