Dycus Defeats Bagdad.

Dycus baseball team made history Saturday evening Sept. 30, when they defeated Bagdad by a score of nine to four. Draper twirled for Dycus, while Witcher, another youngster, did the twirling for Bagdad, except one inning, Hudson taking care of that one. J. Hackett hit a home run for Bagdad in the first inning, and J. Wiggins hit one for Dycus with green on the base. Cornwell and Green's fielding featured. While both Draper and Witcher did excellent pitching, with Draper on the winning side.

Exhibits in Fair Must Be Entered Friday.

Managers Report Everything In Readness For Opening.

As this is the last issue of the Sentinel before the fair comes off, we are requested to again mention the fact that all indoor exhibits must be entered by 6 o'clock P. M. Friday, and that the exhibitors—have their exhibits in as early as possible so as not to crowd the entry clerks with work. It will be much better for all, and especially the clerks. From reports coming in from different sections of the county a splendid display of exhibits is assured in every department and that's what it takes to make the fair a success. Come, and bring somebody with you. It will be worth while to you.

Hail and Rain Storm Does Much Damage.

A hard rain, accompanied by hail and wind, visited this section Friday, Sept. 29th. Rain and hail began to fall about 4 o'clock and lasted about 35 minutes. It was the hardest rain of the season, and there was about as much hail as there was rain. The newly graveled streets were terribly washed in places. The storm covered only a small area.

SAW AND PLANING MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Estimated Loss Between $6,000 and $8,000.

The large saw and planing mill belonging to Cassetty Brothers, located on Jennings Creek, two miles above North Springs, was destroyed by fire between ten and eleven o'clock Tuesday night, September 26.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but the owners are of the opinion that it started in a pile of shavings several feet from the furnace. The mill was run late that day and it was after dark when the fireman left the mill. Live coals, unobserved by the fireman, were no doubt left on the outside of the firebox, and later sparks from these ignited the shavings.

Besides the machinery and mill shed, the fire destroyed 40,000 feet of dressed lumber, that had just been finished. The dressed lumber was for a Nashville man, to be used in the erection of a house, and was waiting transportation.

The fire was first discovered by Prof. Ensor, who is rooming with John Cassetty, who lives near the mill. He was awakened by his baby and at first thought the house was on fire. His mistake was soon discovered and Mr. Cassetty aroused from a sound sleep. A general alarm was quickly given to several neighbors over the telephone and in a short time they arrived at the mill. By heroic work they extinguished the fire in the lumber yard, that was just beginning to get under headway. This saved 400,000 feet of ruff lumber.

The mill and lumber are owned by John, Sam and Will Cassetty, of North Springs, and George Graves of Nashville. They do a general lumber business, and had several orders for house patterns to fill when the mill burned.

Preparations are being made to install what new machinery that is needed, and the mill will be in operation again in a short time.

Where Extra Service is Demanded Firestone Cords Predominate

WHEREVER the exacting conditions and tests of tires are most severe—there you will find Firestone Cords in universal use.

The hard jobs seek Firestone. And so well has Firestone responded under difficult conditions—so consistently has mileage mounted to totals impossible to obtain from ordinary tires that today Most Miles per Dollar is the leading slogan of thinking motorists everywhere.

The blending and tempering of rubber, gum-dipped cord construction, air-bag cure—all these mileage methods have been developed by men whose life work is the production of constantly increasing tire values for the public.

Users in this vicinity verify Firestone reputation, and report almost daily some new Firestones record of extra distance travelled.

Don't be satisfied to buy tires—buy values—the longest mileage at the lowest price consistent with such reliable performance.

Make Most Miles per Dollar your principle of tire economy—choose your next tire on that basis.
