NO CIRCUSES IN EL PASO FOR THIS YEAR

Jumps Too Long and Expensive—Carpenter Not So Hefty Looking.

CAN HARDLY PUT JACK DEMPSEY OUT

Price of Shoes May Be Forced Down—Gossip of National Capital.

By G. A. MARTIN. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—El Paso will not see a big circus this year, unless business gets too bad in the east for them, and they don't look for that.

The Delta-Polo circus, which opened this year in the Coliseum in Chicago, was here last week and the El Paso circus, which opened this year in Madison Square garden, here.

Both circuses played to big crowds, including "The Joe" Campbell, who has never missed a circus that he can remember.

The management of both circuses stated that they were not intending to go west this year unless business should break up here and send us for they have been playing to standing room everywhere.

Both circuses gave the least expensive jumps as their reason for staying out of the west is because the business here with short jumps and big tents to play to.

Asserts Dry Act Mistake, But Says Congress Voted, As It Thought, Public Wish

Marshall Expounds Theory of Representative Rule; Favors Amendment.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Vice president Thomas H. Marshall has presided over the debate of the United States for 7 years and can therefore be expected to know whereof he speaks when he says that if prohibition had been submitted to a secret vote it would not have been voted in as it was.

The writer asked the vice president to amplify his statement, which was made originally before the Virginia association.

"I want it understood at the outset," said he, "that I believe in the enforcement of the constitutional amendment as it stands, and in the law and that it be enforced. But I believe if the amendment had been voted on according to the individual conviction of the members of the senate it would not have passed."
