Cemetery Association—What it Has Accomplished and What it Intends to Do.

Full and Complete History of the Movement from Its Inception to the Present Time.

Many inquiries have been made recently concerning what is being accomplished by the Old Cemetery Association.

In view of this fact a short history of the cemetery and an explanation of the purpose of the benevolent ladies forming the Old Cemetery Association is of interest to many.

The spot upon which the cemetery situated was decided to the some years ago as a burying ground by Mr. Samuels, original trustee for the city were Van Zandt, Dr. Peak and Capt. M. B. Loyd.

It was not until the year 1857 that the cemetery was really the dead buried there for the most part left to take care of themselves.

Under this management, many were placed right in the regular grave road, so that it is impossible to drive through the cemetery without passing over graves.

One year ago two or three ladies in this city, who considered the condition of the old cemetery disgraceful to the city and respect to the dead buried there, began to discuss the matter.

As a result of this was that a meeting of the ladies interested was called at the residence of Mrs. M. B. Loyd on the 10th of last February.

There were ladies present at this meeting who had themselves into the Old Cemetery Association has since been organized and chartered with five members.

Mr. Walter Huffman, Mr. J. Brown and Mr. S. W. Lomax, the organization of the association ladies forming it have collected subscriptions from such locations in the cemetery as felt an interest in the matter.

There are about fifty-five subscribers on the list of the association who pay from 25 cents per month.

The money raised in this way has been applied to various improvements in the cemetery. The main roadway through the cemetery east-west has been graded and paid for.

marked improvement of Fort Worth and paid a high compliment to the young men of our city who have done so much to build it up.

He left on the 1:30 train for Terrell, where he will inspect the public buildings.

A CALL

For a Meeting of the Executive Committee of Confederate Reunion.

It is earnestly requested that the executive committee of ex-Confederates meet at the Fort Worth National bank this afternoon at 3:30 to take definite action in some matters of great importance in regard to the meeting of ex-Confederates here August 5, 6 and 7.

This committee is composed of the local president and the following named officers: J. P. SMITH, M. B. LOYD, J. Y. HOGSETT, Vice-Pres'ts. J. M. HENDERSON, W. L. CABELL.

W. P. WILSON, Sec'y, S. P. CUNNINGHAM, Ass't-Sec'y. A prompt attendance will further the interests of the association.

K. M. VANZANDT, Pres't, S. P. CUNNINGHAM, Ass't-Sec'y.

THE COTTON MILLS.

Col. J. M. Haney Here to Close the Contract This Morning.

Col. J. M. Haney is now ready with the plans, etc., for the buildings, and only awaits the arrival of the bond, which is expected this morning, when, everything being satisfactory to the committee and himself, the contract will be closed at the meeting this morning, and we have the assurance of Col. Haney that if the contract is signed this morning work will commence at once, or as soon as the contract can be let and material placed upon the ground, and that within ninety days from that time the machinery will be in the building, and sixty days thereafter operations will commence.

He informs us further that he has signed leaving here last contracted for $50,000 worth of other machinery, which is being made now, and will accompany the other machinery to this place. He has also arranged for transportation, and finds that there are twenty-seven car-loads of machinery alone. The moment the contract is signed he promises that things shall commence to move at both ends of the line, as he will wire his agents to get ready for shipment, while he remains here to put up the immense structure according to plans now on hand.

Through the courtesy of the gentleman, our reporter was permitted to examine the plans, and must admit the great superiority of the designs to what has been generally understood would be built for this purpose. The final meeting takes place this morning at 11 o'clock, and it is to be hoped that the matter will be consummated at once.

PAVILION ENTERTAINMENT.

The Ladies of the Oakwood Cemetery Score Another Success.

The entertainment given by the Oakwood Cemetery association at the pavilion was attended by at least three hundred people and was a great success. Everything seemed to have a splendid time and to be in the best of humor all the evening.

Everything passed off smoothly and pleasantly last night, and the young people have the liberal originators and managers of the pavilion to thank for another pleasant evening spent in "tripping the light fantastic" upon the best floor in the city, and for that matter the best in the state.

The car service afforded by the managers of the Rosedale, who are also the owners of the pavilion, is the best possible, and cars were doubled up both going and coming, so that there was always plenty of room.

The pavilion has already become the most popular place of resort in the city, and its further success is now an assured thing, for its managers have proved that they do not intend for it to be taken possession of by the roughs, toughs and hoodlums, all of whom they rigidly exclude, so that decent and respectable people may be certain that they will not be outraged by the presence of objectionable characters.

