KELLY SPEAKS OF JUVENILE COURTS

Judge Kelly's Generous Reception by Union City Audiences.

Judge Camillo Kelly, Judge of the Juvenile Court, Memphis, Tenn., was the guest of the Christian Endeavor societies of the C. P. and Christian churches, giving three very interesting addresses.

Judge Kelly is one of the few women judges in the country, and her court is known all over the United States for its wonderful work. This is due to the fact that Judge Kelly herself, the mother of three children, has enlarged the walls of her own home to embrace those whose home life has not been what it should be, trying with her big mother-heart to change the tendency from evil to good, and if possible relieve the conditions that have led to their wrong doing. She would not punish the children but their parents who have caused them to violate the law.

Judge Kelly spoke to a large audience at Jimmie's Playhouse. She drew from the pages of her daily life forceful illustrations to show the whole fault was adult and juvenile delinquency. She described the various kinds of mothers and advised more home life, particularly the old family circle, and that the Christian people should throw out their arms and save the children before they reach the juvenile court. She pictured the Christian people as the "House by the Side of the Road" and the juvenile court as an "Ambulance in the Valley" that picks them up after they are all broken and twisted, often beyond repair.

She begged that every individual should throw out the helping hand to those who are weak and help them get out right. She said that no one is like the inexperienced, careful and uncertain, the one who is in by some copywriter would give them the water and the light to the best.

Judge Kelly concluded looking toward civic improvement forming an organization to provide some form of home to save the children from the normal child from the those who can not use their hands. She urged that correction not be negative, that it be by things to do and elsewhere—fully planned recreation. She stated and fact that only one of the regular fund already provided for.

Ordered that the ladies rest room be furnished in a suitable manner for the use of the ladies attending court and that Miss Nell Marshall be appointed to act with the jail commissioners in securing suitable furniture.

assurance that they would all meet again. I thank God for such men as he, men who love home, men who love God and His people, men who fear nothing like they fear doing wrong, men whose highest ideals are that their families may be useful as citizens and consecrated as servants of God.

Brother Pruett was an unassuming man. He cared little for style and popularity. He loved honest, upright, consistency and stability. He was looking for a city whose builder and maker is God.

The funeral service was conducted by the writer and a large number of friends were present. May the Lord bless, help, comfort and protect the loved ones in my prayer.

OBION QUARTERLY COURT JANUARY TERM THIS WEEK

Court Makes Provision to Determine Character of Highway.

The County Court convened last Monday in the first quarterly term of 1922, with proceedings embracing annual reports for the year by the various departments of the county. Among these were the reports of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction, County Health Officer, County Farm Commissioners, all more or less complete in detail and accepted and approved by the court.

When the court opened the question of making provision for the selling of $150,000 of county bonds for the Federal Highway, contract for which is to be made and road from Union City to Troy to be built as soon as practicable. This was disposed of by appointing a committee to determine between three kinds of character of public roads now under construction by the State Highway Department. This committee is to visit the various points where road work is being done and investigate the matter and report at a special called session of the court within thirty days and the matter then finally settled.

Motion was made by Esq. H. Foreman that a committee of five be appointed to investigate and report at a called session of the County Court as to the kind or character of road to be built in Obion County by the State Highway Commission, said report to be made within thirty days. Said motion prevailed and the committee is as follows: H. Foreman, S. R. Bratton, C. M. Montgomery, Alwyn Bravard, W. M. McNeill.

Ordered by the court that the sum of $18,000 be set aside out of the general purpose fund of the county to be used by the highway department for the year 1922 in addition to the regular road fund already provided for.

Ordered that the ladies rest room be furnished in a suitable manner for the use of the ladies attending court and that Miss Nell Marshall be appointed to act with the jail commissioners in securing suitable furniture.

JAMES D. PORTER CALLED SUDDENLY

Heart Failure Follows Sudden Attack of Pneumonia.

James D. Porter, 47, secretary-treasurer of B. H. Stief Jewelry Company, died in Union City Friday morning, Dec. 30, 1921, at 6 o'clock. He had removed one of Nashville's citizens and business men.

His wife, he was visiting in the home of Mrs. Porter's parents, Mrs. W. H. Swiggart, in Nashville, having gone there for a few days. It is stated that he was ill when he left Nashville on Thursday morning. He developed pneumonia Thursday afternoon. He died of heart failure.

Mr. Porter had been secretary-treasurer of the Stief Company for eight years, and was in the employ of the firm altogether for fifteen years. He came here from Union City, where he was engaged in the jewelry business for a long period. He was reared in Springfield.

While in Union City, Mr. Porter married Miss Lulu Swiggart, daughter of Judge W. H. Swiggart. In Nashville he was well known socially in a business way. He took particular interest in religious matters and was a steward in the West End Methodist Church. His home here was located at 3518 Central avenue. He was considered a man of high intelligence, of unusual business acumen and of distinct ability.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Porter is survived by one son, William Swiggart Porter, 9 years old; three sisters, Mrs. A. C. Powell and Mrs. Jeremiah, of Springfield, and Mrs. Annie Castleberry, of Cincinnati; one brother, John W. Porter, of Springfield. Another brother, Arch Porter, is dead.

In Nashville he has a few more distant relatives, among them being Boyd Woodard, a cousin, W. H. Swiggart, Jr., assistant attorney-general of the State, is a brother-in-law and Congressman Joseph W. Byrns is a cousin by marriage.—Nashville Tennessean.

A short prayer service was held at the home of Judge Swiggart and the body was shipped from Union City Saturday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Porter, Judge and Mrs. Swiggart, G. W. H. Swiggart, Jr., and friends for Springfield, Tenn., there to be buried in the old Porter home place, occupied by Mr. Porter's sister, Mrs. A. C. Powell. Services were held Sunday afternoon.

Christmas at Crittendon Grove.

On the 27th day of December the Christian Endeavor Society of Crittendon Grove gave a delightful Christmas program consisting of songs, drills, readings and a play.

Each member of the society participated in the program with unusual talent and ability. The play was "Hannah" and the leading part was played by Lurline Bullington as "Hannah" and Glenn Penn as "David". "Hannah" and "David" deserve special mention, while Hubert Boyte as "Boaz" was "colored ladies" were highly funny. Miss Olga H. was one of her always appreciated.

Assisted by the Rives Union Society this society was organized with eleven active members. The number of members has increased that number to forty. Quite a number of honorary members. Much of this success is due to the untiring efforts of the members, Miss Cecile Olive, and the interesting meetings arranged by the meeting committee.

Cumbert Junior Party.

The C. E. Society of the Cumbert Church has just closed an interesting contest for attendance, ending Friday, December 25, the losing party giving the winners a party at Christmas week. The contest was a highly planned affair, and the winners of Virginia Howard, G. W. H. Swiggart, etc., made the subject.

There was a beautiful Christmas tree in the church.
