Grading Wheat.

A bill was passed at the last session of the territorial legislature providing for the appointment of three wheat inspectors, whose duty it is to examine into the matter of wheat grading, transportation, etc., and establish, as nearly as possible a uniform grade for the government of transactions in Dakota. In accordance with the provisions of the bill Messrs. R. E. Fleming, of Fargo, John Fadden of Grand Forks and J. E. West of Yankton, were appointed as such inspectors. At the first regular meeting of the Commission in Fargo on Thursday, Mr. Fleming was elected president, Mr. Paxton of Fargo, secretary, and Mr. West was appointed a committee of one to visit Bismark and vicinity. The latter gentleman stated to a Tribune reporter that it will be a very difficult matter to determine upon a grade which will be satisfactory to all parties concerned, as different elevator men buy for different markets.

A standard that would be favorable to the Duluth buyer might conflict with the Chicago regulations, while the latter's standard would not be satisfactory to the Minneapolis association, and as the action of the inspectors cannot control operations outside of Dakota, they must use great care and discretion in order to do no injustice to the operators within the territory. They will hold a meeting at Minneapolis on Monday to confer with the millers association and men who are interested in the buying of grain as well as the grain inspectors of Minnesota. Proceeding slowly and cautiously, inviting members of the various boards of trade of the territory, men who are engaged in buying and shipping grain, farmers and business men, to confer with them, they will endeavor to establish a system which will be just to the producer and the buyer and will endeavor to complete their work and publish a full report before the present crop is ready for the market.—Bismark Tribune.

Climate for Consumptives.

If we take the opinions of medical men, and what is better still the experience of consumptives themselves as to the value of any particular climate in this disease, we are forced to the conclusion that the best climate for a consumptive is that where he can enjoy the comforts of a good home with opportunity for ample and proper exercise in the open air. A consumptive is not a fit subject for exile from home and friends; he goes away feeling that he may not return again, that the change is a forlorn hope, and the people he meets at the so-called "Health Resorts" have experiences to relate that are not calculated to inspire the newcomer with hope.

We believe that the larger proportion of consumptives who go from the North to Southern climes to spend the winter hasten the disease. No climate that depresses the most vigorous constitutions is fit for those who require the dry, tonic atmosphere of hills and mountains. There are a few rules that should be always observed by those who have any tendency to lung disease.

1st. Do not neglect the first symptoms of lung trouble. There is no disease that is more manageable if taken in time. Rest, warmth and almost entire abstinence from solid foods for 24 to 48 hours are generally sufficient to restore the usual health.

2d. Avoid medicines unless prescribed by a physician. The unskillful tampering with drugs is always fraught with danger.

3d. Should the cough and fever continue more than two or three days call a physician. Neglect of these precautions has cost a world of suffering and millions of valuable lives.

The saddest of a physician's experiences is to be called to cases that have been rendered hopeless through neglect. Most of these cases are those that relate to lung diseases.—Halls Journal of Health.

A terrific hail storm passed over Brown county, Dak., on the 16th inst. The storm was about three miles wide and starting from a point four miles north of Aberdeen passed in a southeasterly direction. Grain in the track of the storm was entirely destroyed. From private correspondence we learn that hail-stones fell that were nine inches in circumference.

The railroad survey west of this city, for the extension of the H. & D. line, has succeeded thus far in avoiding all the towns that have been platted by private individuals, by at least a mile or two, notwithstanding they are so numerous that it was almost impossible to escape hitting some of them. What the outcome will be remains to be seen.—Aberdeen Republican.