The only drawback to the affair last night was the mud, which was poor, indeed, but the young folks came to have a good time and they had it. A good band, however, has been engaged by the managers of the pavilion for the future.

The Herron Case.

The state closed its testimony in this case at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and the defense were introducing evidence entirely on the insanity plea until the adjournment of court.

This case is attracting much interest, as evidenced by the large crowds that throng the court-room, and the result will be most eagerly watched.

The Manual of Arms.

Our militia were out last night drilling, and, from appearances, they will make some of the companies sick before the state encampment at Lampasas closes. The boys are getting quite proficient in the manual of arms, and the exhibition drill as given in front of THE GAZETTE office last night was most creditable, indeed. Persevere in the work, stand up to a most rigorous discipline, and you will be heard from before long.

Pestiferous.

FORT WORTH, TEX., June 9, 1885. To the Editor of the Gazette.

The residents of the southeastern portion of Fort Worth are greeted with refreshing odors these sultry summer days. Last Friday or Saturday some one killed a large dog on the corner of Hattie and Crawford streets, where he has peacefully reposed ever since, a has peacefully reposed ever since, a feast for green flies and the consequent vermin. There are numerous other nuisances in that immediate neighborhood that should be abated immediately. Should our "sanitary" officers attend to this or not?

AFFAIRS ABROAD.

The Signing of the Afghan Frontier Convention Again Deferred by Earl Granville.

Robert Schlagintweit, the German Traveler, Dead—Cholera Gaining Foot-hold in Spain.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Afghan Frontier Convention Still Un-signed.

LONDON, June 9.—The Afghan frontier convention between England and Russia is ready for signature. It was arranged that the representatives of the two powers should sign the convention in London to-day, but the signing was subsequently postponed. The Russian embassy officials assert that the delay is due to Earl Granville's asking for fresh explanations concerning points already accepted by Russia. Complaints come from the foreign department at St. Petersburg that a breach of diplomatic propriety has been committed by the English foreign office in compiling the recent Blue Book. The complainants say the document has been so crooked for presentation to parliament that the Russian government will be compelled to publish a corrected collection of the diplomatic correspondence.

A Great Scientist Dead.

The death is announced of Robert Schlagintweit, the German traveler and scientist.

Herr Schlagintweit was born in 1833. He was one of three sons of an eye physician of Munich, who received a careful education by their enthusiastic study of physical science, especially geology. Twice he explored the Alps, and from 1854 to '58 they undertook, supported by the king of Prussia and the British East India company, comprehensive explorations of the Himalayas, Thibet, Hindostan and Deccan, the results of which have been pronounced invaluable. Robert also traveled extensively on the American continent.

The Adams Coleridge Affair.

It was announced to-day that the terms of settlement of the slander case of Charles Warren Adams against Lord Coleridge had been arranged. The lord chief justice settles an income of £900 yearly on his daughter, Miss Mildred, on the occasion of her marriage to Mr. Adams, and the legal disputes are to be referred to arbitration.

The Banquet of the Geographical Society.

Among the guests at the banquet of the Geographical society last evening were Lords Houghton, Aberdare and Lorne, St. Peter Lumsden, M. Lessar and Henry M. Stanley. Lord Lorne was elected president of the society for the ensuing year.

A Statue to Darwin.

The statue to Darwin was unveiled by Prof Huxley in the museum of natural history at Kenington to-day. The dedication address which Huxley delivered was on the scientific value of Darwin's researches.

The prince of Wales received the statue on behalf of the museum. In his address the prince dwelt at length on the vast influence exercised by Darwin in favor of the progress of knowledge, and expressed gratitude for the support which foreign countries had given the movement to erect the memorial. Among the distinguished persons present at the unveiling ceremonies were Robt. Browning, Lord Houghton, Prof. Richard Owen and Herbert Spencer.

SPAIN.

Asiatic Cholera in Madrid.

MADRID, June 9.—Despite the repeated denials of the authorities it is now known that there have been eleven cases of Asiatic cholera in this city and two deaths from that disease.

The cholera has also broken out in Castellon de la Plana, where there have been forty-one cases. Senor Romero Yrobledo, the minister of the interior, has resigned in consequence of his plans for improving the sanitary condition of the country having been disregarded.

Special wards in the hospitals have been assigned for suspected cases of cholera. The authorities are visiting the poorer quarters of the city and attending to the disinfection of houses. Vessels from Valencia are subjected to three days' quarantine at other Spanish ports. France, Italy and Germany quarantine vessels from Valencia.

