MAY WANTS

From the Drugstore!

Insect Powder. Just got in a fresh lot of the bug-killing kind. Costs us good money, but it's good. Put up in 10c sprinkle-top boxes and in bulk. The insect powder gun is also a necessary implement for war on bugs. Sells for 10c. Fly Paper—Sticky Tanglefoot—two double sheets for 5c. Peace at a low price.

Toilet Soap. Just got in another hundred pounds of our white soap. It's soap loveliness, sure. Sells for 25c a pound, money wasted on fancy box, fancy wrappers, &c. Try a cake. Costs 10c. If you are not pleased with it we'll give your dime back.

Perfume. Got some new odors in the other day. New Century is catching on fast. It's a fine odor, worth its price. Lasting, too. Apt to be over perfumed if you use too much.

Tooth Brushes. Our 25c brushes are guaranteed. If the bristles come out inside of two months, you'll get another for the asking.

Sachet Powder. We have three odors of Palmer's new granulated Sachet Powders. They are the finest goods we ever sold. For sunburn and tan, try Almond Balm Cream, 25c. Talcum Powder and other toilet powders come in good use now. Think of it, good talcum powder as is made for 25c per pound.

Chills and Fever, are already quite prevalent. Rudy's Chill Tonic seldom fails. You are insured against the loss of your money if it does fail. We have sold hundreds of bottles and if we could have a remedy for every disease that would do its work like Rudy's Tonic does for chills, we would be on easy street in a few years.

For Billiousness. We have a new pill that acts very nicely and effectively. Don't make you sick at the stomach as some liver remedies do. Sell for 25c a box. They are called Thompson's Liver Pills, and are taken through the day, one every two, three or four hours.

For Diarrhoea, colic, cramps, &c. Try our colic and diarrhoea cordial sometime for these troubles. You will not be disappointed in its results. Sells for 25c a bottle. Money back if it fails.

Prescriptions. Bring us your prescriptions. Only the best goes with us, and we always try to be reasonable in our charges. Ask your doctor whether we are not competent to put them up right.

DALLAS HILL.

Taking Its Name From a Revolutionary Soldier Buried Near Union City.

Following from the Union City correspondent of the Nashville Banner is a sketch of Dallas Hill, which took its name from an old revolutionary soldier who fought with Washington and LaFayette:

From the second story of the court house, looking west, Dallas Hill, five miles away, can be plainly seen, and from the top of this eminence one can see all of Union City, and all of the country three miles east of it, as far as Paducah Junction. While nearly everyone in this section knows of Dallas Hill, but few know anything of the man from whom it takes its name—Joshua Dallas, an old revolutionary soldier who owned the land on which the hill is located, and whose house rests but a few hundred yards away. Joshua Dallas was born near Richmond, Va. His father, who was bravely fighting with the American forces became incapacitated for duty, and Joshua, who was but 17 years of age, took his father's place, joining the revolutionary army at Norfolk, Va., and fought valiantly until the close of the war, eighteen months later. After the close of the war he moved to Franklin County, Tenn., then to Lincoln County, and then moved to this county, about 1830. He was the father of fifteen children all of whom are now dead. He had one son who moved to St. Clair County, Mo., who was the father of eighteen boys and three girls. Mrs. Dallas died about eight years after coming to this county and her remains were interred in a private graveyard on the farm. In 1848 Mr. Dallas passed away and was laid by her side. There were some fifteen people buried in this cemetery, but when Beech Church, a half mile away, was organized, and a burying ground attached, the people ceased to inter their dead in the Dallas cemetery, preferring to bury their loved ones in the churchyard.

The Dallas burying ground is in a state of dilapidation and decay. A wagon road runs through it, the grave of the old revolutionary soldier is unmarked, and in a few more years there will be no one to point out the spot where sleeps one who fought with Washington and LaFayette. Joshua Dallas and one of his sons were in the war of 1812, and fought Pakenham at New Orleans. One of Obion County's most highly respected citizen is James Dickey, of near Rives, who is a grandson of Joshua Dallas. Mr. Dickey, who was 76 years of age, the 20th of last September was born in Franklin County, Tenn., and moved to this county 55 years ago. The 20th of next September he will have been married fifty years. His wife is still living, and no couple in the county have more friends than they. Mr. Dickey says he has often heard his grandfather speak of being with Washington, LaFayette and in Indian War with Davy Crockett, and supposed to have been in the Creek war.

Another revolutionary soldier, named Parker, sleeps in a lone grave on the Lake Bluff. Judge W. H. Caldwell says that Parker died about forty years ago, and that the family were early settlers here, being here when he came here in 1832.

A smooth-faced dude entered a barber shop and asked to be shaved. After carefully covering his face with lather the tonsorial artist sat down and began to pursue a paper.

"I say, barba," queried his duds, "what are you aw—waiting for?"

"For your beard to grow, so I can shave you," replied the heartless knight of the razor.—Chicago News.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Well, the Hanna boom has been raised, and the Hanna boom for the Republican nomination for President in 1904 is on the road. It will strike many as having been fittingly started in London, from whence Hanna's two administrations as brevet-President has been so strongly endorsed. Senator Hanna was in Washington when Perry Heath's London interview launching the boom was published.

