NORWAY, THOUGH NEUTRAL, LOSES THREE SHIPS SUNK BY GERMANS

Belgian Ship Is Also Sunk and 17 Lives are Lost; French Are Attacking Along Western Line While British Troops Remain Passive in Trenches; Fierce Fighting On Eastern Front.

LONDON, Eng., June 8.—Despite the fact that Norway is a neutral nation, and that her commerce, as that of a neutral, is as much entitled to consideration as that of the United States, German submarines have just sunk three Norwegian steamers, it was learned today.

The Norwegian vessels Trudvang and Superb were the first vessels reported torpedoed.

Another Norwegian steamer reported sunk is the Glitterlind, of 376 tons net. This vessel was built in 1912 and was 186 feet long. The Trudvang was a steamer of 264 tons net registered. Built at Berlin in 1897, she was 182 feet long.

Crews Are Warned.

Trudvang was hailed by a German submarine soon after midday Monday when off Stannes head. The captain was ordered to bring his papers aboard the submarine, whose commander gave the crew 20 minutes to take to the boats.

The submarine sent 12 shells into the Trudvang. The shooting brought out a patrol boat from Milfordhaven, which picked up the skipper and crew, numbering 13, from the boats. During the operation the submarien attempted to torpedo the patrol boat.

The crew of the Glitterlind was landed today in the Tyne. The vessel with a cargo of lumber was on her way from Sweden to Hartlepool when she encountered a German submarine. The Germans gave the crew 10 minutes to take to the boats.

The submarine towed the ship's boats for 30 minutes until a trawler hove in sight.

37 Are Drowned.

The Belgian steamer Memattler has been sent to the bottom by a German torpedo near the North foreland. Out of 22 persons on board, only six were saved. The captain, his wife and daughter, the first mate, the pilot and 12 members of the crew lost their lives.

Regarding the war on land, virtually the entire western line of battle, except those portions held by the Belgians and the British, has been the scene of what would appear to be a series of offensive movements initiated by the French. In the region of Arras the French have extended the area of their attack, while they were pressing all along the front from the angle of the Aisne and the Oise rivers in a northerly direction as far as the British positions near La Bassee, where the British forces are lying apparently quiescent.

Desperate German counter attacks, according to the French report, have been made, but without success and with terrible losses.

River Changes Hands Five Times.

Rivers figure more or less prominently today in the reports from both sides. From the eastern front the Russians claim to have pushed their offensive movement across the Pruth near Kolomea, while Petrograd has admitted the advance of the Austro-Germans across the River Dniester, in Galicia. The River Dubysa changed hands five times in one day.

BUDDHISTS REVOLT AGAINST MOSLEMS AND WRECK SHOPS

London, Eng., June 8.—An official communication issued here states Buddhists in Ceylon have engaged in riots against the Moslems, wrecking and looting many shops and committing numerous murders. The statement says:

"The governor of Ceylon reports that on May 28, the birthday of Buddha, Moslem shops in Kandy were looted by Buddhists. The outbreak was quelled in Kandy, but was diffused through the central province, where it was repressed by the arrival of a military detachment.

"On May 31 there was a later outbreak at Colombo, which subsequently spread south. Martial law has been proclaimed in the western, central, southern, northwestern and Sabara Gamuwa provinces.

"On June 2 the governor left Kandy quiet and proceeded to Colombo, where he found the town quiet, but the district perturbed. He hoped to suppress the disorder in a few days.

"The disorder is due to a sudden outbreak of racial and commercial animosity and is not directed against the European population or the colonial government. Much Moslem merchandise has been destroyed. There have been numerous murders and several rioters were shot.

"The latest telegrams state that the situation is in hand, and improving."

28 KILLED WHEN ZEPPELIN FALLS

Single Handed, Young Canadian Lieutenant Destroys Enemy Aircraft.

London, Eng., June 8.—Single handed, a young Canadian sub-lieutenant wrecked a Zeppelin and caused the death of its crew of 28 Germans in the course of a battle 6000 feet in air. It occurred over that part of Belgium held by the Germans. The Zeppelin is believed to have been returning to its base from Sunday night's raid on the east coast of England. The Zeppelin is now in ruins, sprawled on the roof and grounds of an orphanage near Ghent. Several occupants of the orphanage were killed when the aircraft crashed down.

