Nothing delights us more than to try on them a STEINBLOCH SMART SUIT. The longer the suit stays on, the better pleased we are.

The Tent Meeting.
There was one baptism at the tent meeting last night. Elder Reed preached a strong discourse on "Heavenly Religion." He showed that Nebuchadnezzar's heart was changed from that of a man to a beast. The fountain is an added attraction to this already popular firm.

At the Airdome.
One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the Melba Palmer company in "Carroll." Miss Palmer in the title role gave an excellent performance of one of the most difficult roles known to the theatrical profession. The entire company were wonderful and the performance as a whole was worth far more than the price charged. Tonight the company will play a rural bill entitled "A Hoosier Romance," a play entirely different from anything else they have produced. It is a comedy and with a pretty love story running all the way through. This will be the last performance at the Airdome this season.

The First Baptist Sunday School.

I am greatly pleased at the splendid work and development of the Sunday school during the summer. This last Sunday I was here in June the attendance was 350; the first Sunday after my return (last Sunday) the attendance was 372. This shows good work and splendid interest. Now that the fall is on our regular attendance ought easily be between 400 and 500. Let's make it so and begin by making Rally Day, tomorrow, the greatest in our history. Splendid program and splendid music, splendid people, splendid work, splendid interest. Get in line. Come with us tomorrow and bring one. For myself, I am so glad to be here. Come! You will be glad to be here. Come! You will be glad to be here.
