

STATE NEWS.

and Happenings of the Day— Occurrences for Weal or Woe.

Special to the Gazette. ... Own Correspondents.

Smuggled Goods.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 30.—A large quantity of smuggled goods was made by ...

Morphine Himself.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—This morning ...

Lab-De-Dah Dudes.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—J. E. Rowland ...

A Burn at Kopperel.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—The alarm ...

Liabilities Double Assets.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—R. E. Finch ...

A Great Hoax.

Brownsville, Tex., Dec. 31.—Major ...

Sudden Death.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—Charles ...

Tetanus Killed Him.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—Information ...

Houston Dots.

Houston, Tex., Dec. 31.—Suit was ...

Repeat the Lease Law.

Kinney, Tex., Dec. 31.—A large assembly ...

Romantic Marriage.

Frank, Tex., Dec. 31.—The marriage ...

Didn't Offer Enough.

Frank, Tex., Dec. 31.—The first car of ...

Secondary Fire.

Frank, Tex., Dec. 31.—About 4 ...

Can't Find Their Wiggins.

Tucson, A. T., Dec. 31.—Advices to ...

Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham ...

SHERMAN.

A Long and Laborious Term of the District Court Closes in Grayson County.

An Attorney is Said to Have Done Wroth—Visiting the City—Improvements in Prospect.

Special to the Gazette.

SHERMAN, TEX., Dec. 31.—The district court closed a long and laborious term at noon to-day, and his honor will put in the rest of the week in re-issuing statements of facts for revision by the higher courts of the state.

Several prisoners in whose cases notice of appeal had been given, were brought before the court and by their attorneys withdrew the appeal.

The boy Wesley Clark, who is only about 17 years old, shed tears when the certainty of the felon's stripe dawned on his mind.

United States Commissioner Ricketts got through with the tedious examining trial of Charles Gaines colored, of the Indian Territory, who stood and still stands charged with theft of cattle and the killing and skinning of cattle in that country.

Mr. Rowley, our handsome and popular railroad agent, returned from a visit to the Nation Monday last, and has again taken charge of his station.

Miss Lou Mullens, assistant teacher in the public school here, returned from a pleasant visit to her home at Clarksville Sunday evening.

The handsome and mashing Mr. E. T. Hall, the pumper, and J. S. Tucker, night operator at this place, were at Pilot Point taking in the sights Christmas day.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

Mr. S. F. Smith, one of the most scientific railroad bosses in the state, did the city of Denison during the holidays.

TAYLOR & BARR.

With the closing week of 1885 we desire to return thanks to our customers for their liberal patronage, and solicit its continuance. The impression is deep and widespread that a house carrying the immense stock that we do cannot exist selling for SPOT CASH ONLY.

Equipped as we are with resident buyers in all the leading Eastern markets, with the most complete and least expensive system known to the commercial world for the handling of goods at retail, employing none but polite and experienced salesmen as chiefs of department, with abundant room and light in which to display the immense bargains that only a CASH HOUSE can offer, with a thoroughly organized mail and express special order department, shipping goods to every city, town and hamlet west of the Mississippi river, our business has assumed such proportions as to enable us to offer goods as low as can be had in any American market.

Your obedient servants, TAYLOR & BARR.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.

A Young Man from Georgia Gets Into One of Them and is Fleeced.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 31.—Ben Graham is a young man and he hails from Georgia. He put foot on Dallas soil yesterday, with a weight of $150 in his pants pockets.

DENISON.

Several Citizens of the Gate City, Railroad Men, Suffer in the Garrett Wreck.

They Will Hereafter Take the Best Paper in the State—With the Angels.

Special to the Gazette. DENISON, TEX., Dec. 31.—Last night at 10 o'clock a "fallend collision" took place at Garrett, a small station 100 miles south of Denison.

They then returned to the saloon in which they heard the quarrel, and questioned the bar-keeper, who said he had $60 of Graham's money, which was kept until this morning and restored to its lawful owner.

PILOT POINT.

A Hotly Contested Case About a Crop—Going Back to School—Personal.

Pilot Point, Tex., Dec. 31.—Misses Mattie and Ollie Easley of Fort Worth returned this morning to resume their studies at the seminary.

A large number of the friends of Rev. J. W. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his estimable wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise last evening at their residence on Hill street.

TELESCOPED.

GARNETT, TEX., Dec. 31.—The north-bound passenger train on the Central and a freight train telescoped at Garrett station yesterday evening, the engine of the passenger running nearly through the caboose of the freight.

There was a full trip of passengers aboard. Nearly all of them were thrown from their seats and more or less injured.

The collision occurred at the switch. The engineer of the freight says that two of the cars of his train were off the track, and he gave a signal to that effect, but it was not seen, or at least not heeded.

Another engine was telegraphed for at Dallas, which arrived at the scene of the wreck at 3 p. m. to-day, and reached Dallas at 5 p. m.

VARIETY SHOWS.