ALL AROUND TOWN.

The Commercial Club will meet next Tuesday evening, when will occur the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Justice Gallagher had a large attendance of lawyers in his court this morning. The civil docket was called and the cases set.

Officer Bob Summers is loser one fine bay horse. The animal was stolen yesterday from the hitching post in front of the city hall.

The funeral of John H. Chambers, who died Sunday, took place at his late home, corner Fourteenth and Trice, at 10:30 this morning.

The Waco Medical Association will meet in the city hall at 7:30 tonight. Dr. M. L. Graves will read a paper on "Lymphangitis."

Deputy Marshal Cliff Torrence left last night for Brooklyn, N. Y., taking C. L. McKay and H. D. Kene to put in the penitentiary at that place.

The Methodist brethren in the neighborhood of Greenwood church started a holiness protracted meeting today. It will continue one week. All are invited to attend.

Captain C. L. Johnson has been advised by the manager of Sam Jones to have him lecture on the subject "Get there and stay there." It is said to be one of his finest efforts.

Dr. Leslie Waggoner, of the University of Texas, will arrive in the city this evening to attend the meeting of the school superintendents. He will be the guest while in the city of Col. W. L. Prather.

The horse in one of J. A. Early's delivery wagons became frightened and ran away on Austin Avenue this morning. He created a good deal of excitement but did little damage, and all that to the wagon.

D. Joplin, a guest at the Mitchell house, lost a good overcoat from his room yesterday. A sneak thief entered Mr. Joplin's room during his absence and left before he got back carrying the coat with him.

The sharpers and gamblers opened up their wheels of fortune yesterday on the public square, but our wide awake county attorney, Captain T. A. Blair, had them closed in short order, by the alert officers. Waco is not a good place for such gentry.
