

JUNIOR SENATOR DIES IN HOSPITAL

A. C. Latimer Succumbs After Brief Illness.

BURIAL AT BELTON.

Had Been Senator Five Years After Serving in the House Ten Years. Something of His Career.

Washington, February 20.—Senator Asbury C. Latimer, of South Carolina, died at Providence hospital at 9:15 a. m. today of peritonitis. He had been at the hospital since Sunday last, when he underwent an operation for appendicitis. It was then discovered that he was suffering with a far more serious ailment. The bowels had become twisted, and his condition was found to be such that surgeons held out little hope for his recovery. He rallied, however, and his progress was satisfactory until 7 o'clock last evening, when he steadily began to grow worse. At midnight it appeared that recovery was almost impossible.

The members of the Senator's family were with him when he died, having been informed that there was little hope that he would survive the night. Col. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, at once made arrangements for the removal of the body to the Latimer home at Belton, S. C.

Mr. Latimer was 57 years old. He was one of the most earnest and conscientious committee workers in Congress, being a member of the committees on agriculture, immigration, manufactures, public buildings and grounds and census, as well as others of less importance. He was especially interested in good roads, and probably did more to promote the national movement for government building of good roads than any other member of Congress. He was the author of the Latimer good roads bill. As a member of the manufactures committee he gave much attention to the preparation of the pure food law, and also played a prominent part in drafting the pending copyright bill. During last summer he visited Europe as a member of the immigration commission, and was preparing an elaborate report covering immigration conditions in the countries assigned to him. Mr. Latimer had served as a Senator since 1903, and had served five terms in the House.

There will be no official services in Washington. The funeral party left at 8 o'clock tonight on a special train over the Southern railway, which is due to arrive at Belton at noon tomorrow. The funeral services will be held there at 2 p. m.

As a mark of respect to the late Senator there was an unusual attendance in the Senate today when the vice president sounded the gavel and the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, the chaplain, opened the proceedings with prayer, in which he referred with much feeling to the bereavement that had come to the country in the death of a member who only a few days ago had been on the floor of the Senate, saying:

"Father, Thou art pleased to show to us, day by day, month by month, hour by hour that we are in Thy presence always, and that we pass from this life to that larger life—yes, in an instant, in the twinkling of an eye. Come to us today, as we learn that another has gone from this circle, and that here and there Thou art pleased that he shall be serving Thee in that larger life. Speak to us, Father, and lead us as only a father can lead us by Thy own care and love that we may learn the lesson of life and of what we call death.

"We ask for ourselves, we ask for those who are nearest and dearest to us, we ask for the State that he has served, and for the nation, that we may come nearer to Thee and enter into Thy divine life."

Upon the conclusion of the reading of the journal Senator Tillman arose to announce the death of his colleague:

"The senators in the chamber," he said, "were startled Monday morning with news that a surgical operation was to be performed upon my colleague, Mr. Latimer. It is now my painful duty to announce that he never sufficiently rallied to make any headway, and that he died this morning at 9 o'clock."

Mr. Tillman then offered a resolution declaring the Senate's regret, which was adopted.

Another resolution authorized the appointment of ten senators to arrange for and attend the funeral, and Vice President Fairbanks designated the committee as follows: Senators Tillman, of South Carolina, Proctor of Vermont, Frazier of Tennessee, Foster of Louisiana, Overman of North Carolina, Johnston of Alabama, Carter of Montana, Dillingham of Vermont, Dixon of Montana and Smith of Michigan.

The Senate then, at 12:20 o'clock, as a further mark of respect, adjourned.

In the House Mr. Finley, of South Carolina, feelingly alluded to the death of Senator Latimer. He offered resolutions of regret, which were unanimously adopted.

The speaker announced the following committee to attend the funeral: Messrs. Finley, Lever, Patterson, Ellerbe, Legare, Johnson and Aiken of South Carolina, Bennett of New York, Burnett of Alabama, Cook of Colorado, Rodenburg of Illinois, Hinshaw and Pollard of Nebraska, Lee of Georgia, DeArmond of Missouri, Webb of North Carolina, Fairchild of New York and Kusterman of Wisconsin.

As a further mark of respect the

To the Baptist Pastors and S. S. of the Laurens Association.

Greeting: The Laurens Association at its last session adopted a committee report recommending the organization of a Baptist Sunday School Institute in this Association and authorized the same by the appointment of a committee to make necessary arrangements for this organization.

