Only a limited number of shares are available at 10c, and those who are putting off until to-morrow the purchasing of shares in the Reliable Reelfoot Lake Oil Co., Inc., are likely to miss the golden opportunity of their lifetime.

OTHERS ARE BUYING SHARES, WHY DO YOU WAIT?

The Pennsylvania company have gotten oil in the first and second sands and are now approaching the third sand, where it is expected that a BIG GUSHER will be brought in. If you wait until this well comes in you will have slept too long and missed the chance to buy shares in this company at 10c—the chance of a lifetime. With extremely large holdings and a capitalization of only $50,000.00, if the Famous Reelfoot District proves as productive as geologists and oil experts anticipate, our shareholders are assured of an immense profit on their stock. Stock is subject to advance at any time, or withdrawal from the market without notice. This will very likely be our last appeal to the public, as our entire issue will all SURELY BE SUBSCRIBED and the contract let for well No. 1 within a few days.

Tribute to Mrs. Jane Dickey.

Recent illness prevented us sending the following notes in memory of our dear friend, "Aunt Jane Dickey," as we and others called her. Our sad heart, with many others, is bowed with grief. Instead of a costly wreath of flowers, we lay this tribute upon the precious memory of this dear good woman. The pleasant association of more than sixty years present to our recollection her pleasant and affable ways to everyone she met. We feel that her generous ways, kinds words and pleasant smiles will ever live as a sweet immortal in our brightest wreath of memory. If she had any faults they were virtues overgrown. She was, as many readers of this remember, the second daughter of Jacob and Rebecca Foulks, pioneer settlers in the community of Pleasant Hill. Early in life she was trained to strict habits of industry, which gave her much pleasure and helped her to accomplish much in life. Neatness and industry were her most charming characteristics. She attended school in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill. From a little girl she grew to womanhood, as happy and cheerful as the birds that sang their morning songs in the lovely shade trees that surrounded her father's pleasant home. She married the man of her choice, Mr. James Bly, thrift, economy and industry. They raised a family of seven children to be grown. To the orphan girl, whom she gave shelter, food and clothing, she gave the same measure of care and sympathy as she gave her own children.

It was a priceless privilege to have witnessed and known such a Christian faith as was hers. In the most real and definite sense, her Saviour was her friend, her companion and her confidant. Without murmuring she bore the stress of affliction, being soothed and comforted by her dutiful daughters. God was indeed merciful when he called her home—called her gentle spirit from where she suffered and endured pain for many months with wonderful fortitude. Her beautiful life wrapped in the sunshine of His love was a living example of Christlike patience, kindness and sympathy; a benediction to all who had the pleasure of knowing her and calling her friend.

To her grief-stricken children, friends and loved ones sympathy is extended to you from every life she touched and only those who have passed under the rod can know and sympathize. She was an ideal wife, a perfect home maker. Our hearts go out to those whom she loved best, and in the days to come, as in the days gone by, may we look to God as she did, so that when we, too, cross over the river our lives will shine as stars by night to deck life's desert drear with spots of paradise.

In conclusion, we say that if all who loved her were to plant a flower on her grave she would forever rest under a wilderness of beautiful flowers. If she could speak back to us this evening and whisper and say

"don't grieve for me, friends dear and children sweet, we will meet 'ere long at Jesus' feet."
MRS. W. S. Long.

CRYSTAL.

Did you ever see finer weather? The farmers are all busy. One good thing, you never hear politics discussed.

Jim Rice has moved from near Woodland to the Walter McDaniel farm.

Alton Maupin, a progressive Luke Lea farmer, carried off a fine load of hogs Monday.

Joe Vaught and Frank Powell have secured the contract to build a bungalow for Uncle Bob Adams.

About a quarter of a mile from where I am writing this, over in District Number Two, the contractors are building a fifteen-foot concrete bridge over a little branch that I can step across. I suppose that is what you would call "frenzied finance."

