Burglars.

Thieves sneaked all over this section Wednesday and managed to get in a very busy afternoon. While citizens were in the city the prowlers worked. The homes of George Joyner, A. Harris, Ed McAlister, Joe Carter and Sam Wade were visited and all the jewelry and money appropriated. They escaped and left no clue. The Dyersburg dogs were brought in, took the trails and followed them to the passenger station here and there the search ended.

The home of Dr. E. M. Long on Third street was entered Wednesday night and $2.50 in change carried away.

But our officers are good ones and they will get a clue and they will get the thieves and the aforesaid thieves will get—well, the hemp patch is planted.

I have made arrangements with the grocers for your Maryland Oysters.—Kirkland.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL WED MRS. GALT IN DECEMBER

Bride-to-Be is Widow of a Washington Jeweler.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Woodrow Wilson, the President of the United States, announced to-night his engagement to Mrs. Norman R. Galt, of Washington. The date of the wedding has not been fixed, but it probably will take place in December at the home of the bride-elect.

The brief announcement from the White House made by Secretary Tammuly came as a surprise to official Washington, but to a number of intimate friends it long had been expected. From this circle came to-night the story of a friendship whose culmination was viewed as a happy turn in the troubled and lonely life of the nation's chief executive.

It was Miss Margaret Wilson and her cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, who drew Mrs. Galt into the White House circle. They met her in the early autumn of last year and were so much attracted by her that they sought her out more and more frequently. Mrs. Galt spent a month this summer at Cornish as a guest of the President's eldest daughter.

It was thru the intimacy of his daughter and cousin with Mrs. Galt that the President had an opportunity to meet and know her. One of the most interesting facts about the engagement, indeed, as told by friends, is that the President's daughters chose Mrs. Galt for their admiration and friendship before their father did.