Therefore we, the undersigned committee, to whom this work was intrusted, hereby call a meeting of representatives from all the Baptist Sunday Schools in the Laurens Association to be held with the church at Laurens C. H. on Saturday, March 21st, 1908, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose indicated above.

We earnestly desire that each Sunday School shall send at least one representative other than the pastor. We request also the presence and aid of all pastors, superintendents and Sunday School workers who are interested in this great work.

The object of this meeting is to effect a permanent organization and arrange for a regular Institute meeting to be held next summer. Let every pastor and superintendent see to it that each school is represented fully.

Your committee,

William and Jack Cook of Cross Hill.

House Gives Money for Dispensary Fight.

The house yesterday morning, without debate, passed to third reading the Christensen-Nicholson bill appropriating $15,000 for criminal prosecution in the dispensary cases. There was no opposition to the measure.—State 20th.

House, at 1:12 p. m., adjourned.

The immigration commission, of which Senator Latimer was a member, adopted resolutions of regret for his death, saying: "His associates upon the immigration commission desire to express not only their sorrow at Senator Latimer's untimely death, but also their recognition of his zealous service as a member of the commission and of the energy and ability which he brought to the performance of this important public duty. To the family of Senator Latimer the commission offers its deepest sympathy in the heavy affliction which has come upon them."

Senator Tillman today telegraphed to Gov. Ansel of South Carolina, informing him of the death of Senator Latimer, and that Vice President Fairbanks will formally communicate the fact that a vacancy now exists in the Senate. The Legislature of South Carolina is now in session and will elect a Senator to succeed Mr. Latimer.

The Congressional Directory contains the following sketch of Senator Latimer's life:

"Asbury Churchwell Latimer, Democrat, of Belton, was born July 31, 1851, near Lowndesville, Abbeville county, S. C.; was brought up on his father's farm; spent much of his life in active participation in agricultural pursuits; was educated in the common schools then existing; took an active part in the memorable campaign of 1876; removed to Belton, Anderson county, his present home, in 1880; devoted his energies to his farm; was elected county chairman of the Democratic party of his county in 1890, and re-elected in 1892; was urged to make the race for lieutenant governor of his State in 1890 but declined; was elected to the Fifty-third Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Congresses; was elected to the United States Senate by 17,700 majority over J. G. Evans, to succeed John L. McLaughlin, and took his seat March 5, 1903. His term of service will expire March 3, 1909."

COL. J. D. M. SHAW DIES IN COLUMBIA

Prominent and Wealthy Laurens Citizen Passes Away and is Laid to Rest in This City.

Col. John D. M. Shaw has been gathered to his fathers, his death having occurred shortly after 12 o'clock last Saturday night in the Columbia Hospital at Columbia, where he had been under special treatment since the first of January. As was generally known Col. Shaw had been very seriously ill for several days and on last Wednesday members of his family here and one or two close personal friends were summoned to Columbia, his condition having become very critical and death was expected at any moment. However, he lingered until Saturday night. Mr. Shaw accompanied his husband to Columbia and remained with him to the end, assisting the nurses in ministering to him in every way possible. Col. Shaw had been in failing health for several years and he sought medical aid in some of the largest hospitals in the country, attended by eminent doctors and specialists. When at last he realized his condition he became reconciled and simply wanted his last days made as comfortable as possible.

The remains, accompanied by Mrs. Shaw, Messrs. Thomas Shaw, John W. Henry, Col. Geo. S. McCravy and Mrs. B. W. Davenport, were brought to Laurens Sunday afternoon and taken to the home of Col. McCravy, West Main street.

During the afternoon, evening and Monday morning hundreds of friends called at the McCravy home to pay their respects and offer any assistance they might render. Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the burial took place at the city cemetery, the exercises being very impressively conducted by the Rev. C. Rankin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. John D. Crout, of the First Methodist, and Rev. William E. Thayer, of the First Baptist churches.

During the hour of the funeral the stores and all places of business were closed and there was a tremendous outpouring of the people to do honor to the memory of a true friend and patriotic citizen.

The active pall bearers were: John N. Wright, Edwin P. Milan, R. Lee Young, Blum Milan, A. R. Holmes, all of whom were his former immediate neighbors, and N. B. Dial, J. D. Watts, C. A. Power and J. Irvin Coleman, of the city.

