A PAGE FROM THE WAR.

How a Gallant Confederate, Now a Fort Worthian, Took in the Enemy.

A reporter in his peregrinations yesterday dropped into the easy office of Dr. Fitzhugh, and after a few minutes conversation on general topics, the war was brought up, when incidentally the doctor showed the scribe a letter received a few days since, which re-ported at once saw would, with surround- ing circumstances, make a most inter- esting and readable article, where-upon he plied questions thick and fast to the good doctor, who modestly and reluctantly gave the following account of the proceedings, which antedated the matter directly in hand:

PERSONAL.

L. Freedman of Decatur is in the city. M. D. Herring of Waco is a guest at the El Paso. H. W. Stocking of Big Springs is in the city.

Attached.

Papers of attachment were served yesterday on A. D. Mathis, and his goods and chattels seized, the attach- ment being obtained by Jack Flint to secure a claim of $212.50. The grounds for attachment alleged are that defendant has already disposed of a portion of his stock with intent to defraud his creditors.

Ladies Aid Association.

St. Andrew's Ladies Aid Association (Episcopal) meets regularly every Wednesday, 1 p.m., at the resi- dence of the president, Mrs. Dr. Fitz- hugh, corner Fourth and Taylor streets.

For Sale.

My entire stock and fixtures, consist- ing of cigars, tobacco, candies, fruits, etc., one of the best locations of this kind, on Houston street, next to Palace saloon, cheap for cash.

For the Stockmen.

W. A. Huffman, always on the alert to supply every want of the trade in his line, has purchased a car load of buggies expressly for the use of stock- men. They are roomy, strong and well finished, just the thing for long trips on the road.

Progress of Work.

Notwithstanding the mud a reporter of the GAZETTE made a tour of inspection yesterday to the oil mills. The old pork packery is ready for business while the foundation for the mill proper is completed, and huge piles of stone for the building are on the ground. The rain has delayed the building to some extent but the build- ing is being pushed.

Presidential Succession.

A Probability that it will be Unsettled Question. A President Pro Tempore. The presidential succession which was reported by the committee, and which will be up some time this week in the bill is provoking much opposition. The remainder of the current bill should survive long enough to the event of his death the sec- ondary treasury would succeed in the order of further succession. He would be the postmaster general, the ney-general, the secretary of the secretary of the navy. The Judiciary committee bill repeals 146 to 150 of the statutes, providing for a election in case of vacancies in offices of president and vice-presi- dent. The more the bill is discussed by the senate and representatives, the more becomes the opinion that the constitution and the statutes is safer in accordance with the spirit of a representative government. The probability that the Judiciary com- mittee bill will be passed by both a good deal of interest in the however, is shown by the lead- ing of both parties and there is much talk concerning the coming of the senate in regard to the elec- tion of a president pro tem to succeed David Davis and in during the long period between of March and the first Monday of October. It is not improbably Senator Davis will retire from chair of the presiding officer on the 31st of March in order to compete with him for the office of vice-presi- dent. It is also stated that Sen- ator Davis will be elected president. Senator Anthony has been re- cently spoken of as the prob- able successor of David Davis, but his name on the 4th of March, al- though he has been re-elected, may not take the required oath as still next December, unless should be an extra session of the senate after the 4th of March.
