BARGAINS MAY BE HAD. Address, GAZETTE, Fort Worth.

GRANT is in the congressional lobby working in the interest of FIVE JOHN PORTER.

THE friends of JOHN C. NEW are jubilant over the prospect of FOLGER'S resignation.

THE representative of the Ninth Missouri Congressional District subscribes himself the "HON. DR. J. H. McLEAN, M. C."

In these piping times of peace, Texas ought to get along without a standing army, and the frontier battalion might be safely discontinued.

VANDERBILT has started on a trip which he avers is solely for pleasure. A pretty sure indication that he is going out to pick up a railroad.

THE authors of "Ilanthe" anticipate a profit of $300,000 as a result of their combined cleverness. A case of "taking advantage of a poor, blind girl."

REGISTER BRUCE of the United States treasury was refused a seat in a white barber's chair. He doubtless now thinks that barbarism is on the increase.

THE tobacco crop in Virginia is reported to be below the average in quantity and quality. This will be noted with sorrow by the smokers of imported (?) cigars.

SECRETARY FOLGER proposes to give up housekeeping in Washington on the 15th instant, and it is reported has packed his gripack preparatory to a jaunt on the continent.

AN exchange advises young ladies to think twice before offering the wine cup to their gentlemen callers on New Year's. Do not think of offering it at all, and you won't be annoyed with the callers.

A CHICAGO man has been editing one paper twenty-seven years, and was only able to buy an interest in it after that length of time. Here is a subject for the consideration of delinquent subscribers.

THE wine and water combination on the new Cincinnati daily threatens to impair the purity of both these liquids. The concoction of vermouth and cider or beer and maraschino will not be as palatable as brandy and water.

IN the story of "Fallen Leaves," by WILHELM COLLINS, there is a description of an ideal community in which every one is on an equal footing socially and financially. A similar community has been discovered in Missouri, it is said.

THE establishment of "a big metropolitan daily" at one point in Texas doesn't seem to be so much of an object with some people as the prevention of such a paper at another point. But there is no use kicking against the pricks.

A WASHINGTON dispatch to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says that "the present whisky ring differs materially in its organization from that which flourished under General GRANT, but its purposes and aims are essentially the same."

THE marriage license column of the GAZETTE shows some pretty lively business in that line going on in Texas. In Ellis fifty licenses were issued in December, which, as friend HAWKINS says, "is pretty good for a little county like Ellis."

JAY GOULD wept real tears the other night, but the explosion of sentiment was not produced by any real distress. It was the mockery of misery which broke him up so badly.

WHY don't the people of Chicago turn Herr Moser over to the tender mercies of the sand-bagger. After they had poulticed his head a few times with their painless, death-giving contrivances, he would return to the place of his nativity a sadder if not a wiser man.

A MIND reader named CUMBERLAND has been doing some wonderful things in New York. He would be a useful element in Washington just now to read the secrets of the star routers, or to find out what become of some of the appropriations which have not been satisfactorily accounted for.

FROM the Galveston News we clip the following statement of estimated earnings of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad, for the month of December 1881 and 1882, and for the years 1881 and 1882:

Table with 2 columns: Month/Year, Mileage. December, 1882, 231,447 41; December, 1881, 110,938 10.

The increase in earnings is very gratifying. The road is ably and economically managed, and the officials are always accommodating and agreeable, and in this is the secret of the success of the road.

THE "toy pistol" got in its work at Dallas Thursday. The parent who permit his children to play with this diabolical contrivance is strangely inattentive. If the child escapes death or injury, he is thus early tutored to carry deadly weapons and to start early on the desperado's career.

Wanted: A Retail Trade. The trade of Fort Worth, both retail and wholesale, has always been, and is to-day, large enough in volume, and profitable enough to satisfy the wishes of the most insatiable and ambitious dealer in every branch of business conducted within the limits of the city.

LEON COUNTY—ISSUED DURING THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, 1882. C T Herod and Miss L B Housecker. Harry Wilson and Miss Rose Baker.

KIMBLE COUNTY—ISSUED DURING THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, 1882. Jackson Brewer and Miss Sarah E. Stewart. J L Pepper and Miss Ellen Armstrong.

MARRIAGES AND DEATHS. Marriage Licenses. ELLIS COUNTY—ISSUED FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER, 1882. W H Ragland and Miss Henrietta Miller.

STATE PRESS THOUGHTS. The Austin Statesman thinks it would be unwise to interfere with the homestead laws. The Galveston News thinks Herr Moser may as well shoulder his valise and return to Europe.

WALKER COUNTY. Cold Weather—Holiday Amusements—Temperance—School Matters. Correspondence of the Gazette. HUNTSVILLE, January 2, 1883.

A Reasonable Request. A St. Louis girl thus appeals to a journalist: "I have worn one gown four times this season, for the number of parties I go to exceeds the number of gowns I wear."

That Settled It. A Kentucky woman who intended to serenade his sweetheart one night got a friend to hint to her such was his intention.

The French Government has at its disposal for any and every emergency a solid nucleus of about 100,000 well disciplined veterans, worth three times that number of the young, raw soldiers whom it was forced to employ in 1871.

MINSTREL YARNS. Why Frank Frayne Once Did Not Shoot the Apple from His Wife's Head. "I was playing in a minstrel troupe one season and traveling in Texas," said a minstrel to a Denver reporter.

The Richest Colored Lawyer. It is said that the late Robert Morris died worth more than $100,000. He was one of the oldest of Boston's lawyers, and few have made more money in the profession.

A Dainty Robe for Miss or Madame. A lovely tea-gown is displayed by a Broadway house this week. Never did a princess out of a fairy show own a more exquisite and dainty robe.

A man named Lether has been found strangled in the compartment of an express train en route from Nice to Marseilles. The motive of the crime was robbery.

A FAMILY ROMANCE. Crime and its Avenger—son—Remarried—The marriage, or rather rriage, Thursday night last county, South Carolina.

Narrow-chested and soft-dents at Harvard are common front in the new Hemenway sum. They are contestant prizes offered to the men abt best general development, and form during the year.

A man threw a stone at the ambassador to the Vatican Castle of St. Angelo, in Italy. He was arrested and he was starving, and was the ambassador's identity.

When the culture of Boston to go to see Langtry, no that it was saving money by the Ford boys.