Honorary: W. A. Watts, John J. Pluss, Dr. H. K. Aiken, Jared D. Sullivan, Judge O. G. Thompson, John A. Franks, D. H. Counts, Capt. T. J. Duckett, Col. H. Y. Simpson, C. C. Featherstone, Col. J. W. Ferguson, Col. Thos. B. Crews, Dr. W. C. Irby, W. G. Ross, D. A. Davis, J. O. C. Fleming, J. S. Bennett, Capt. J. M. Philpot, Senator F. P. McGowan, T. D. Lake, Capt. John R. Minter, H. E. Gray, Dr. L. S. Fuller, M. L. Copeland, Capt. J. O. Meredith.

John Davenport Martin Shaw was a son of Frank and Elliott Boyd Shaw and was born in this county 62 years ago. His school advantages were meagre and at the beginning of the third year of the War between the States young Shaw enlisted in Company E, commanded by Capt. J. Wash Williams, Seventh South Carolina cavalry, Hampton's legion, and participated in all the campaigns thereafter of Hampton and Stewart, being at the surrender at Appomattox in April, 1865.

Returning home he found his father's affairs in a disorganized condition, debt-ridden and discouraged. Borrowing the money, young Shaw lifted the debts, took charge of the place and in a few years had the old homestead freed of encumbrances and its wide fields bringing forth abundant harvests each year. Eventually he acquired additional real estate, and improved and built up one of the finest and largest farms in the county.

While he owned some mill stock and took a part in politics, his sole pride and ambition was to be the best farmer in the State. And for years he was recognized as one of the leading and successful planters in South Carolina. Though a modest man, he enjoyed this distinction and was justly proud of his achievement. He was a close calculator, a business man, and always knew when he was getting results from any experiment.

He died faithful and patriotic service for his State in Reconstruction times. As an Allianceman he was from the first prominently identified with the organization and freely used his means and influence towards its success. He was also an enthusiastic supporter of the "reform movement" and an ardent admirer of B. R. Tillman. When Tillman was nominated for governor Shaw threw his entire influence into the fight and ever afterward, or until 1900, he was always ready to champion every movement and measure inaugurated by the reform party.

Although beset, he would never accept office, the only honors accepted being membership of Gov. Tillman's staff and a delegate to this congressional district to the Democratic convention at Chicago in 1896 when Bryan was nominated the first time. However, he could have had almost anything for the asking and some posts of honor without seeking if he would have accepted. An incident probably not generally known is the fact that, had the resignations of Senators Tillman and McLaughlin been accepted finally, Gov. McWeeny intended to appoint Col. Shaw as one of the two successors. Of course nothing ever came of the whole proceeding.

In 1900, as indicated, Col. Shaw dropped out of politics and lived quietly at his fine old home, six miles from town. He was a generous man and assisted his neighbors when misfortune came, endorsed their notes and paid more security money, perhaps, than any other man in the county. His wife, who was a Miss Henry, survives, together with one son, Mr. Thomas Shaw.

A FEBRUARY MARRIAGE.

Miss Dorroh Becomes Bride of Timmonsville Physician.

Last Wednesday at noon Miss Carrie Lou Dorroh, one of the very handsome and accomplished young women of Laurens, was married to Dr. Carl Atkins Foster, of Timmonsville. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dorroh, Rev. C. F. Rankin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion in green and white, ivy, ferns, Chinese lilies and hyacinths being used most effectively.

The wedding party, composed of Miss Sarah Dorroh, the bride's sister and maid of honor, with the best man, Mr. John Switzer, preceding the bride upon the arm of the groom, entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, beautifully rendered by Miss Hess Peden, of Fountain Inn.

The bride wore a stylish traveling suit of green. The maid of honor wore a beautiful costume, all white.

Immediately after the ceremony a delicious luncheon was served, after which Dr. and Mrs. Foster left on the evening train for Timmonsville.

The wedding gifts were very handsome, silver, china and cut glass predominating.

THE WEEK AT CLINTON.

Death of a Lady. Washington's Birthday Celebrated. Other Items.

Clinton, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Sallie Winn died at the home of her son in Rock Hill yesterday. The remains were brought here today for interment at Hopewell burial ground in the family plot. Mrs. Winn was a sister of Dr. Carl East and Mrs. William Bell, of Renno, and a sister-in-law of Mr. R. J. Copeland, of this place.

Washington's birthday was celebrated as usual. The pupils of the orphanage schools had holiday on Friday and the students of the college on Saturday. The students of the college held an annual debating contest on or near the 22d for the trophy cup. This year they held the contest on Monday night. The subject for debate was: "Resolved, That inter-collegiate athletics occupy two prominent places in our colleges." The Philomathean Society was represented by Mr. Eugene Power and Mr. J. B. Frasier, who upheld the affirmative side. The Eukosmian Society's representatives were Mr. D. Wyatt Neville and Mr. R. S. Owens, who presented the arguments against inter-collegiate athletics. The speakers were introduced by Mr. Sidney Brooks. The judges were Rev. Dr. Adams, Prof. A. E. Spencer and Dr. S. C. Byrd, of Greenville. Their decision was in favor of the Philomathean.

