HOW TO REMIT.

Money sent to us in registered letters, by Express, prepaid, or by Postoffice orders, will be at our risk; otherwise, at the risk of the sender.

SEND US THE NEWS.

We extend a special invitation to our friends to send us brief and pointed letters, giving items of interest in their several localities. We desire to have something of local interest in every issue for our East Tennessee readers.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Communications upon subjects of public interest will always be acceptable. The name of the writer will be required in each case, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith and for our own protection. The publishers will reserve to themselves the privilege of rejecting such articles as they may deem objectionable, but, if requested, will preserve and return rejected manuscripts. Communications upon matters of public interest will be published when we have the space for them, if they are not objectionable, but we do not wish to be understood thereby as always endorsing what they contain.

FINANCIAL.

Gold closed yesterday in New York at 1.14 1/2. Southern securities weak.

AN ABUSE OF JOURNALISM.

We cannot understand what can prompt a paper aspiring to respectability or influence to publish distorted, exaggerated accounts of such occurrences as took place on last Sabbath in Blount county. There is not even temporary good accomplished by such slanderous and unjust productions. The account of the "Mobbing of Christian Ministers by the Radical Fanatics of Blount County," published in the Press and Herald yesterday morning, will be eagerly caught up and republished by the Democratic press throughout the country, and will do East Tennessee great harm. What good can result to the Press and Herald thereby? It published a highly sensational article, which will naturally attract great attention and win for the paper a temporary notoriety. But when the facts as we publish them elsewhere become known, our contemporary will lose much more than it will gain. "The Press and Herald" man always was good at manufacturing news," said the Chattanooga Times of Sunday. The charge of the Times is well sustained by the "manufactured" article to which we refer. We say manufactured, for if our information is correct, the article was in its spirit and startling features manufactured. We do not think a fair-minded man in the city approves of such recklessness, and we think it is due to this community, and especially to the Press and Herald should make full reparation for the great injury it has inflicted.

THE UNIVERSITY AND "CITIZEN."

In an editorial published in our Friday's issue, we took occasion to suggest to our citizens that, inasmuch as the opposition to the East Tennessee University—to which much of its present embarrassment is due—had its origin and main strength in our own midst, among men who professed to have at heart the prosperity and happiness of our city, it was eminently fit that there should be a counter-movement here and on the part of our own people, to manifest to the General Assembly and the people of the State, that such sentiments as those advanced by "Citizen" met with no sympathy or encouragement.

That editorial was written and published entirely upon our own responsibility, without consultation or advice, or the knowledge of any one. It is but fair that we should make this statement, for if any "unfortunate" results are to follow its publication, we are responsible, and not the University or its friends. Our sole object in giving publicity to our views was the hope that it might result in good to the cause we have at heart. We still believe that result will follow; for, in our judgment, the best way to silence the opposition to which we refer is to develop its character and animus.

In answer to our article, the Whig of yesterday morning publishes another card from "Citizen," in which he exhibits himself in a spirit which is in perfect harmony with the judgment his first article provoked.

His intimation that he was ignorant of the fact that such an enterprise as the publishing of the CHRONICLE had even been undertaken is not at all surprising to us. Such illiberal souls might live in this community for years and remain in total ignorance of many an enterprise begun and prosecuted for their benefit and improvement. But such thrusts shall not divert us from our purpose.

"Citizen" says: "I have no quarrel to make with the East Tennessee University as an institution of learning, nor with its location, nor yet with the individuals who compose its Faculty, (though I do think they make a sorry team) for I suppose they do the best they can under the circumstances. My quarrel is with the general management. This I presume is with the Board of Trustees."

The presumption and conceit of this man in setting up his judgement against the combined sagacity and ripe experience of the Board of Trustees of the University, can be best appreciated by our giving the names of the many enlightened and upright men who comprise it.

Perez Dickinson, James Cowan, David Denderick, Hon. Thos. A. R. Nelson, Hon.