Dawn breaks early these days and the huge Zeppelin could be sighted far off and it is presumed that the craft was headed for her home hangar when Warneford came winging swiftly under the gray skies.

Briton Drops Bombs.

The Zeppelin, which was flying comparatively low, began to mount at once, but the British wasp was speedier and climbed into the air in long spirals, reaching a position at length over the German's vast bulk. From this point of vantage Warneford pierced the Zeppelin's shell repeatedly with his incendiary bombs. Minor explosions occurred and at last, one of terrific force, and the Zeppelin burst into flames.

Warneford's Machine Overturns.

At that moment Warneford must have been close over the dirigible for almost simultaneously with the outburst, his machine turned completely over, and for a moment he hung head downward, with his monoplane, all control of which had been lost, pitching and tossing in the swift currents of air, which rushed up to fill the vacuum created.

Then by a desperate effort Warneford righted his machine and planed to a landing behind the German lines. He alighted unhurt, set his propellor going again and flew off to the west.

Whether the Zeppelin's machine guns or rifles were turned on the aviator is not disclosed but in order to attain such an advantageous position the British lieutenant must have handled his machine skillfully. Although the target the Zeppelin presents is extensive, it can be lifted by its own buoyancy to a great hgight, while the pursuing aeroplane has to rise in spirals by the power of its engine alone.

May Move Zeppelin Base.

As the fight in mid-air occurred over that part of Belgium held by the Germans, hopes are raised in London that the Germans will be forced to move their Zeppelin base eastward, thus making raids on England more hazardous.

Some of the reports say that the noncombatant victims were two nuns and two orphans, and that others were injured, but a Reuter dispatch says that two nurses and two children were killed and many others injured.

All versions agree that the Zeppelin crew perished and this seems certain as the great craft was struck while more than a mile in the air and must have been a roaring torch before it struck the earth.

ITALY TRIES TO TAKE AUSTRIA'S DEFENCE LINES

Udine, Italy, June 8.—Italian forces are today engaged with the forces of Austria on the eastern banks of the Isonza river at a point north of Tolmino. They are fighting also around Gradisca, evidently with the intention of encircling this location.

Caporette, Cormona, Verso, Cervignano, Terzo, Porto Buso, and Grado, stretching in a line roughly north and south from the head of the gulf of Trieste, are in their possession.

It apparently is the intention of the Italian military leaders to deprive the Austrians of their line of defence, along the Isonzo river. To this end, Montro also has been occupied, as has been the mountains between Isonzo and Idria rivers. These positions dominate the towns of Volzana, Ronzina, Canale and Desola, all on the Isonzo.

By the sea the operations are being conducted with the idea of gaining possession of the gulf of Panzano, whence it will be easier to attack Monfalcone.

ITALIAN DESTROYER FLEET BOMBARDS MONFALCONE

Rome, Italy, June 8.—The Italian admiralty has issued a statement saying that on the morning of June 7 the Italian destroyer flotilla for the third time bombarded the Austrian port of Manfalcone. The statement adds:

"Three batteries in position near the Duino castle opened a well sustained fire against our destroyers which, turning their guns upon the batteries reduced one of them to silence and set the castle on fire. Our destroyers returned undamaged.

"The preceding night our dirigible executed another raid on Pola, dropping several bombs which all exploded at points of a military nature."

GERMAN OFFICER CONTENDS U. S. LACKS JURISDICTION

Boston, Mass., June 8.—Alleging lack of jurisdiction on the part of the United States courts, Werner Horn, the German army officer held in connection with the attempted dynamiting of the international bridge at Vanceboro, Maine, Feb. 2, filed a demurrer Monday to the charge of transporting explosives from New York to Vanceboro.

He claims he committed an act of war, and that, therefore, the federal court has no jurisdiction. Horn's motion will be heard by judge Norton of the United States district court Wednesday.

HUNGARIAN COALITION FAILS.

Zurich, Switzerland, June 8.—Efforts to organize a coalition cabinet in Hungary have failed, according to telegrams from Budapest. The opposition leaders, counts Andrassy, Apponyi and Zichy, were prepared to cooperate with count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, who expressed his willingness to take them into the cabinet, but it is explained that "the plan failed owing to certain differences dating back to the period of old party disputes."