Doris Roberts went out to Woodland Monday and brought back a load of negroes to pick peas. A negro can pick but he generally picks a banjo or a chicken.

The protracted meeting at Antioch has been postponed until the first Sunday in November.

Charley Jones and family spent several days in Kentucky last week visiting relatives and also attended a dinner given in honor of his brother, Sam Jones, fiftieth birthday.

Rev. N. M. Stigler preached at Mount Olive the fourth Sunday. Rev. Stigler is a graduate of Hall-Moody and principal of Bradford High School, and is a fine young preacher.

Sam Hampton has a new Ford and he is proceeding to burn up the pikes that lead from "heavenly" Crystal to all noted points.

Uncle Dave Cummings tells us that Brother Charley Goff, who had been making sorghum molasses for several days in the same suit of clothes, took a chew of tobacco, crossed his legs and stuck. He was found about night but, could not move. The children proceeded to heat water and unglued him. The last account his condition was normal.

A valuable dressing for flesh wounds, burns, scalds, old sores, rash, chafed skin, is BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It is both healing and anti-septic. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Oliver's Red Cross Drug Store.—Adv.

STATE W. C. T. C. IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Martin, Tenn., Oct. 4.—After electing Mrs. Mary P. Bang president, and the selection of Nashville as the next meeting place, the State convention of the W. C. T. U. adjourned to-night. The decision to meet in Nashville was reached after invitations from Mayor Ewing and the secretary of the Nashville Commercial Club had been read to the assembly.

The night session of the convention was opened by singing "America."

Ex-Governor Patterson was scheduled to speak at 7 o'clock to-night, but delayed the beginning of his address until 8:30 o'clock.

When the delegates gathered to-night Rev. H. B. Terry offered the opening prayer. A musical program was carried out, the participants being W. N. Estes, Otis Parish and E. M. Bartlett.

Representatives of the various unions told of gains made during the year.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Mrs. Mary P. Bang, president, Nashville; Mrs. Lillie A. Welch, vice-president, Sparta; Mrs. Estelle M. Knox, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Minnie K. Gilbert, recording secretary, Huntingdon; Mrs. Elizabeth D. Collins, treasurer.

GO TO THE RESCUE.

DON'T WAIT 'TILL IT'S TOO LATE—FOLLOW THE EXAMPLE OF A UNION CITY CITIZEN.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble may come.

Often it indicates kidney weakness. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, Look out for urinary disorders. This Union City citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.

Mrs. T. B. Reeves, 102 West Lee street, Union City, says: "About two years ago I began to notice symptoms of kidney complaint. First my back ached so badly that I couldn't stoop, and the pain seemed to be more severe in my left side. I often saw dark objects before my eyes. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and was well pleased with the results. My back stopped aching and the kidney disorders disappeared."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Reeves had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

David Gray Byrn.

Last Sunday night at 11 o'clock D. G. Byrn breathed his last and Obion County lost one of her best, her oldest and most highly respected citizens.

The subject of this sketch was born in Dickson County, Tennessee, May 30, 1832, being 83 years, 4 months and 5 days old at the time of his death. In 1862 he was married to Miss Francis Gorin. At the beginning of the war between the States he joined the Confederate forces and was a brave and good soldier, as fearless as ever took up arms in defense of his country. He was a member of Forrest's Cavalry, was captured at Fort Donaldson and placed in prison at Rock Island where he remained for seventeen months.

In 1870 Mr. and Mrs. Byrn moved to Obion County, where Mrs. Byrn died some years ago. When quite a young boy he became a Christian and joined the Methodist Church South and lived a good, clean life and enjoyed the esteem and respect and good will of all his neighbors and acquaintances. He was quiet and unassuming, but liberal and charitable and broad in his views—an ideal citizen always. He belonged to the Masonic lodge. He leaves five children, all grown, two sons and three daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Latimer, of Waukesha, Wis., Miss Sallie Byrn and Samuel Byrn, of this county, William Byrn, of Bellevue, Montgomery Byrn, of Thurman, Ark.

