COUNTERFEITER CAPTURED.

A Silver Dollar Imitator Landed Behind the Bars.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 2.—Detectives Quinlan and King have arrested J. H. Indle, alias McDonald, a notorious counterfeiter and crook who has been passing and disposing of in various ways for the past few weeks in this city, finely counterfeited silver dollars. This spurious coin is nearly a perfect counterfeit of the genuine. The only difference being that it is a trifle lighter. Some $11,000 of this stuff was found concealed in a cave near Cedar lake. Indle confessed to the detectives that the stuff is made by a well organized gang located near Omaha. Indle has served a term in the penitentiary for safe breaking. He also confessed a gang had been organized to burglarize several banks and business houses in St. Paul and Minneapolis to-morrow night. Other arrests will follow.

Fuze Powder.

Fuze baking powder are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food, and the housewife will do well to be on her guard against baking powder swamps. Silvert Leaf Baking Powder is never peddled from house to house, as the manufacturing establishment of J. H. Brown is taxed to its uttermost to supply the demands that come through legitimate channels.

DALLAS STATE FAIR.

Exposition Hall Still Crowded With Visitors and Magnificent Displays in Every Department.

Luke Short Hurts a Blood Vessel—The Mermaid Anti-Poetical—The Hawk Indian Pony Race.

Special to the Gazette.

DALLAS, TEX., Nov. 2.—And still the Dallas State fair goes on. A stiff south wind has been whistling through the grounds to-day, filling the eyes of the pedestrians with a mild solution of Dallas dust, and improving the flavor of the lemonade man's beverage, while ever and anon it toyed with the solitary garment of some sight-seeing Comanche maiden, causing her to sit quickly down on the ground in order to catch the eyes of the impudent male face, who eagerly endeavored to catch a peep at her pretty brown hose. All these Indian girls wear flesh-colored hose—a light tan, no painted or striped goods—but just the "natural leaf."

Early this morning the big shafting in machinery hall made its first revolution, turning the

THOUSANDS OF WHEELS in that immense building, and filling the air with the buzz and clatter of the many wonders of mechanism. Soon the people began to pour in, and in a short time the grounds were covered with living, moving, masses of humanity, apparently as eager to see the sights as on the first day the exposition opened. It would take weeks to write up the wonders of exposition hall, while the same time would barely suffice to do justice to

MACHINERY HALL. You can see anything you ever heard of, on the grounds, and many things you never dreamed of before are on exhibition. It is one continual novelty all the way through, and no one man or woman can see it all in a day. Just when you imagine you have completed the sights, you run square up on something else of interest. You can find anything you want to cat from a raw penit

MERMAID ON THE HALF SHELL, and anything you want to drink from perpendicular pine-top whiskey to raw water. There is a Japanese curiosity here in the shape of a little woman, sitting in a rocking chair, on top a stand. She sits and rocks away all day long with a kind of mechanical motion, and the bats are running about even as to whether it is a woman of flesh and bone, or a waxen figure moved by machinery.

The simplest total absence of crimes committed on the fair grounds reflects much credit upon the police force of Dallas. It was known that there were a lot of "crooks" on the grounds yesterday, but rumor says they left the city last night, fearing trouble.

Among the wonders on exhibition here is a mermaid, said to have been captured in the Southern seas. A look at this delicate specimen of the mermaid family has scattered many a dream of youth, and caused the beholder to swear off reading poetry for all time to come. One of the special attractions for the boys, was an eighteen wheel gas-you-please pony race by a troop of Indians. No one was barred on account of sex. Col. Lo won the race by dint of hard riding, and his broad, copper-colored face wore a smile so wide that it lapped over his ears.

The bicycle race was postponed until to-morrow.

In the 1-mile dash Monday, Luke Short bursted a blood vessel, and the chances are that he will not be put on the track again.

S. R. Carmichael, formerly of Lampasas county, who was run over yesterday by Telegraph flying the track, is much better to-day, and hopes are entertained for his recovery. The awards to-day were as follows:

ARMS NO. 1. Saddle stallions, three years and under. Committee—Don Bell, Taylor county; G. L. Maloney, Hunt county; A. W. Stearns, Dallas county. First premium, T. E. Shirley, Melissa, Collin county; second premium, W. W. Hicks, Kaufman county.

Roadsters in harness—Best mare four years or over. First premium, C. Harris, Versailles, Ky.; second premium, C. Harris, Versailles, Ky. Best mare under four years. First premium, F. M. Crutcher, Dallas; no competitor.

Trot, double teams, mile heats. Purse, $1,000. Trot, Fort Worth. Time—1:29.1.

ARMS NO. 2. Matched Horses—Committee: G. L. Maloney, Hunt county; A. W. Stearns, Dallas; George Slaughter, Dallas. Best pair mares in harness; first premium, C. Harris, Versailles, Ky.; second, Wade Hampton, Independence, Kansas.

