Those wishing to keep up with the news, and the progress of a servile War precipitated upon the country by Southern Disunionists, because of the election of LINCOLN, would do well to subscribe for our WHIG.

If Lincoln's Inaugural be an indication of the policy he intends to pursue, it promises to be conservative and peace-loving. It is eminently firm in its rationality of sentiment, and it is out and out a Union address, wanting of the endorsement of all good men North and South. We are willing to try Mr. Lincoln under the pledges of this Address, promising to rebel when he attempts to inaugurate oppressive and unconstitutional measures, whether in reference to slavery or any other subject.

I believe that the zeal of the anti-slavery party at the North, has not yet subsided, and that the Border States have cause to guard against the meaner portion of abolitionists. I shall battle against the Greelys, Garrisons, Sumners, Chases, Bakes, Brookes, and Fessendens: and with equal freedom, I shall denounce all who are bond and glory with the Yancys, Rhetts, Davises, Toombs, and Wigfalls, and other Disunionists South, who seek to destroy this Government, from equally base motives. OBITUARY.

MAJ. L. D. FRANKLIN.

Died, at his residence, in Jefferson county, April 7th, 1861, Maj. LAWSON D. FRANKLIN, in the 57th year of his age.

Death is always an unwelcome visitor—but never more so than when it summons from us such an individual as Maj. Franklin—Like many of the business men of this country, who have proved what success energy, frugality, temperance, and capacity can attain, he may be truly characterized as a representative man. To the strictest integrity and punctuality, he added the rare business qualities of a judgement the most unerring and a foresight wonderful to those less fortunate. Ever open to the demands of his friends and neighbors, he not only assisted them with his means, but by advice more valuable. A man of the most perfect morality, he was the active and efficient friend and supporter of all benevolent enterprises, and aided in installing the Churches of his neighborhood. He was universally respected as a gentleman, even whose word was his bond," who frowned upon meanness of every type, and who lived a life of sincerity and usefulness. By every genial, and endued with true politeness, he was the "soul of hospitality," as of home. A man of superior mind, it was particularly gratifying to those he associated with, to converse with him. His death is a public loss—the cause of liberality in every department has sustained a loss; most of all, the immediate family have sustained an irreparable loss. The kind and indulgent father, the strong arm and the clear intellect upon which they have leaned, will nevermore on more, except by the light of his example and the wisdom of his counsels. His love, tenderness, and desire to promote their happiness, obtained for him the richest reward of a reciprocal affection. In all the qualities which distinguish a man as good and true, he excelled, and his memory will be long cherished by those who knew him.

Flax Cotton.

An Iowa correspondent of a morning paper talking of the culture and preparation of flax in that State, writes from Fairfield:

We have had in operation at this place one of Kendall's Breaks" and a "Scutcher, or Duster, both manufactured in Rhode Island for the purpose of preparing flax straw for manufactory. The process is as follows:

The flax is mowed with an ordinary reaper or mowing machine, before it is thoroughly ripe and is cured, in every respect, the same as hay. It may then be threshed the same as any other grain, the tangling of the straw not injuring the fiber in the least. It is not necessary that it should undergo a rotting process, as it breaks equally as well without. But only advantage of rotted over unrotted straw lies in the disorder it may have in the bundle, as the former weighs about one half less than the latter, there being a corresponding difference in price.

The broke separates the woody portion of the straw into small particles, which are removed by the duster. It is then ready for baling, shipping to the manufacturer, where it undergoes the manufacturing process.

One ton of straw yields from five to four hundred pounds of lint. About four tons of the straw have been ripened in the vicinity of this place at $5 per ton, by the party who has the control of the machinery here. This is intended merely as an introduction to the operations for next season, when a larger amount of machinery will be located here for the purpose of preparing the straw for market. Two of the same breaks are in operation at Mt. Pleasant, Henry county, Iowa, with the same success as here.

I do not think that we can entertain a doubt as to the success of this movement. Such a large ingrowing and Western product cannot be left unheeded, there is no such thing as fail.

Public Meeting.

Pursuant to previous notice a respectable portion of the people of Carter County assembled in Elizabethton, on the 1st day of April, 1861, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the meeting of the State Convention of the Union Party, called to meet in Nashville on the 24 of May next.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. A. Jobe, and on his motion, Maj. A. Tipton was chosen Chairman, and H. M. Folsom, Secretary.

