LOCALETES.

Council meeting this afternoon.

W. V. Holt and Willie F. Allison have been licensed to marry by the county clerk.

Twenty-five indictments were sent down from the district to the county court yesterday.

Edwin Day of this city and Miss Hattie McCannant were married at Alford on Sunday.

City Marshal Rea has telegraphed for particulars of the killing of his deputy, Wise, in Mississippi.

John F. Lehane of this city and Miss Katie Mullane of Houston will be married in the Bayou City to-day.

R. F. Hollman has sued the Fort Worth base ball club for $139.85, board and room rent, in Justice Zinn's court.

The recorder's court-room has been fixed up with a railing to keep prisoners, witnesses and the court separated.

Howard Peak and Miss Alice Burke of Galveston will be married to-day at the residence of the bride's parents in Galveston.

Col. W. T. Sands of the Theater Comique has a brand new little girl at his house, two miles east of the city. Mother and child are doing well.

A dozen men in Dallas last Sunday asked the Herald reporter if Dallas had thrown the ball game off. The umpire did not bet on the game and the crushing calm still reigns in Dallas base ball circles.

Special Judge Hyde Jennings being disqualified to try the case of D. G. Cooper et al. vs. the Continental Meat company et al., Gov. Ireland has appointed Sawnee Robertson of Dallas, a special judge to try the case.

In the district court yesterday Bob Fossett, charged with theft of a horse, was acquitted by the jury. The case of Thos. Davis, charged with theft of $2 from the person, was on trial when court adjourned until this morning.

Mr. C. H. Murdock, one of the most popular hotel men in the state, has become associated with A. E. Fisher, and together they have taken charge of the Grandview hotel on the corner of Weatherford and Rusk streets. The Grandview is a new house, newly furnished, and every arrangement for the convenience of guests has been provided.

A fine exhibition game of base ball will be played at the base ball park tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock between the Fort Worth and the Reserve nines. The Reserves will have Silch and Mappes for their battery while the Fort Worth will have Crosby and Moloughney or Black. This will be the first of a series of exhibition games between the two nines. Davis, Harman, Sneed and Kurtz will give the infield support to Silch and Mappes, and the game will probably be close and exciting. Admission twenty-five cents. Ladies free. A special invitation is extended to the fair sex. The game will be played on its merits.

Plaid Suits

are now the leading feature in the attire of gentlemen. The exceptionally fine styles now in the market have made them deservedly popular, not only for business but for other purposes. The largest assortments of Scotch and English plaids, chevrons, corkcrews, and overcoatings in the state of Texas is to be found at Douglas Bros., merchant tailors, 703 Main street, Dallas. Don't send your money out of the state. First-class work is done here as cheap as in any large city, and Douglas Bros. will fit you as well as any other house.

Wild Freaks of a Tragedian.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—John McCullough passed a quiet day but became violently agitated to-night. He went to the Union depot and attempted to board a train. He declared that he would go to New York. The conductor resisted his efforts and McCullough knocked him down. He then got into a buggy and started for the river but was overtaken and returned to his room. He is in charge of kind friends who will take good care of him. His old friend, John W. Norton, manager of the opera-house, will spend the night with him. He declines to go to Hot Springs with Dr. Keller and insists either on going to New York or on opening an engagement here next week.

The revenue cutter Corwin arrived at San Francisco from Alaska Sunday night. She brought down the crew of the ice-crushed steam whaler Howhead. The captain reports that a new volcano was discovered at Four Mountains. The whole catch was a good average. The Kowaka river has been fully explored. An official report will be made at Washington.

SUICIDE.

J. B. Minton, Being Weary of Life, Lies Down by the Wayside.

Separation From His Wife the Alleged Cause of the Deed.

A horrible suicide occurred in a house on Terry street yesterday morning, the victim being J. B. Minton, a car inspector at Whitesboro. The particulars developed at the coroner's inquest before Justice Zinn yesterday are as follows:

Minton and his wife separated several weeks ago on account of his cruel treatment to her. He drank a great deal, and she says this made her life miserable. She came to this city soon after their separation and rented a room from Mr. Maloney on Terry street. On the 23rd ult. Minton tried to commit suicide by the morphine route, but failed. He afterwards came to Fort Worth and had been lying around ever since. Several days ago he was arrested for drunkenness. His wife had been sewing for a living, and yesterday morning she met her husband on the street and he insisted on talking with her. She went back to her room with him. He made threats against her, and she searched him for a weapon and made him take off his coat. He begged and insisted that they should live together again, but she told him that he had promised several times before to be kind to her and she would not trust him. He then said the furniture in the room belonged to him and he would move it out. She finally became frightened, when he drew a razor and threatened to kill her and himself, and ran out of the room and went up to the city hall and notified Deputy Marshal Scott, who returned with her. After she left Mrs. Maloney heard loud and labored breathing in the next room, and when the room was entered, Minton was found lying on the bed with his head on the front edge and his throat cut from ear to ear.

The bronchial and jugular veins were severed and the whole front part of the bed was soaked in blood. A large coagulated pool was on the floor and the room presented a most ghastly spectacle. He died shortly after his wife and Officer Scott entered the room. In her testimony before Justice Zinn Mrs. Minton stated that on last Thursday the deceased had come to her room in company with some officers to have her arrested; that she had agreed to sign a deed to a house and lot in Whitesboro if her husband would give her the furniture; that he had sent her a lot of trumpery and then wanted her to sign a deed, which she refused to do; that after she was arrested she asked Officer Wm. Rushing what it was for and that he had said it was for murder, and referred to something the deceased had said about their dead child at Whitesboro; that the officers showed no warrant, and told Mr. Maloney to guard her until next morning, but at 8 o'clock that evening she was told that she was free.