Best pair geldings or mares for coach purposes—Granger and Royal George, owned by M. L. Crawford, Dallas.

The programme to-morrow is as follows:

First race—Run, two-mile dash, free for all; maidens allowed five pounds; $400. Second race—Trot, 2:27 class; $400. Third race—Run, five-eighths of a mile dash, for 2-year-olds; maidens allowed five pounds; $250.

FAIR NOTES. The display of saddlery by Padgett Bros. still claims the attention of dealers in that class of goods, and more than one squad of cow-boys were seen to stop and gaze in admiration at the pyramid of stock paraphernalia.

SAXON'S DISPLAY. The magnificent display of Sanger Bros. has been the chief attraction in the main building since the exposition opened. They occupy 25 by 60 feet to the right of the main entrance, and their exhibit is composed of selections from eleven different departments of their immense establishment. These are arranged in one superb octagonal-shaped sub-divided show-case that extends from the floor to the ceiling, and around the entire length of the room.

The selection in each department represents the finest fabrics ever shown in Texas, and the arrangement evinces the handiwork of a born artist. Without artificial aids the display is one of dazzling splendor, and when the magic effect of the electric light is added it becomes almost gorgeous in its magnificence. On the extreme right is their display of gloves and hosiery, followed by ladies' underwear, lace department, cloaks, buttons and dress goods. The left wing is given up to house-furnishing goods, shawls, shoes and gents' furnishing goods, while the center sub-division, about twenty-five feet in length by eight in depth, contains their display of millinery goods. This might be termed the special feature of the display, in fact any one sub-division is worthy of particular mention above the balance.

An attempt to portray the beauty of this display of millinery would be a useless waste of words. The arrangement of fine hats, bonnets, plumes, tips, fans, feathers and flowers, relieved by two handsome wax figures in full evening and bridal costume, makes up a picture that must be seen and studied to be appreciated. Both costumes were made in the dress-making department of Sanger Brothers' establishment, from material carried in stock, and every article embraced in the entire exhibit is but sample selections from their sales-room. It is evident that visitors who have come and gone during the fair have been advertising this exhibit, since three-fourths of the ladies on arrival to-day spent their first half-hour, as they entered it, in "Sangers" department. This half-hour was in most instances followed by a second visit in the afternoon, and throughout the entire day the room was literally packed by interested, happy-looking spectators.

PILOT POINT.

Fatal Railway Accident at Aubrey—Arm Crushed in a Glo.

Special to the Gazette.

PILOT POINT, TEX., Nov. 2.—A sad railroad accident occurred this morning at Aubrey, the station seven miles south of the city, in which Mr. Charles Skinner, well known here, was instantly killed. He was the son of Mr. Samuel Skinner, a large stock man formerly of this county, but recently removed to the Indian Territory, to which place Charles was bound with stock. Two freight trains were upon the side track, the one bound north and the other had made the attempt to ascend the heavy grade, but falling, ran back. The cabooses attached to each train collided. Charles was standing upon the rear platform of the north bound, and was crushed to death. Justice F. Miles went down and impaneled a jury, who rendered a verdict as above stated, the result of carelessness on the part of the trainmen. His remains were brought here this afternoon for interment. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his departure.

Albert Abner, colored, employed in Cooper Selz's gin, this city, had an arm amputated in the gin this forenoon, and this afternoon Doctors Whitton and De Bone amputated it near the shoulder.

Mr. Mack Wilson, prominent planter six miles southwest of town, was seriously, if not dangerously, wounded by being thrown upon a wire fence by a runaway team. He was frightfully cut about the head and other portions of his body were considerably cut.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

AUBREY, TEX., Nov. 2.—A collision occurred here this morning between two freight trains, telescoping two cabooses, breaking several cars and instantly killing a stockman named Charles Skinner, of Vinita, I. T.

Angostura Bitters, the world renowned appetizer and invigorator, imparts a delicious flavor to all drinks and cures dyspepsia, diarrhoea, fever and ague. Try it, but beware of counterfeits. Ask your grocer or your druggist for the genuine Angostura, manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

ANOTHER EXPRESS ROBBERY.

A Sealed Car Opened and Many Valuables Taken Therefrom.

TOLEDO, OHIO, Nov. 2.—The United States Express company has another mysterious robbery on its hands to be cleared and settled for. On the arrival of the Lake Shore from Chicago last night it was discovered here that something wrong existed in the express car that runs closed and sealed between Chicago and New York. An examination developed the fact that the car had been entered, that sundry packages containing valuable merchandise had been opened by the robbers and an unknown quantity carried away. The express officials at once took steps to cover all evidence of the crime and set about to find a clue to the robber or robbers. The car had been opened in Toledo evidently by some one who knew more than would be accredited to an ordinary thief. Suspicion was at once directed toward certain employees. Superintendent Cane of the United States Express Company, and Superintendent Charles Worth, of the Lake Shore, were in conference to-day with the aid of the company's detectives, endeavoring to discover the perpetrators of the crime.

