G. W. Morton and Mrs. Lydia Childs, both of Bakersfield, Cal., were married Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the parsonage of Trinity M. E. church, Rev. C. S. Wright officiating. The bride was returning from a visit in the east and was met here by the groom. They will reside at Bakersfield, Cal.

The members of the Woman's club have secured pleasant rooms on the fourth floor of the Callisher building, where they will hold their meetings during the coming season. The Silent Twelve club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Fraser.

The board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Townsend on Mesa avenue. WINS UNIQUE SUIT IN A LONDON COURT New York, N. Y., July 12.—Mrs. Louise Winterfeldt of New York, once caucused by Mme. Paquin "the best gowned woman in London" has won out in one of the most unique lawsuits in the history of the British metropolis.

restoring to faded cheeks the bloom of youth. Mrs. Winterfeldt, the specialist alleged, look away from her by unfair means one of her assistants—the kind that brought in $2500 a week. She explained that Mrs. Winterfeldt had paid her $500 for treatment while in London and that an assistant had been allowed to accompany her to America, and Mrs. Winterfeldt had persuaded her to stay there as her secretary. The plaintiff went all the way to America to look the assistant up.

1911 Summer a Pleasant One. This present summer has indeed been a pleasant one. Not only has this reference to the pleasant days and cool nights we have been favored with, but there is another new factor that has contributed largely. This is the new fountain at Scott White & Co's in the Mills Building, where delicious ices and cooling drinks of all kinds are served. In past seasons when you were hot and tired and had to wait some time for your car there was no place to go. Now you can wait in our delightfully cool store and while waiting be served with a refreshing summer drink or ice.

Smooth, delicious, peace ice cream delivered after supper, one pint or more. The Elite Confectionery. Miss Virginia Ryan was the hostess at an informal dance given at her home on Monday evening. The house was decorated with palms and ferns, intermingled with pink and white roses, and was illumined with vari-colored lights, adding much to the pleasing effect.
