

SUPPLEMENT TO THE McLETTIE COUNTY PIONEER.

VOL. I.

WOOD, S. D., FRIDAY JANUARY 3, 1913.

No. 47

A. K. Wood and Theo. Fihn made a trip to Westover, last Saturday.

It began snowing New Years afternoon, and we now going to expect some real winter weather.

D. G. Miller and family were entertained at dinner at the A. K. Wood home just south of town New Years day.

A brother of Henry Siegmund who has been here visiting with him for a couple of weeks, returned to his home in Michigan, Monday.

W. E. Dean was here Tuesday and finished up the deal for the two stage lines and will be here to take charge next Monday, so we are told.

Hubble & Kent came over from White River Tuesday and are building a new house for Mr. Stranger Horse about a mile north east of town.

It is reported on pretty good authority that an effort will be made to open Tood county, to the south of us to settlement next summer. A number of the Tood county Indians are said to favor the proposition.

Miss Stella Ducker, one of our popular young lady homesteaders, has the honor of mailing the first package from the Wood post office under the new parcels post law. J. B. Scrivens was the second to take advantage of this new law at this place.

A Whist Party.

J. B. Scrivens and wife and G. L. Watson and wife, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Fihn at a whist party Tuesday evening. Mr. Scrivens and Mrs. Watson walked off with the honors. Refreshments were served.

Denied Enrollment.

The most important matter up for consideration before the Business Committee at the Agency, Monday, was the application of A. M. Charbannaux of Todd county for enrollment as a member of the Sioux tribe of Indians. After considering the evidence submitted the Business Committee voted thirteen to one denying the application for enrollment.

In printing the Christmas program last week we inadvertently omitted a recitation by Miss Fae Krieger, really one of the best numbers of the evening. We offer our apology to the young lady for the error.

On another page of this weeks issue of the PIONEER you will find the new parcels post fully explained, and illustrated with a parcels post zone map. The new service commenced Wednesday of this week. It will pay you to read this article over carefully and familiarize yourself with this new service provided by Uncle Sam.