The Chairman appointed the following gentlemen to commit to the meeting resolutions for the action of the meeting, to-wit: A. Jobe, Esq., Thos. Shoter, J. H. Martin, E. Sinner, and J. T. Gillespie, who, after being out a short time, submitted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the 24 day of May next has been designated for the meeting of a State Convention at Nashville, for the nomination of a Union candidate for Governor of Tennessee, therefore,

Resolved, That the Chairman appoint five gentlemen to represent Carter County in said Convention.

Resolved, That whereas the name of our worthy and fellow citizen, Hon. N. G. Taylor, has been mentioned by the press of the State in connection with the high position of Governor of the State, that we fully endorse the position, character, and talents of Col. Taylor, and present his name to the Convention as our first choice for Governor of Tennessee. He is honest, he is capable, and has shown himself always faithful. He is for the Union and Constitution forever—for disunion never. His eloquent voice in 1854, sounded the alarm from his place in the Congress of the United States and rescued the people of the storm of secession and disunion that has since burst upon the country. He pointed out the danger on its first approach, and ever since has given himself to the vindication of the rights of all sections and the restoration of peace and harmony throughout all our borders, we therefore, present the name of our Mountain Orator and Statesman, N. G. Taylor, as our first choice for Governor, and ask of the Convention a favorable consideration of his claims. We pledge ourselves, however, to the support of the nominee of the Convention.

Resolved, That we fully endorse the course of our Senator in Congress, Hon. Andrew Johnson, for his efforts in behalf of the Union, and the course of our Representative in the State Legislature, R. R. Butler, for his manly efforts in the same good cause.

Resolved, That we fully endorse and approve of the untiring and earnest efforts of our distinguished and patriotic Representative in Congress, Hon. Thos. A. R. Nelson, in behalf of the Union and that we see as evidence of our approval, present his name as a candidate for re-election, and suggest to the other counties of his district that he be so regarded without the action of a Congressional Convention.

The foregoing resolutions were passed by a unanimous vote, after which the Chairman appointed Dr. A. Jobe, H. C. Smith, Esq., Dan'l Stover, and J. H. Martin, as delegates to the State Convention, and in the event that neither of the gentlemen appointed should attend, the Editors of the "Nashville Democrat," "Patriot," and "Republican Banner," are requested to cast the vote of this county for some reliable Union man.

It was unanimously resolved that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the "Jonesborough Express," and "Brownlow's Whig." A. TIPTON, Ch'm.

April.

April, April is at hand,
Joy and gladness fill the land,
Flowers are springing here and there,
Birds of song fill the air;
Sitwashin from their fetters free,
Now are hastening on the lea
Chiming in their gurling way,
With the valley's sweetest lay.

On their wings the zephyrs bear
Forts smiling, fleecy fair,
Hovering flowers far and near,
On the rocky mountain side
In the meadow, in the fen,
In the glade and in the glen,
Where the fairies rule devils,
Where the lovely sun-bird yells.

To the field the farmer now
Flies him with his team and plow,
To prepare with hopeful toil,
For the seed the waiting soil;
Every hush and every tree,
Greeting him with notes of glee,
Cheer him as he speeds along
Listening to an endless song.

Hurling Bacon up for
Soaks his ugly hoes, and drags,
Boring out to check his flight
While he bites the zephyr's flight;
Not a solitary soul
Is ruffled by the verdal gale,
But upon the face of earth,
All is gladness, all is mirth.

April, joy of every one,
By the pruded winds and sun,
Threshed down the forest snow,
From the mountains slowly borne,
Thou dost call the birds that sing
Praises of returning Spring,
Thou dost gently smooth the way
For the blooming sister May.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER relative to

BRANDRETH'S PILLS demands attention from families

HARMONY, N. J., May 7, 1855.

DR. BRANDRETH—Dear Sir—I have long wanted to write to you and express my gratitude for the beneficial effects that have been experienced in my own family, and in hundreds, yea, thousands of others, by the use of Brandreth's Pills. The first year my friend Rockey sold your pills in Salem, 1826, I was then in a declining state of health, and my friends as well as myself suppose that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. Mr. Rockey urged me to take the Brandreth's Pills, but having made much medicine with no good effect, I was more inclined to let nature take its course, and calmly submit to my fate. Mr. R. offered to give me one box, which I then, but I do by consented to take them, but not as a gift. I went home, and went at it most hopefully. After taking one box I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up my twelve boxes I was a well healthy man—my weight having gone from 125 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between last time and the present I retailed three thousand dollars worth of those invaluable Pills, and am quite sure that I have hardly been instrumental in saving a thousand lives. Just thousands of lives.

Yours truly, C. J. FAY, M. F.