He denies being a candidate for President, but he does it so jovially that everybody can see that he is tickled almost to death with the idea. No one who knows the relations between Perry Heath and Hanna and between Hanna and Mr. McKinley will believe that the Heath interview was a surprise to either of the other two men, and there is little doubt that the full power of the Administration, through the army of Federal office holders, will be exercised to push the Hanna boom along and make his nomination possible, unless the Republican press attacks it so viciously that its impracticability will be plain. That is what the Democrats fear. No Democrat can be found since the boom started who does not sincerely hope that Hanna will get the nomination. Democrats wish him to get it, not only because they think he would be easy to beat, but because they enjoy beating him more than any other man that could possibly be nominated. The Heath interview is in reality a feeler of the Republican pulse, especially of the editorial pulse. So that it depends on how it is received by the Republican editors whether the Hanna boom will be withdrawn or pushed.

Representative Latimer, of South Carolina, who is a candidate to succeed Senator McLaurin, is in Washington on business. Speaking of South Carolina politics, he said: "John McLaurin has been speaking in the State in favor of Republican policies, and it has been suggested that I answer him. However, I do not believe in rushing into a campaign that is eighteen months off, and I shall choose my own time to say what I have to say." Of Gen. Wade Hampton's refusal of the offer of the post-mastership of Columbia, Mr. Latimer said: "I have no doubt the offer was made in the hope of securing the influence of that grand old warrior in favor of Senator McLaurin's plans, and he has shown that his influence is not to be secured in that fashion. There isn't money enough in the world to buy Gen. Hampton."

Trade has not to a satisfactory extent, followed our flag into the Philippines, if boots and shoes may be considered fairly representative of other articles of commerce. Although it is a fact generally admitted, both at home and abroad, that American shoes are the best and cheapest in the world, an official statement from the War Department shows that both Spain and Germany sold many more boots and shoes in the Philippines last year than the United States—the exact figures being Spain, $74,183; Germany, $50,241, the United States, $7,832. Mr. McKinley's contention is that we took and intend to keep the Philippines solely for commercial reasons. In view of the tremendous amount of cash we have put and are putting into the Philippines it would seem that our trade ought to make a better showing than it does in boots and shoes to leave Mr. McKinley's contention any standing at all.

The statement has been very positively made in Washington this week by those who are believed to speak for the Administration that Minister Conger will not be allowed to return to China, and that his resignation will be accepted at the expiration of his present leave of absence. It is said that the Administration regards his public interviews on matters pertaining to China and the articles published over his signature as decidedly undiplomatic, and that he no longer has the support of the Administration in his effort to get the Republican nomination for Governor of Iowa. Men who have been disposed to be friendly to Conger are thoroughly disgusted with his throwing boquets at the Chinese Minister to the United States, who did more than any other man to discredit Conger's reports from Peking in the early days of the Chinese negotiations.

Gen. Chaffee, another Administration pet, has shown how unafraid he is for the command of the American Army in the Philippines, to which he will succeed as soon as he arrives at Manila, by making the worst sort of a break on the eve of his departure from China—a break that adds to the enmity already too plainly shown toward Americans by all the powers in China except the English. It was at an entertainment given by the English officers, and doubtless Chaffee had looked upon the wine when it was red, but that was no excuse for him. He was sent to China on a purely military errand, and yet he made a speech in which he used the following language: "Let kings, ministers and politicians say what they may, but I can tell you this, that never will you see Americans and Britishers facing each other in the field. Our national policy may be to steer clear of international complications, but should circumstances arise in which we must make a choice our inclination will be with the Britishers." Language like that, used by the commander of the American troops in China, was an uncalculated insult to every power over there except the English, and Chaffee deserves to be court-martialed for it. But no official notice has been taken of it by this Government, and none is likely, unless it be forced by the insulted powers.

IN THE FOURTEENTH CIRCUIT.

Candidates for the New Judge and Attorney-Generals.

The act of the Legislature of 1899 redistricting the State takes effect for the general election in August, 1902. This act changes the Twelfth Judicial Circuit heretofore composed of the counties of Obion, Lake, Weakley, and Henry, and makes it the fourteenth Judicial Circuit, composed of the counties, Obion, Lake, Dyer, Lauderdale, Tipton, Fayette and Weakley, leaving the present Attorney-General J. W. Lewis, of the circuit. For the new Fourteenth Judicial Circuit there will be a judge and attorney-general elected. So far Obion has no candidate for judge, it being understood that the present Circuit Judge W. H. Swiggart will not make the race, but this county will have a candidate for the attorney-generalship in the person of D. J. Caldwell. It is understood that the veteran Judge Flippen, of Somerville will be in the race for the judgeship of the new judicial circuit.

Wanted to Be Sure.

An old woman of undeniable Celtic origin entered a provincial savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk, says the London King.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Naw oi don't. Oi wants to put some in," was the reply.

The clerk pushed up the book for her signature, and indicating the place, said:

"Sign on this line, please."

"Above it or below it?"

"Just above it."

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Oi was married?"

"No, just as it is now."

"Oi can't write."

Greening (shopping with his wife) "Here is something that will make you a nice dress."

Mrs. Greening—"Oh, nobody is wearing that this season."

Greening—"Well, what's the matter with this piece?"

Mrs. Greening—"Oh, that's too common. Everybody is wearing it."—Chicago News.
