Candidate for Mayor.

This week we announce as a candidate for Mayor of Union City J. C. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds enters the race at the solicitation of a number of friends, who believe that he is a suitable man for the position, with the idea in view that he would make a Mayor in fact as well as in name, that he is thoroughly qualified, suitable in every respect, not only for the duties of the office, its requirements, exactions, but that he is a man who would fill it with honor, with discretion, with tact and ability. It is furthermore believed that Mr. Reynolds would uphold and enforce the municipal laws, especially those relating to the violation of the Prohibition statutes, and every other infraction against the p[eace] and dignity of the city. In additi[on] this it is the belief that one of the mo[st] essential qualifications of the Mayor is his activity, [his] sense of duty, and hi[s] ambition [to] [pro]mote the [educa]. Celebrate With Us.

The Fourth of July is drawing near with its glorious traditions and its great national holiday features and attractions. It is the natal day of American Independence, the milestone in the history of the great American Republic. It is a day of joy and feasting, a day of recreation and pleasure, a day recognized as the greatest of all our national holidays.

This is the Fourth, and this is the day that Union City has observed for years with such signal success; this is the day that Union City spreads wide its doors, that she dresses in her best and holds a public reception to thousands of annual visitors; a day which has never been equaled in magnificence and the spirit of cordiality by even cities of greater importance.

The Fourth will be celebrated in Union City on Saturday, July 3, with an extensive program, to be seen in another column, including a great baseball contest for championship between Fulton and Union City. Many other elaborate and extensive features are offered, and everybody is invited to be with us and help us celebrate on that day. Come and celebrate with us, enjoy our amusements and hospitality. You are welcome.

Not Politics.

Union City is in the grip of the base ball fans. We have baseball for breakfast, baseball for lunch and baseball for dinner. All subjects are seasoned with baseball and conversations teem with it. There is no society without baseball, no courtship without the game. Elks dote on the game; even Odd Fellows like it. Of course the preacher cannot indorse baseball, but it is necessary for him to call on a parishioner near the park. The stewards and the deacons are there, all who are not complaining, and the superintendent peeps in as he goes by. There is baseball in the air, baseball in "Fan-taz."

The clubs discuss [Fri]day [af]ternoon and rook are played b[y] all[-]day game, and refreshment[s] pigskins. It is the [fe]ast Epworth.)! "Casey at t[he] [fr]ied Blucher with it. keep all cards and letters from everyone that writes me. Now boys, if you are not a subscriber to THE COMMERCIAL send in your names and take the paper for six months, at least it will take six months to get you started in our contest. Be sure you tell all the boys and and girls that haven't the paper to subscribe at once, for business is going to pick up with us children in the next six months. When you read THE COMMERCIAL you are reading a clean sheet. Its editors and managers are nice, good men and you will find good reading in their paper. Read every paper and look for a letter from your old friend. Remember I am chatting with the children of three counties and [I] only answering through three pa[pers]. Remember age wi[ll] [be] [no] consider[ation]. Every small boy may win the [prize]. The judges will be in each county b[y] best men of your county, I won't [be] judge, but your own friends will be the judge. I will ask you some questions later and will tell you more of my intention. Some parents may think that this is not a good scheme, and may think that it will cost too much. I will say, every time your boy or girl spends [cents] writing a letter in answ[er] [to] [my] [let]ter it will be well spent. [Every] [boy] [and] [girl] all a chance. Now [who] [will] [be] [the] [first] to? but that i[s] [no] [ob]ject, [for] [sub]scribers [to] the near[est] [date] [will] [be] [given] [the] [same] [prize] [as] [the] [first] [to] [the] [end] [of] [the] [contest].
