Revival Exercises.

Rev. A. A. Allison of the Fourth Street Methodist church announces the opening of revival meetings, to be continued at his church throughout the week.

Pasture Fire. Yesterday afternoon the fire alarm was given from box 5, that being the nearest box to the well-known pasture of Capt. Evans, where the fire was.

Wanted in Illinois. An important arrest was made yesterday by Officers Scott and Buchanan, who brought in from Smithfield, in this county, William, alias Dug Wilson, wanted in Salem, Ill., for grand larceny.

Messiah Rehearsals. The Choral society will rehearse the Messiah at the Cumberland Presbyterian church to-morrow (Monday) night, and at the opera-house next Friday at 7:30 p. m. with the orchestra.

The Festival Finale. The closing night of Kirmes was attended by a splendid gathering of the youth, beauty and culture of the city, and was a happy culmination of a social event of no ordinary brilliancy.

Bond Over. The examining trial of C. J. Eastman and Dan Cummings, charged with robbing Ambrose Parks of something like $200, took place before Justice Zim yesterday afternoon.

Denounce the Planes. Friday night Joe Mignon went into the St. John's saloon on Main and Thirteenth street and engaged in some game of chance with one or more of the inmates.

ON THE STREET. An unusual number of commercial travelers are registered at the Grand hotel to-day.

Dr. Bowman, a prominent divine from Gainesville, will address the Young Men's Christian association this afternoon at 8:30 o'clock.

Tarrant county will have something to say in regard to the election of a state senator this fall, and there is a worthy and competent gentleman mentioned for the position.

Officer J. W. Collins injured his right leg quite seriously Friday night, falling over some baggage at the Union depot. He was unable to continue on duty, but may be out to-night.

Rev. R. M. Tinson remarked yesterday that the subscriptions to the proposed $40,000 church were steadily augmenting, and that the friends of the measure were never more sanguine of success.

Busk street is being beautifully improved, as is Weatherford, so is East Fourth street. The work is of the sort that will endure, and is only another evidence of metropolitan greatness.

The owners of the Pickwick are likely to put on those two additional stories at an early date and thus give the city what it has long needed in the way of a first-class hotel. Apropos of this matter, the work on Mr. Ellis' building is being rapidly pushed.

Mrs. J. M. Don, living near Crowley, had her pocket-book stolen Friday day and $5 and a gold ring stolen. Two half-dollars in the pocket-book were stolen in 1885, and through them the thief may be caught.

The charge of swindling against J. A. Odenheimer has been withdrawn by the complainant, Luke Short, the matter having been compromised between them. Odenheimer had Short a check for $600 in lieu of the $700 involved in the case.

Mr. F. M. Gies, the popular up-town barber, has re-opened a new barber shop at 206 Houston street between First and Second. He has fitted it up with handsome furniture, and with his corps of tonsorial artists, will conduct just the kind of a shop that the public delight in patronizing.

There are a number of well-known citizens who have been trying a certain prominent young citizen, who runs for mayor, but it is understood that up to present time he has declined to run. The gentleman, however, appreciates the good will of his many friends.

The evening school at the Business college is well patronized, as it should be. There are a great many young men and boys in the city that would be greatly benefited if they would only spend their evenings in this way. Prof. Pruitt informs us that all of the English, as well as the commercial branches, are taught. Our young men should not let this opportunity pass.

A REMARKABLE FUNGUS.

Dr. J. McLeish, of the University of Texas, reports a remarkable fungus growth upon the left breast, or more correctly speaking from the side, the entire breast having been removed within the past year and the present growth being an off-shoot, as it were, of the old cicatrix.

Mr. Laing made no homes of expression in his speech in his story and loudly raised the cry of fraud. In fact, he created quite a little scene in a store on the square, and a policeman, thinking there was going to be trouble, interfered to maintain the peace.

It is not just to Gin to say that he is spoken of by his neighbors as a "square man" and it is by no means improbable that it was an honest loss. Still it will be an exceedingly difficult matter to ever settle satisfactorily, since there isn't one chance in a hundred that the money will ever turn up.

There is a tradition that ascribes the origin as having originated in honor of St. Valentine's day, when a young man, A. D. 270, at the time of the Claudian persecutions at Rome, another authority says that the connection of the day with the saint mentioned is purely accidental.

HOW THEY USED TO DO. In merry England (far merrier than now), in Scotland and in parts of France, the day was a festive one and brought about no little rejoicing among the young.

THE METROPOLITAN SHAKESPEARE FOUNDATIONS OF THE GRAND OPERA HOUSES WITH DEERLING APPLAUSE.

When Miss Annie Pixley came on the stage of the Grand opera-house in her rags as M'LISS last evening, it seemed as if the walls of the massive building would crack so deafening was the applause bestowed upon her.

But that's only one side—the comic. While all the quaint ceremonial and bygone antics of our good ancestors have utterly vanished, there isn't a doubt that to the young it is yet a sweet and sentimental day, a day bringing to many shy hearts the first love and to many a woman—the first unfolding of "love's young dream."