GERMAN STEAMER DESTROYED.

London, Eng., June 8.—The following statement was issued by the admiralty Monday:

"The steamer Hermann von Wissman was destroyed Monday by the shell fire of a British naval force. The steamer had been lying in Lake Nyassa, Southeast Africa, since her disablement by the Nyassaland steamer Gwendolin last August. Sphinxhaven was bombarded and captured May 30."

EIGHT ARE ARRESTED FOR VIOLATING TRAFFIC LAW.

Charges of violating the traffic ordinance were made Monday morning against Luz Olguin and Andrew Ott.

Complaints were filed against Dr. James Vance, Ramon Torrez and Hawkins Bors. for having no tail light on their autos, while Guillermo de la Garza, Jacobo Araxon and Jose Flores were charged with having bicycles without lights.

HENDERSON WELL 90 FEET DEEP

Well drillers have gone down 90 feet in the well which they are sinking for C. C. Henderson in Altura Park, without striking any rock. The 10 inch bore is being made through the caliche, adobe and sand and gravel but no rock formations have yet been struck. The drillers expect to strike water at the 200 feet level.

The War At a Glance

FOUR more vessels, three of them neutrals, have been sunk by German submarines in the waters near the British Isles.

The neutral ships were all Norwegian and no loss of life on them is reported. In the case of the fourth vessel the Belgian steamer Menapier, only six of the 22 persons on board were saved.

Italians Are Progressing.

Gen. Cadorna, Italian chief of staff, said in a report from the front Monday night that the Italians were making methodical progress. Apparently the main body of invading forces has not yet crossed the Isonzo river along the line north of the gulf of Trieste, but Gen. Cadorna stated strong detachments had entrenched themselves on the further side. The decisive battle is expected soon.

River Choked With Bodies.

Official advices from Petrograd give few definite statements concerning the situation in Galicia.

A German victory almost as striking as that in Galicia is said in Berlin to have been won in the Baltic provinces which were invaded several weeks ago by the Germans. The Russian resistance is said to have broken down. A Petrograd dispatch, however, asserts the Russians were victorious in the bitterest battle of this campaign, fought for the control of the Dubysa river. It is said the fighting was so fierce and deadly that the river was choked with bodies of the dead.

TELLS OF LUST OF GEN. PANCHO VILLA

Villa when he came there one morning to breakfast. The girl was really quite beautiful, and Villa continued coming to the hotel so as to see her, until at last he resolved to write her a note which showed very simply his intentions. The girl, good and pure, was terrorized and showed the note to the proprietor of the hotel and asked her advice. The good woman, feeling infinite pity for the child, told her to quit working there and to hide herself safewhere in the city.

"The next day Villa, sure of his conquest, went back to the hotel for the answer of the girl, but she had disappeared. He could not hide his anger and at once spoke to the proprietor, roughly and vilely accusing her of having something to do with the girl's disappearance, which she flatly denied, but Villa was not convinced and heaped upon the weeping woman anew threats and insults.

"At last, seeing that he could not get any information from the woman, he ordered his officers to arrest her and take her to his house at number 76 Fifth Liverpool street, Colonia Juarez, Mexico City. She was dragged from the house, wearing a house dress, and was taken through the public streets by an escort to Gen. Villa's house, where she remained a prisoner for three or four days, suffering the most cruel and humiliating treatment by Villa and his satelites.

"At last, owing to the protests of the French consul and some of Villa's friends who were afraid of intervention and the loss of prestige in the capital, she was set free; Villa, however, ordered the Hotel Palacios to be closed and the woman to leave the country."

VILLA'S TRUCE PROPOSAL AROUSES KEEN INTEREST

Washington, D. C., June 8.—United States government officials today viewed with keen interest efforts of Gen. Francisco Villa to meet Venustiano Carranza in conference to consider president Wilson's recent communication demanding a settlement of Mexican affairs.

This move on the part of the northern leader, which his secretary announced Monday night that Villa was ready to make, was considered by officials as the most important Mexican development since the president's statement.

