Will Impersonate Literary Notables at Chautauqua Here

Mark Twain, Longfellow, Riley, Hugo and other literary masters will live again in the impersonative lecture-recital to be presented by Sidney Landon, humorist, scholar and interpreter, at the coming Redpath Chautauqua.

With the aid of wigs, grease paint and vivid descriptions, Mr. Landon presents character studies and speaking likenesses of a number of the best-loved men of letters; and while in make-up, he reads from their best-known masterpieces.

One of Mr. Landon's favorite impersonations is of Mark Twain as that famous humorist appeared on the occasion of his seventieth birthday anniversary banquet. Poe and Bill Nye, Tennyson and Kipling also appear in the Landon gallery of impersonative portraiture.

The Landon lecture-recital is inspirational, educational and entertaining.
