Eugene Schiffer, Vice Chancellor Under President Ebert Assumes Reins of Government at 6 O'Clock Last Night, Dispatches Say.

(By United Press.)

LONDON, March 18.—The government of Friedrich Ebert, Imperial President of Germany, will face widespread demands for drastic industrial and governmental reforms upon its return to the seat at Berlin, today's dispatches indicated.

The resignation of the revolutionary group was forced, not so much by pressure from the Ebert group, as by the determination of the radical element that no reactionary government should stand in Germany.

Some dispatches said there was every indication that independent socialists and Spartacists will strive to the United States to obtain a greater representation in the government, demanding the reorganization permitting the participation of their representatives.

SPLIT DEVELOPS AMONG REPUBLICANS

HI JOHNSON DECLARES WOOD USED "STRONG ARM TACTICS" IN MINNESOTA.

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Farmers were virtually "disfranchised" in the Minnesota presidential primary election, Senator Hiram Johnson who was a candidate declared in a statement today.

The primary was the "first strong arm act" of the campaign, Johnson declared. He further declared that the "machine" was in charge of the fight for General Wood, and that the polls were open only an hour in the evening, and bad roads prevented the farmers from going to the polls, Johnson said.

JNO. W. JACKSON TO HEAD G. O. P. IN MAURY COUNTY

FORMER POSTMASTER IS SAID TO BE SLATED FOR CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE.

M. PHINEAS MURPHY SECRETARY

Harmony Prevails and No Opposition to the Election of Either is Anticipated When the Committee Meets to Organize.

When the republican county committee meets a week from next Monday to perfect its organization it is practically certain that John W. Jackson, former postmaster at Columbia and for many years one of the leading republicans of this section will be made chairman. Mr. Jackson's selection, it is said, will be agreeable to all of the leaders. Not only is he popular with the republicans but Mr. Jackson has a large number of democratic friends in the county. He has held office several times during his life and always made a most acceptable official. Mr. Jackson in times past has been one of the factional leaders of the party in this county. He was one of the leading figures in the famous Brownlow-Evans convention of 1900 at Nashville which split the party in two. But there is no longer any factionalism in the party in this county.

That M. Phineas Murphy, prominent farmer and real estate agent, will be secretary of the committee, seems to be also pretty well assured. Until recently Mr. Murphy has been a resident of the fifth district. He is now living in Columbia and can give personal attention to the duties of the office. Mr. Murphy has long been active in politics. Four years ago he made the race for representative on the republican ticket.

WARNING AGAINST PLANTING BAD CORN

MUCH BAD CORN WAS HARVESTED IN MAURY COUNTY AFTER FALL RAINS.

As corn planting time approaches, warning is given that much damaged corn was harvested in Maury county last fall. Farmers are urged to exercise the utmost care in the selection of seed for this year. In the event corn was gathered late, and after it had been left in the fields after the excessive rains of the late fall, it should be tested before being planted, as the percentage of germination in this corn is very low.

Where corn was gathered early, and before the rains, it is not considered necessary to test it. However, the farmer who makes a test is more apt to secure a good stand than the one who does not test. There is still a small quantity of tested seed corn in the county, it being Neal's Paymaster and Boone County White. It is expected that a bumper crop will be planted in this county this season, as the high prices prevailing have encouraged farmers to increase their acreage over that of last season.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE CONDUCT OF GEN. WHITE

SAID THAT INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES OF BAR ASSOCIATION BE MADE SOON.

TO NAME A SPECIAL ATTY. GEN.

Understood That Court Will Appoint Some One to Represent State During the Examination of Witnesses. White Attending to Duties.

It is understood that the grand jury will this week begin an investigation of charges made by the bar association of Columbia against the conduct of Looney B. White, the attorney general of this circuit. It was charged last November, during the former term of the court, that Mr. White's conduct was such as to incapacitate him from the discharge of his duties and necessitated the appointment of a special attorney general. The grand jury was in session at that time, but for some reason the charges were ignored and no action taken. The bar association met later and made formal demand for an investigation. Finally at the beginning of the present term about a month ago Judge Turner called the situation to the attention of the grand jury. Nothing, it is said, has been done so far, except to summon some witnesses. In the meantime the attorney general has been in daily attendance on the court and grand jury and has been "functioning" all the time.

It is said that Judge Turner will appoint a special attorney general to represent the state during the investigation of the charges against the regular attorney general. This appointment has been tendered to one or two members of the local bar but so far no one has accepted.

COL. JNO. B. BOND LAWYER, SOLDIER CALLED BY DEATH

LONG ONE OF THE MOST PROMINENT MEN IN MAURY COUNTY ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS.

IN BAD HEALTH FOR YEARS

Husband of Octavia Zollicoffer Bond, One of the South's Most Brilliant Writers and Lecturers and Daughter of Renowned General.

Col. John B. Bond, for many years one of the most prominent members of the Maury county bar, a brilliant conversationalist, a gentleman of the old school and active in public affairs, died at his home in Mt. Pleasant. The remains were taken to Nashville where they were interred. Services were conducted by the Masons at Mt. Pleasant over the body.

Col. Bond had been confined to his home since last July and had been rapidly failing in health. Up until that time he had kept his law office open in the Phosphate City, although he had not been actively in the practice of his profession for several years. Col. Bond took a lively interest in public affairs, was long prominent in the councils of the democratic party and was for a number of years editor of the Mt. Pleasant paper. He was a strong and able writer.