Mrs. Minton had brought suit for a divorce in Grayson county and her husband was aware of it. It is supposed he became desperate and wanted to frighten her into signing the deed.

In the letters he left he stated that $100 would be found in a valise in the express office, but when his effects were taken from the office no money was found in the valise. The deceased was an Odd Fellow, and belonged to the Knights of Honor. He left a lot of express cards on which he had written of his determination to kill himself, and giving directions for his burial at Whitesboro by the side of his dead child. On one of the cards he wrote:

"I will ask to be admitted and if not I will get in at the window and kill myself by cutting my throat." On another he wrote: "All will be well when I am gone. I said my prayers and asked God to forgive me, I think he will."

The following letter, which he left, was written in Whitesboro on Sunday:

MAY—Don't think me hasty about the base set. I did my best to kill myself the 23rd of September by taking morphine, but failed. You remember I told you that I would kill myself and you said you would write me, add on or before the 10th of this month. You can behold me as you will, so that when you read this you can look on me and say that there is the man who loved me and said he would kill himself for me and that he has fulfilled his promise. I don't do this to make you feel bad, but to prove to you that I love you to death. The grave will be a weary place for me. It is a happy thought for me to think that I can fulfil my promise to you. I have got lots of good friends in this world. I hate to leave, but rather than let you and the child get make peace with all here in this vale of tears. I will write to my mother but I want you to write to her. Her address is Milan, Sabine county, Tex. She loves you and will be glad to hear from you. I want all the people to know that I am dead. You will get some money when you get out of the work here but want you to see my when I am dead, and if I do it here you won't see me, and if you don't see me you won't do. You are all I love and I see one see me commit the act but you and if you won't let me sit down in the house I will sit on the porch and die. I love you one I love. I won't be drunk. I won't drink a drop or eat anything. I may get off on 15 and may be on 15. This is it. I want you see you until after you get my letter. There are lots of people that won't be surprised to hear of the act, and some will say I was a fool, like you said, to commit the deed. But I won't know anything about what is said. You know I told you I would and I had a mind to do it before you left home, but I did not think I would leave so soon, but when I went home I found you gone and I made up my mind to kill myself and get out of trouble. Some may say I am crazy, but I am not. It is love that forces me to do it. Death is sweet to being away from you and out of your presence. It seems to me that my heart will break in spite of all I can do, but will hold up until I can see you, and say good-bye. The blood will run all over and about me and then you can assure yourself that nothing but love makes me do it. I will try and say good-bye as a man well can to so near his grave, but when it comes to die for a woman that I love it is all that will cause the blood to flow from my neck. If I live I will be in hell and can't say waste I will go when I am dead. But it is better for you to be alone than for both of us to be alive and unhappy. When I live I will be out of my mind and can't stand. I love the very ground that you walk on and for my part death is not as bad as people think. It is only a moment and all is over with. I tried to get my photograph taken to-day, but failed and I know that you have three or four. Please send one to me. I am at the grave-yard now with Mr. McCannant's little child. I had a letter that it was me. O death, I welcome you and long to be in the grave and at peace with my life. My head hurts me so bad that I can hardly stand to write until I can get to you. I want you to be sure to have me put in the Whitesboro cemetery by Ada T. Minton so that a head on a broom-stick will be looked after and the grave paid for. Your loving husband, JAMES BENJAMIN MINTON.

The Wonderful Sells Show. On Tuesday, October 21, at Fort Worth, the surrounding country will have an opportunity of witnessing what is undoubtedly the largest, the best, the greatest and the purest show on earth. Honest in its advertising, it exhibits everything it advertises. Honest in the manner in which it is conducted, it is free from that obnoxious feature, the "candy butcher." It is known the world over as the most complete show in all its branches ever held. The zoological collection embraces every beast of which mankind has any knowledge. The Star Arena exhibition, or circus proper beats the world, and consists of 200 star artists, giving a wonderful exhibition in four great circus-rings, six acts at one and the same time, or a total of more than one hundred acts, in one exhibition, afternoon or night.

What the Minneapolis Tribune of June 10 says regarding this wonderful show:

"The Circus—Such a crowd as rushed in upon Sells Bros. last evening is rarely seen at a circus even in Minneapolis. Long before the performance commenced it was necessary to close the doors—there being from 11,000 to 12,000 people packed like sardines in a box inside the tent. The performance was an admirable one throughout. James Robinson, who has no equal as a bare-back rider, Frank Gardner and Adelaide Codona all performed admirable equestrian acts. Harry Long and Frank Gardner proved themselves most wonderful tumbler, the Purvis sisters in a slack wire and globe act were artistic, the Strik family performed wonders with the bicycle, and Maggie Claire was a most daring aerial artist. Each feature advertised was presented, and nothing was indifferently performed. The Sells Bros. are justly entitled to the good name they have won as honest and excellent caterers to the patrons of the saw-dust arena.

We can say from our own knowledge that the wonderful fifty cage menagerie is the greatest zoological collection on earth, including all known quadrupeds, wild and wonderful, ever classified in zoology, including in its vast entirety the only living pair of hippopotami ever held, and the only giraffes now on exhibition anywhere. The completeness of the show as a whole is certainly unequaled.