EIGHT CASES AT THE CAPITAL.

There were eight suspected cases of cholera reported here to-day. There was also a rumor that four deaths had occurred from the same disease. In the cortes Senor Romero Yrobledo, minister of the interior, made a statement which confirmed the truth of the report of the outbreak of cholera in Valencia. He denied, however, that any authentic cases of cholera had yet appeared in Madrid. The government, said the minister, would readopt the extraordinary precautionary measures taken during the outbreak of the disease in 1854. When it occurred lazarettes were established and cordons of troops were formed for the purpose of isolating the districts infected.

RUSSIA.

A Train Robbed.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—A terrible accident occurred on the railway from Kostoff to Reatoff on the river Don. A bar of iron was placed across the track by robbers and the train which came along was thrown from the rails and demolished. The number of people killed and wounded was seventy. The robbers who were waiting for the smash-up plundered the train. The wounded and the survivors were completely terrorized, and could make no resistance.

THE DYER BOYS.

Hundreds of People Flock to View Their Remains.

BONHAM, TEX., June 9.—After the inquest was held over the bodies of Eli and Sam Dyer yesterday, their remains were moved to the ground floor in the northeast corner of the court-house, where hundreds of the curious flocked to look upon them for the last time. They were both neatly dressed, and their faces gave no evidences that are common to persons who die from hanging. Notwithstanding these two men have had the reputation of being the worst bandits ever raised in the county, a feeling of apparent sadness presented itself upon the countenances of many who looked at the mortal remains of the Dyer brothers yesterday. Near the hour of 3 o'clock yesterday Wm. Baker, an uncle of the Dyers, who lives on Red river some fifteen miles from here, arrived in our city and at once ordered respectable coffins in which the remains of Eli and Sam were placed. Both coffins were placed in one wagon and taken back to the vicinity of Mr. Baker's farm, where they were interred to-day. Thus winds up the sad career of two lives mispent. While our county inhabitants are as law-abiding as any in the state, and as much as mob law is to be deprecated in this instance of hanging, all the circumstances being considered, it cannot, we think, be a very remarkable fact that a few sympathizers in consequence of the ending of the earthly existence of Eli and Sam Dyer.

When here yesterday Mr. Baker reported that the mother of Eli and Sam Dyer was almost crazy on account of the news of the hanging of her two sons.

The Remains of Three Old Settlers Removed to Ellis County for Final Interment.

Deputy Sheriff Work in the Fort Gathering in His Coons—The Scholastic Census Report.

DALLAS, TEX., June 9.—The bodies of W. M. Jennings, John S. Newbold and Ralmond Deakon, who died in this city some years ago, were buried in what is now the northwest part of the city, close beside where the track of the Missouri Pacific or old Dallas & Wichita railroad is now laid. A short time ago the widow of W. M. Jennings died at her home in Ellis county and was buried in the cemetery at Italy in that county. Her dying request was that the remains of her husband should be taken up and re-buried beside her, and also that the remains of the other above-named persons, relatives, should be taken up and buried in the same cemetery. In accordance with this request Mr. Jennings, her son-in-law, had the remains taken up yesterday for removal to Italy. W. M. Jennings died in 1857, Newbold in 1858, and Deakon in 1862. Jennings built the first and second brick houses ever erected in Dallas. The first one stood about where the old Dallas & Wichita depot is, but was torn down some years ago. The second one still stands, corner of Jefferson and Commerce streets, on the square, and is now occupied by the Oliver Chilled Plow company.

Narrow Escape.

ROCHESTER, June 1, 1885. Ten years ago I was attacked with the most intense and deadly pains in my back and kidneys.

"Extending to the end of my toes and to my brain!" "Which made me delirious!" "From agony!!!" "It took three men to hold me on my bed at times!" "The doctors tried in vain to relieve me, but to no purpose."

"Morphine and other opiates!" "Had no effect!" "After two months I was given up to die!!!" "When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain."

"The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months, before I had used five bottles. I was well and at work as hard as any man could for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that ever was known."

"I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches for life, as they said. I met a friend and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would cure me. I pooled at him, but he was so earnest that I was induced to use them again."

"In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the Bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living, and have been so for six years since."

"It has also cured my wife, who had been sick for years; and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to be sick at all if these Bitters are used."

J. J. BRINK, Ex-Supervisor. "That poor, invalid wife, sister, mother."

"Or daughter!!!" "Can be made the picture of health!" "With a few bottles of Hop Bitters!"
