State Tournament and Athletics— Other Local Items.

The Purple and Gold Tossers have put Union City on the map. Thursday afternoon, Mar. 16, they traveled to Nashville to participate in the State tournament. They surprised even their most ardent admirers in their first game Friday afternoon when they defeated Central High School of Nashville by a score of 23 to 16. This team, being the largest and strongest in the capital, was expected to come out in the finals, but the Union City girls got right into the game and by the victory eliminated Central High from further action. Although they were playing against a local team, our girls received the greater part of the support of the side lines. In fact, they were universal favorites throughout the tournament and received countless compliments from spectators and participants for their ability to handle the ball and for their clean sportsmanship. In their second game the girls drew the Central High School of Memphis as their opponents and this team was considered the strongest aggregation in the tournament. The Gold tossers being outclassed in size, age and experience, went down in defeat, but fighting hard. And then they were unable to find the basket while Central High was fortunate in having one who was very adept at tossing goals as well as two fine body guards. The Central Hi won over Union City Hi by the same number of points as over the team that opposed them in the finals, the Troy High School team. This team also made a splendid record at the tournament, winning over the Nashville teams. The Troy and Union City teams were staunch supporters of each other during the entire tournament and both made fine records for Obion County. The teams of West Tennessee won practically all the honors in spite of the fact that there were only three teams from this section to seven from Middle Tennessee. All the players picked for the all-star State team were from West Tennessee. Central Hi of Memphis, Troy and Union City had the best records of the ten contesting teams. Bernice Flack was chosen as one of the all-star State team and Marjorie Dahnke as one of the second team. The tournament was a success in every respect and will likely become an annual event of great interest. Peabody College, through Miss Esther Norton, physical director, should be praised for the cordial manner of entertaining the visiting teams.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas motored to Hickman with Mr. and Mrs. McRee last Tuesday week to see the Mississippi River, which is at flood stage. It was an object of much interest to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas because they are from Eastern Virginia, where big waters consist of the ocean and its inlets.

Several members of the High School faculty had planned a trip to Hickman last Sunday to see the river at flood stage but the rain prevented them from going.

The Union City nine went down in defeat before the South Fulton sluggers on the local grounds Friday afternoon. Although the local boys played a hard game they showed the lack of training necessary to good work and the locals lost the game thru errors for that reason. Callcott opened on the mound for the locals and with his "twisters" kept the visiting team bewildered until the seventh, when they found him and walloped a few for several bases. It was the first game of the season for Union City Hi, and they did excellent work, considering their handicaps. The South Fulton team did fine work both in the field and at the bat. The score was 5 to 3, but the locals promise to reverse it next time.

With the final only eight weeks away there is much work to be done if all are to be ready for the close. All are working hard now for the big coming event, "Field Day," and it will take much work to make it interesting and successful. Let's all co-operate.

McMillin Out for Governor.

Mr. McMillin's announcement in full, is as follows:

"To the Democracy of Tennessee: "Responding to what seems to me to be a real demand from the rank and file of the party that I become a candidate for Governor, I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination to said office, subject to the Democratic primary election to be held next August. My deep gratitude for past favors at the hands of the Democratic party and the hope that I may be the agency whereby the party may be restored to power in Tennessee, constrain me, out of a sense of duty, to forego my personal disinclination in the matter and to seek again the office of Governor.

"I yield to the importunities to become a candidate in the confident hope and belief that I may be helpful to my party and useful to the State. I shall not be a candidate of any faction, clique or special interest. I have had no special part in recent factional controversies. My only solicitude concerning them is that they shall cease, and harmony prevail to the end that Tennessee be restored to the Democratic fold, where she rightfully belongs. I shall waste no powder on fellow Democrats, but will reserve all my ammunition for the common enemy. I promise the people, if nominated and elected, that I will make them the same kind of Governor I did before. My record as Governor speaks for itself. Performances are more satisfying than promises. At the proper time, however, I shall take my cause to the people and discuss with them candidly and fully matters affecting the welfare of the people. It is too early to begin a campaign. A long drawn out campaign would not be profitable to the people or to the party.

"If my record as a Democrat and public servant is worthy, I indulge the hope that the people will favor my candidacy and in the interest of economy and good government, I seek their suffrage.

"It will be my pleasure to abide the decision of the majority of the Democrats of Tennessee, and to do as I have always done, give my vote and my voice to the nominee of the party, whoever he may be.

"Respectfully,
BENTON M'MILLIN."

In this issue appears the platform of Hon. W. W. Craig, candidate for Congress from this, the Ninth District. Mr. Craig is a native of this county and our people are proud of the record he has made as one of the leading lawyers of the State, and as State Senator from Crockett, Dyer and Lauderdale counties in the last Legislature he made a State-wide reputation as a servant that could be trusted to labor constantly for all measures that would relieve the tax payers of the heavy, unnecessary burdens they are now having to bear. From all over the district come the most favorable reports of Mr. Craig's candidacy, which is very gratifying to his hundreds of friends in his native county.—Crockett County Sentinel.
