WHAT I WANT TO SEE. I want to see a lady who envies and hates none of her sex.

Want to see a husband who is a devoted and polite to his wife when at home as when attending her in public.

Want to see a young lady who does not like to claim as many as six sweet-hearts at the same time.

Want to see a young man who has not long since been wiser than his father.

Want to see a lawyer who discourages a rich client in insisting a law suit.

Want to see a doctor who never uses jaw-breaking technicalities to preclude further inquiry on a professional subject, about which he is fairly posted, and to which an evasive answer cannot be given.

Want to see a merchant who never sold goods at fifty per cent. at the same time as saying that it is only cost and carriage.

Want to see a politician who has not long since quit despatching, but will indulge in a glass per tota as a pledge of friendship.

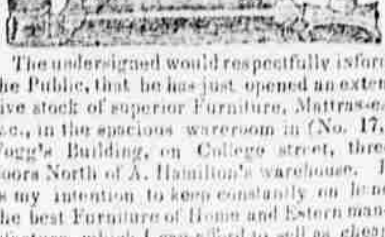

Want to see an editor who does not muffle himself up in the cloak of poverty, to denigrate patrons.—Cor. Chattanooga Gazette.

A Distinguishing Advantage.—We are pained to learn that a little son of Mr. James Nichol, of this district, came to his death, by a singular accident on Sunday last.

It appears that there were several boys playing together, running and jumping on the back of each other.

Whilst thus engaged on one of the boys had a large knife in his hand, which he had just placed his hand behind him when the deceased ran round a house and jumped on him not seeing the knife, which entered his body and pierced his heart, causing his death instantly.