The funeral was conducted at the home at Pleasant Valley Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. H. A. Butts and the remains interred at the City Cemetery in presence of a large number of friends and neighbors.

Peace to his ashes.

Medicine or Food.

You have bought the bulky stock food and given to your stock as a medicine. Why not buy only the medicine and furnish your own food? The medicine will be much more certain. In fact, B. A. Thomas' Stock Remedy is so certain to give the right results that we sell it on the money back plan. If it doesn't straighten up your horse or cow or sheep, we give your money back. For sale by Frank C. Wehman.—Adv.

Cattle Raising in the South.

Planters in the South, who only recently have gotten away from the ancient idea that only cotton and cane could be raised in the sandy soil, are now branching out into the cattle-raising industry. Planters, fearing the inroads of the boll weevil and the uncertainty of the cotton market, have started out to secure the type of steer which will be hardy enough to thrive on the herbage of Mississippi and Georgia and at the same time prove marketable in competition with the products of Texas and other cattleraising States.

Many of the planters have tried buying yearlings in Texas and paying high prices for them. With the added cost of freight and foodstuff thru the winter little profit has been left for the experimenters. Those who have gone in for breeding their own cattle in the hope of getting a product which will prove profitable have tried importing their cows and bulls. The offsprings failed to prove good enough "rustlers" to thrive on the scant herbage.

One planter in Southern Georgia believes that he has secured the solution for the Southerners. He crossed the strains of the Shorthorn bull with that of the native cow. The offspring inherited from the mother the "rustling" qualities and from the sire size and sightliness. If this plan proves successful thousands of acres of soil which has never been tilled may be utilized for pasture.

The Georgian who secured this cross of Shorthorn with the native cow worked along the old plan whereby the hog-raisers many years ago crossed the noted Thirind with other strains until the product had nothing left of the Thirind except his habits. Using this example, it may be possible for the planters in the South to produce a steer which will thrive on the native herbage and at the same time be raised more cheaply than in other States.

Since it has been found that good crops of corn can be raised in the sandy soil many silos are being built in Northern Mississippi. With good ensilage and a type of steer which is a "rustler" there are no reasons why the South should not forge toward the front in the cattle-raising industry.—Courier-Journal.

Soldiers at Memphis.

Obion County Confederate soldiers returned from Hornbeak, where the county reunion was held, and left Monday and Tuesday for Memphis where the State reunion was held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Revival at Pleasant Valley.

Rev. H. A. Butts, the popular pastor, is conducting a series of revival meetings at the Pleasant Valley M. E. Church this week. He is a strong preacher and is delivering some splendid sermons. Prof. Thompson, a young musician from Water Valley, Ky., has charge of the choir and is furnishing good music. All are invited to attend.

Webb Speaks for Lea.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 3.—Senator W. R. Webb will speak in Franklin to-morrow afternoon in behalf of Senator Lea's candidacy for re-election to the United States Senate. He was invited to Williamson County by a number of prominent citizens of that county.

Notice of Sale.

On Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1915, I will offer for sale to the highest and best bidder my farm of 20 acres, well improved, good house and barn, plenty fruit, running water in the driest weather. Located five miles west of Union City, half mile south of Sander's Chapel M. E. Church, half mile north of Beech C. P. Church and school, on mail route No. 2. In connection with this I will offer the crop and pasture on the farm that I have recently sold. The crop consists of 40 acres corn and peas, 40 acres clover and grass. Will afford good pasture till the first of January, 1916.

Also will sell pair work mules, two one-year-old mules, one three-year-old horse, farming implements, two wagons as good as new, one one-horse surry and other things too numerous to mention.

Sale will be held at my home place, five miles west of Union City, in the Tenth Civil District. Sale will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. Barbecued meat and coffee served on the ground. To those who are interested, I would take pleasure in showing you any time from now till day of sale. Must sell to take care of my health and get moved before bad weather.

Respectfully,
A. B. LONDON.
