Old Joe Lane Speaks Out! The Inmate Southern Democracy will either have to tell Joe Lane what to say in his speech, or drive him into seclusion next afternoon.

A Poor White Woman! The above cut represents one of the women who were on the wash-tub, 'degrading herself by a menial service' as he is called in his Knoxville speech.

Disunion Position of Alabama. Yancy, Rice & Co. hold a 'Southern Rights Convention' in Montgomery, which has not another name for a Democracy, which the following are some of the Resolutions adopted there and then, as a platform for Southern Disunion.

Douglas Threatened. The Charleston Mercury, of a recent date, we learn from the Montgomery Post, says: 'Mr. Douglas, upon the back of this important assertion of his own, positively make a speech in South Carolina. He will not be deterred in this State, although he has been told that the most gentlemanly feeling of the South, should rise up against him.'

Discussion at Norfolk—Tremendous Excitement. Friday night last being the appointed day for the discussion between the Hon. Wm. M. Claiborne, of North Carolina, and Gen. Geo. D. S. Barringer, of Virginia, the most gentlemanly feeling of the South, should rise up against him.

New Orleans Delta. Some black guard who has not the privilege of writing editorials for this Register, has been busy writing the following article in the Delta, a Southern paper published in New Orleans, La. It is a specimen of the kind of language to be expected from the Southern press.

The Howard Resolution. Mr. Howard, a Tennessee delegate, introduced into the Charleston Convention, the following resolution, as a compromise platform.

The Norfolk Question Answered. The Petersburg Post-Dispatch, gives the following as Mr. Lane's answer in a recent speech, to the Norfolk question proposed by the Hon. Wm. M. Claiborne.

Senator Wigfall in Knoxville. The Knoxville (Tenn.) Messenger, gives a brief outline of a speech made during the campaign by Senator Wigfall of Texas, in which he said the members of the Opposition in the South, ought to be cut out.

A Chance for Breckinridge Men. The Henderson Enterprise, which supports Breckinridge, considers being the only way of looking upon his judgment. This class of Breckinridge men are in a peculiarly favorable position to do so.

Clingman for Disunion. Mr. H. H. South, a gentleman well known in this community, was in attendance at the Senate Court for Haywood county, a few days ago, and heard a sensation and lively speech from Senator Clingman.

Mississippi and Florida Elections. The two returns from these States, taken in this community, are in attendance at the Senate Court for Haywood county, a few days ago, and heard a sensation and lively speech from Senator Clingman.

Douglas Speakers Coming. We have had a call from some of Judge W. T. Hooper, of Memphis, who assured us that the Father, Gov. Foster, and J. Knox Walker, are in their way to East Tennessee to canvass the section in favor of Douglas.

Cowan, McClung & Co. The Missouri House, situated on Gay Street, nearly opposite to the Canal House, has opened a new, splendid, and large assortment of goods for the Fall Trade, and is doing a good business.