Mr. Claire Hayes has been appointed to a vacancy in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Mr. Hayes' friends are proud of the excellent showing he made in the competitive examination at Spartanburg Saturday. He will report at the academy within the next week or two.

Two dogs have gone mad and been shot in Clinton within the past week. Both were known to have been bitten by Mr. Galloway's dog three or four weeks ago and were kept tied up. Both were valuable hunting dogs. One belonged to Mr. Cyrus Bailey and one to Mr. Homer L. Todd. There is a good deal of alarm in town as other dogs are believed to have been bitten.

Among the students who went home for the holiday were Messrs. Ben Anderson, of Waterloo; Dick Childers, of Laurens; Harrison, of Greers; Killgore, of Woodruff.

Mr. J. B. Frasier attended a committee meeting at Due West to arrange for the Greenwood oratorical contest. Society has been quiet ever since Christmas. The past week there were several pretty parties, however. Friday night a dance afforded pleasure to a large number of the young people. Miss Essie Young entertained the young set Friday evening at a Phantom Party which afforded much delight to all present. Mrs. Henry Young was hostess at an elegant dinner on Saturday. Mrs. W. S. Bean entertained the Friendly Dozen Book Club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. T. Robertson was hostess at the regular February meeting of the Musgrove Mill Chapter, D. A. R., on Saturday.

Among recent visitors in Clinton were three of Laurens' popular young ladies, Misses Ina Little, Agnes Adams and Lilla Hart. The Misses Richey were in Clinton for the dance Friday night.

Mrs. John C. Davis is in Chester visiting her sister, Mrs. Lucy McGowan, who is critically ill.

Mrs. P. S. Bailey has been in Lancaster for several days with her daughter, Mrs. Reese Williams. Mr. Williams has been desperately ill with pneumonia, but it is reported that he is better.

Mr. B. Duckett spent Sunday in Laurens.

Mr. Massey, of Rock Hill, visited his brother here last week.

Mrs. George Young is visiting relatives in Lowryville.

Rev. N. J. Holmes preached in the City Hall Sunday night.

The Baptists expect to begin building a new church in the fall. The one they now use will be used in the construction of a regular second church at the base.

The baseball season is on us. The college and orphanage boys played Saturday. The coach for the college team, Mr. Suttles, of Spartanburg, has arrived and will put the team to hard training at once.

Prof. A. V. Martin went to Due West Friday.

FEATHERSTONE FOR GOVERNOR.

Distinguished Prohibitionist of Laurens to Oppose Ansel.

Columbia, February 20.—The political situation was still further complicated by the announcement tonight that Mr. C. C. Featherstone, of Laurens, will be a candidate for Governor in the primary this summer.

Mr. Featherstone was in the city tonight on his way home from Orangeburg county, where he went to deliver two prohibition speeches today and yesterday. He stated today that he believed the time for the enactment of a State prohibition law had arrived, and that he had acceded to the wishes of his friends to enter the race for governor to advocate that policy. Mr. Featherstone was a candidate for governor in 1898 on the prohibition platform and was defeated by a combination of peculiar circumstances, and by a very narrow majority. He has not since that time participated in politics to any extent. Mr. Featherstone is one of the strongest lawyers in the State, is a man of fine address and manners, and is personally very popular. He has served as grand-chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and is an active and prominent member of the Methodist church.

There has been considerable talk to the effect that Mr. John G. Richards, of Kershaw, may enter the race for governor this year, and Mr. Richards, in reply to a question tonight, said he had the matter under consideration. He is also for State prohibition.

Gov. Ansel some time ago announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. He was elected two years ago on the platform of local option. J. H.

CROSS HILL NEWS LETTER.

Election for Intendant and Wardens. Other Paragraphs.

Cross Hill, February 24.—Tomorrow is election day for Intendant and Wardens for our town. Several names have been proposed. Intendant Witherspoon will not offer for re-election, thinking he will not be here this year. He has made a good record worthy of imitation, and we say to him "Well done!"

Mr. J. Marshall Wasson will open up a mercantile business in the Witherspoon store the first of March.

Fred Emerson Brooks was enjoyed by a good crowd last Thursday night. There is a 10-cent show in town that is attracting a good company every evening.