SAYS CONDITIONS IN MEXICO CITY ARE HEART RENDING

Nashville, Tenn., June 8.—Conditions in Mexico City, where multitudes of hungry women and children wait their turn at the palace to beg or buy a little corn, are heart rending, according to a letter received by the board of missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, from Rev. R. C. Elliott, a missionary.

The letter added:

"My board of stewards recommends that I cable you for $200 to invest in the necessities of life. Two difficulties meet us in carrying out this plan, however. First, it is a difficult matter now to obtain such a quantity of food, and second, if the authorities knew that we had so much it would be confiscated."

GEN. NATERA OCCUPIES GUANAJUATO, REPORT.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—A message from the consul at San Luis Potosi, said Gen. Panfiro Natera had occupied Guanajuato. Natera has been in command of a detachment of Villa troops. The German agency claimed today he had recently been seeking to rejoin Obregon's forces, although there were no advices that he had done so.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND NEAR AUSTIN; WAS FLOOD VICTIM

Austin, Tex., June 8.—The body of a woman, believed to be that of Mrs. C. S. Ezell, a victim of the flood which visited Austin last April, was found five miles below Austin in an advanced state of decomposition. As the bodies of all women who perished in the flood have been accounted for with the exception of that of Mrs. Ezell, it is believed the remains found are those of this woman. The body is being held at a local undertaking establishment awaiting identification by the husband of Mrs. Ezell, who is at present out of the city.

RANGER SHOT AND KILLED

Fort Hancock Mexicans Shoot Peace Officer at Fabens; One Wounded.

Texas ranger Lee Burdette was shot and instantly killed by a gang of Mexicans at Fabens, Monday night. He was the third American officer to have been killed in a space of three weeks along the Rio Grande east of El Paso.

Monday a gang of Fort Hancock Mexicans went to Fabens. They were said to have been drinking and disturbing the peace. They were warned by Burdette and ranger Charles Bell to cease the disturbance and, at 7:30 p. m., they appeared at the mouth of an alley in Fabens and started yelling. Burdette and Bell entered the alley and started searching one of the men. While Burdette had his back turned down an adobe wall someone fired and he was struck in the breast and instantly killed.

One Mexican Wounded.

Ranger Bell started firing at the Mexicans, who ran. One was wounded by ranger Bell as he was trailed to a farmhouse near Fabens where he asked permission to enter and was refused by the owner of the farm. He then disappeared in the darkness. The farmer declared that the man carried a pistol. Twenty shots were exchanged in the narrow alley and the escape of ranger Bell is considered a miracle as the Mexicans were shooting at him in all directions. The man who was being searched by ranger Burdette escaped after the ranger was killed. Three men were arrested by the rangers and United States officers.

Cavalry Joins Search.

After the shooting the United States cavalry troop stationed at Fabens threw a circle of troops around the town of Fabens and prevented anyone from leaving the town until the houses could be searched for the men of the Fort Hancock gang. But before the troops could be called the men are believed to have had time to escape. Searching parties were sent to Fort Hancock and along the roads entering Fabens in search of the men who participated in the shooting. Sheriff P. J. Edwards, deputy sheriff J. B. Kilpatrick, ranger O. D. Goodwin, special deputies Claude Smith and Miller went to Fabens in an automobile as soon as the killing was reported in El Paso. They spent the night in the vicinity of Fabens.

The killing of ranger Burdette followed the killing of customs inspectors Joe Sitters and Texas ranger E. D. Hulen near Pilares, in the Big Bend country. They were shot and killed by a gang of Mexicans from the Chihuahua side who were believed to be cattle smugglers.

As soon as the news of the affair reached El Paso, Dr. L. G. Witherspoon hurried to Fabens, but Burdette was killed instantly.

The dead ranger was 32 years of age and was born in Austin. Very little is known regarding relatives, but it is believed that some members of his family live in Houston, where notice has been sent.

BURDETTE'S BODY TO BE SENT TO HOME AT AUSTIN

Austin, Tex., June 8.—News of the killing of state ranger Robert Lee Burdette, at Fabens last night, was received this morning by adjutant general Hutchings. He immediately wired ranger Bell to have the body embalmed and shipped to Austin, the former home of Burdette. Burdette was born at Sprinkle, this county, and had been in the state ranger force for the past four years. He is survived by his mother and other relatives here.