Col. Bond is survived by his widow, who was Miss Octavia Zollicoffer, daughter of General Felix Zollicoffer, who was killed while wearing the uniform of the Confederate soldier and who before the war was one of the most brilliant statesmen and publicists of the state. Col. Bond's wife is known all over the South, because of her brilliant attainments as a writer and lecturer.

Col. Bond wore the uniform of the Confederacy and was a gallant soldier. He was related to the prominent Bond family of Haywood county. He was a gentleman of the Chesterfield manners. He was extremely courteous, his manners most polished and he endeared himself to a wide circle of friends.

FATE OF CRAIG IN JURY'S HANDS

TWELVE MEN WILL DECIDE WHAT IS TO BE DONE WITH DEFENDANT.

Before circuit court adjourned this evening, the fate of Wallace Craig, who had been on trial since Tuesday, charged with the murder of Constable Nell Primm will be in the hands of the jury. The state completed its rebuttal testimony this morning and arguments begun immediately after noon. Judge Sam Holding opened for the state. He was followed by Judge W. C. Salmon. An hour and three-quarters was allowed each side, and at 2:30 o'clock Judge Salmon was still speaking. For the state Attorney General Looney B. White and former Attorney General Job B. Garner will speak, and for the defense L. Z. Turpin and J. C. Voorhies.

The case has been contested from start to finish, attorneys fighting for advantage on every point. There is considerable speculation as to what will be the result of the jury's decision. Judge Salmon in his speech said he would not ask the jury to turn Craig out upon society—that he should be confined in some suitable institution. The insanity plea apparently has been sustained by expert testimony introduced by the defense in an effort to save Craig from the electric chair.

COUNTY SOON TO PAY LAST OF ITS FLOATING DEBTS

WILL BE WIPED OUT BEFORE THE NEXT SESSION OF THE QUARTERLY COURT.

BRIDGE WARRANTS ALSO PAID

Have Been Running Ever Since the Bridges Were Repaired After the Great Flood of Eighteen Years Ago. Splendid Condition of Finances.

When the county court meets in quarterly session in April it will for the first time in many years be greeted with the statement that Maury county is free from floating debts. The county has about $15,000 of floating debts that will mature early in April, just before the meeting of the quarterly court. Judge Whitthorne in his last quarterly report expressed the hope that this debt could be retired before the court met again. His prediction is going to be verified for there is already sufficient funds with which to retire these debts when due.

It may be that before the taxes for another year are paid a small sum will have to be borrowed to keep the county's credit at par, but that is doubtful. Judge Whitthorne hopes to be able to get through the year on the balance that will be left after the retirement of the floating debts.

In addition to the payment of the floating debt, the last of the old bridge warrants, upon which as much interest has been paid as the face of the warrants, have been paid and retired. These warrants were issued away back just after the flood of 1902 to replace bridges that were damaged in that time of raging waters. The county's financial statement will be a source of gratification to every taxpayer.

AMOS SANDERS CONSTRUCTING HIGH POWER VOLTAGE LINES FROM RIVERSBURG.

ARE INSTALLING LARGE DYNAMO

Ed Cheatham, of Pulaski, Doing Construction Work—Frakes Bros., of Columbia Interested—Also a Big Building Boom.

Special to The Herald.

LYNNVILLE, Tenn., March 18.—There seems to be a general boom on in and around this little city. Several new residences have been erected within the past few months, and now a block of four storehouses is being erected on College street by J. M. Bray, adjoining the new Lynnville Motor Company garage.

It is understood that all of these stores have been spoken for and will be occupied just as soon as they are completed.

Amos Sanders, operator and owner of the Sanders Milling Co. on Big Creek, just north of Riversburg, is building a line of heavy voltage cable from his plant to Lynnville and will soon have installed a large dynamo from which will be supplied sufficient quantity of current to light the city of Lynnville, all of the business houses and residences along the route from the plant to Lynnville by way of Campbellsville.

Mr. Sanders has already closed a contract with the city fathers of Lynnville for the lighting of the principal streets and the downtown district, and a number of the business firms have closed contracts for the lighting of their stores, and quite a number of residences will also have electric lights installed.

A number of the stores are already lighted by electricity by the use of independent lighting systems, generating their electricity with power furnished by gasoline engines.

The construction work of the plant and lines is being done by Ed Cheatham, of Pulaski, former superintendent of the electric plant of Pulaski. Frakes Brothers, of Columbia, are also interested in the movement to a certain extent, and are furnishing a great deal of the material.

PUNCH WHEELER IS HERE ARRANGING FOR COMING OF ANOTHER CARNIVAL COMPANY.

H. E. "Punch" Wheeler, oldest man, in point of service, in the game, advance agent for the Reuben & Cherry Carnival Company, which will exhibit here next week, was in Columbia today putting everything in "apple pie" order for the coming of the show, arranging for advertising, lots, licenses and a hundred and one other things.

Mr. Wheeler's first trip to Columbia was in 1874, or forty-six years ago. Since that time Columbia has grown from a village to one of the most progressive little cities in Middle Tennessee, business has expanded in every direction, and were it not for a few of the "oldtimers" like "Daddy" Hendley, "Punch" would feel that he was in an unknown sector. Despite his years of toil, "Punch" still has the old time punch in his advertising matter, for many years ago he learned that it pays to advertise, and it pays to make the advertising snappy.