The many friends here of Mr. J. W. Jones were sorry to hear of his death. He was a citizen and leading merchant of Cross Hill some years ago.

The next Lyceum attraction will be a concert at the school auditorium March 3—the National Ladies' Quartette. The name indicates the nature of the programme. They come highly recommended.

Quite a number of our people are suffering with grippe. No very serious cases to report.

Medicine That is Medicine.

"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me well, and that remedy is Electric Bitters—a medicine that is medicine for stomach and liver troubles and for run-down conditions," says W. C. Kiestler, of Halliday, Ark. Electric Bitters purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and impart vigor and energy to the weak. Your money will be refunded if it fails to help you.

A Touching Incident.

One of the very pathetic incidents in connection with the death and burial of the late Col. John D. M. Shaw was the presence in the city Monday of a large number of Col. Shaw's colored friends, especially those from his late home, many of whom have lived on the place from twenty to thirty years. They came to get a last look at their friend and chief. Their request was granted and before the body was removed from Col. McCravy's to the "Silent City" many of them went in and viewed the silent form and turned away weeping, silently and sadly. In a body they followed to the cemetery, and at the request of Mrs. Shaw a deputation of the old negro servants were allowed the privilege of filling over the grave. It was a striking scene of devotion and loyalty characteristic of the old time negro.

Marked for Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A graveyard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bae, Ky. "The first dose helped me, and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs, colds, throat and lung diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Laurens Drug Co. and Palmetto Drug Co. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

GOOD MAN CALLED TO HIS REWARD

Mr. J. W. Jones, One of the County's Most Highly Esteemed Citizens, Passed Away Wednesday.

Capt. J. Willie Jones died last Wednesday night at his home here, the Col. James H. Irby mansion, South Harper street, where he had resided for the past year or more. Mr. Jones suffered an attack of grippe a few weeks ago, but it was thought he was rapidly recovering when, on last Tuesday night, complications set up and he grew suddenly worse, death resulting a day later.

Thursday afternoon the burial exercises were held at the city cemetery, the Rev. C. F. Rankin, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The following were the pallbearers: James W. Henderson, J. S. Machen, Dr. G. C. Albright, J. Mills Hunter, R. T. Dunlap, Ebb Copeland, H. E. Wilke, Dr. H. K. Aiken. Honorary: O. B. Simmons, J. D. Watts, P. A. Simpson, W. A. Watts, W. L. Gray, J. J. Pluss, John N. Wright.

Mr. Jones was 69 years old. He was a son of Gen. Thomas F. Jones, and was reared in this city. With the exception of the war period, Mr. Jones was actively engaged in business, either as salesman or on his own account, after he attained his majority until he retired a few years ago.

When the war broke out he was clerking at Union, and volunteered from that place. He served in the infantry, Mr. R. O. Hairston and perhaps others of this county being members of his company.

After the war he was engaged in business at Cross Hill, and later located in Laurens, continuing until a few years ago when he retired.

He was twice married, his first wife having been a Miss Gary, of Newberry county, and his second marriage was to Miss Tallulah Irby, daughter of Col. J. H. Irby and sister of the late Col. J. L. M. Irby and Dr. W. C. Irby, who survives her husband. He is also survived by two sons, Prof. Thomas F. Jones, of Woodruff, and Mr. Willie Jones, of Greenville, and two daughters, Mrs. A. N. Brunson, of Columbia, and Miss Katherine Jones, of Laurens.

The deceased was a warm-hearted, Christian gentleman, highly regarded and esteemed by all who knew him.

Tribute of Respect.

God, in His great love, saw fit to call our dear friend, Mrs. Gus Coats, to her reward on the third of February, 1908.

Her death was a shock to her friends and relatives, for she was sick only a few days before she died. The Reaper came when least expected.

She was married to Mr. Gus Coats on December 28, 1905, at Ninety-Six, where she had lived before her marriage. She was a consistent member of the Salem Methodist church, at which place she was buried. Although she had been married but little more than a year she had proved to be a kind, amiable and helpful wife. She always took great interest in the work around her home and always tried to make the home a place of comfort, pleasure and cheerfulness. God took her away from us while she was yet young—being only 23—but she had won numbers of friends. She always delighted in doing something for some one else. None knew her but to love her. We were grieved to have to give up our Kate, but God doeth all things well.

We extend to the bereaved husband and relatives our deepest sympathy, while we realize that our loss is her eternal gain.

A face is absent from our midst, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled.