O. P. Temple, Col. Jno. Baxter, Col. Hugh McClung, Hon. Saml. Milligan, William Kennedy, H. L. W. Mynatt, Col. W. F. Heiskell, Dr. J. B. Ludlow, W. K. Eckle, E. J. Sanford, F. S. Heiskell, Hon. Geo. Andrews, C. M. McGhee, Hon. Horace Maynard, Col. Thos. H. Calloway, Hon. W. G. Brownlow, Gen. Jos. A. Mabry, William Rule, Rev. Thos. W. Humes, D. D., and others whose names do not now recur to us.

Is it not somewhat presumptuous in an anonymous correspondent to speak sneeringly and disparagingly of a Faculty selected by such a Board of Trustees, or reflect recklessly upon their management of an educational institution? It seems so to us and will seem so to every fair minded honorable man.

We might say other things pertinent to this issue, but we do not propose to further gratify "Citizen" by giving him the notoriety he covets. If we did not fear that through the efforts of himself and kindred spirits the University might be prejudiced by their being held responsible for what we alone have said, or might say, we should make some further suggestions as to the proper way to treat such opposition.

But under all the circumstances we propose to say nothing further, but leave "Citizen" and his friends to pursue such a policy as they think best. If in fact they are friends of the University, as they claim to be, we suggest that they relieve it of its present embarrassed and crippled condition, and at some more opportune time seek through a change in the Board of Trustees to effect the reforms they feel to be so important. They certainly cannot establish their friendship or benefit the University by the policy they are pursuing.

ATONEMENT FOR THE PAST.

The Press and Herald was full and running over yesterday morning with its "manufactured" sensational canard of the Blount county affair. Now, when Republican papers, in denouncing the outrages of the Ku-Klux in Middle and West Tennessee, in any way vary their accounts from the literal truth, the Democratic press of the State are careful to make the most of it, and to refer to it as evidence of deep-seated malice and hostility to the people of the State. There is some excuse for uncertainty where the Ku-Klux secretly commit their outrages, or where they are perpetrated in counties inaccessible, but is there any earthly excuse for the outrageous slander circulated by the Press and Herald? Blount county is our adjoining county, and is easily reached by rail, and there can be no satisfactory explanation for the disgraceful and malicious outrage our contemporaries its slanders in different shapes throughout the paper, and cites it as proof of the meanness of radicalism. We are of the opinion that this deliberate attempt of the Press and Herald to break down the business and growing good feeling in Blount county, is meaner and more reprehensible than would have been such an outrage as it says was committed. A paper that will circulate such distorted and malicious articles, calculated to injure the whole State, for the sake of gaining a little notoriety or selling a few extra copies of its papers, must be in desperate straits. We think a few such articles ought to atone for ever having joined the Union League; and we guess that if the truth was known, this article was gotten up to divert the attention from the "Startling Developments" we published yesterday morning. It ought to give our cotemporary as high a position in the Ku-Klux as he had in the League.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODD FELLOWS.

On the 1st of July, 1869, there were 3,473 Lodges, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, under the jurisdiction of Grand Lodge of the United States, with a membership of 268,908. For the year then ending the admissions amounted to 51,927.

There are several papers published now in the interest of the Order, among which are the Odd Fellows' Companion, Odd Fellows' Journal, The New Age, Western Odd Fellow, and the Heart and Hand. The last named is a new enterprise, and is a neat little eight-page weekly, which every Odd Fellow should read.

The following statement was made before the National Medical Association, now in session in Washington:

"DISEASE OF ANIMALS. "Dr. Thomas Antinell, of the District of Columbia, read a paper on veterinary colleges, suggesting that attention should be given to the health of domestic animals, as 90,000,000 horses, mules and other animals were sick and dying throughout the land. Referred to the Committee on Publication."

General Bragg, who has had control of the New Orleans Water Works for some years, has been compelled to surrender the office to a gentleman of color. Such is one of the consequences of his failure at Chattanooga. Having lost his water power, the General can take "a little more grape," in the form of the juice thereof, and drink that confusion to his foes which he couldn't give them in '63.

Memorials are sent to Madrid from the Northeastern part of Spain, asking that Espartero may be made King. As he is in his 79th year, his supporters evidently mean to have an old King though of a new race. He is a Manchegan, that is, a native of La Mancha, the home of Don Quixote,—and to make him King would be a most Quixote proceeding.