NEGRO INSURRECTION.

An Uprising of Black Men Reported from North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2.—Incendiary speeches of a negro in Randolph county last week caused excitement which led to his arrest. There were current on Saturday reports of lynching. This morning Gov. Scales received a telegram from Capt. W. Johns of the Third regiment of state guards at High Point, that a negro insurrection was imminent, and offering the services of his company there. Gov. Scales responded instructing him to hold his men in readiness, but to take no action until ordered to do so. The gov. ernor then telegraphed for particulars.

IN THE DOMINION.

Two Men Suffer the Death Penalty for Murder.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 2.—Albert Wallat was hanged in jail at Kammerloofs yesterday. The crime for which he suffered death was the murder of Andrew Johnston at Revelstake, B. C., August 5, 1885.

Ah Sweet, who was convicted of the murder of a brother Chisaman in August, 1885, was hanged in New Westminster jail yesterday.

Buried in a Sand-Pit.

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 2.—James Coffey, aged seven years; James Daugherty, aged seven years; John Daugherty, aged six years, and Ellen Daugherty, aged three years, were suffocated in a sand-pit in the Third ward of this city last evening. A bank under which they were playing fell in.

Fell Down an Elevator.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—B. F. Farrington of the firm of B. F. Farrington & Co., wholesale grocers, fell down an elevator from the second story to-day and fractured his skull. He will probably die. Farrington was well known throughout the country.

STATE OFFICER ARRESTED.

A Louisiana Official Charged With Embezzlement of State Funds.

BATON ROUGE, LA., Nov. 2.—Gen. William A. Strong, brigadier general of the state militia of this state, and present secretary of the Louisiana state senate, presented himself at Baton Rouge yesterday and surrendered for trial in the district court, on a charge of embezzling state funds. There is a state law which requires that the paper for election ballots shall be of a specific kind, furnished by the state and sold to the election managers or other interested parties. This paper is placed in the custody of the secretary of state, who deals it out to purchasers, accounting to the treasurer for money received to cover his trouble. Gen. Strong is charged with having, while he was secretary of state, failed to account for moneys received from the sales of this paper. The defalcation, which has extended for several years, amounts to some $100,000. He has lately been indicted by the grand jury of the Baton Rouge district court, and his somewhat tardy appearance for trial in the result. He has been admitted to bail in the sum of $5000.

"Oh! my head aches, and I am unable to attend to my business," is a remark often heard. The sufferer will find a specific in Morris' Cascarine.

MRS. STEWART'S RELATIVES.

Those to Whom the Great Estate will Probably Go—Few Public Requests.

New York, Oct. 26.—Everybody speculated to-day as to the disposition which Mrs. Stewart had made of the huge property left her by her husband, and to which she had added a large amount by her frugality and Judge Hilton's economical management. The report that the mansion with its art treasures had been left to the city as a public gallery was denied by near friends of the deceased, who say that such a disposition of the residence and its contents, valued, all told, at $5,000,000, would be entirely foreign to the conservative spirit of the Stewarts. Neither Alexander T. Stewart nor his wife believed in public benefactions. The general opinion among those who are in a position to know appears to be that the charitable bequest, a one-hundredth part of the entire estate. They think that the marble house will go to Hilton.

Charles J. Clinch, the son of Mrs. Stewart's dead brother, called Judge Hilton from Paris yesterday that he would leave for America on the first steamer. Mr. Clinch and his sister, Mrs. Smith, are Mrs. Stewart's nearest blood relatives. He has always been a favorite of hers and dependent on her bounty for his support. Mr. Clinch has an only daughter, and it is generally believed that a greater portion of the estate will go to him. Mrs. Lawrence Smith, wife of Judge Lawrence Smith, of Smithtown, L. I., was Mrs. Stewart's sister-in-law. Her six children will also come in for a fair portion of the estate: The Misses Julia, Anna and Mary Clinch, half sisters of Mrs. Stewart, will probably receive something. Judge Henry Hilton, Col. Henry Hilton, Jr., his son, and his daughters, Mrs. John Hughes and Mrs. Horace Russell, will undoubtedly be remembered. Dr. J. C. Minor, who has attended Mrs. Stewart for ten years and daily for the last three years, is said to be dowry for $100,000. William Smith, Mrs. Mack, the housekeeper, Fanny, the maid, and the other servants are remembered for greater or less amounts.

The will in all probability will not be opened until Mr. Clinch arrives from Paris. Mrs. Stewart's diamonds are valued at $750,000. Some of them are so large and valuable that she never ventured to wear them.
