The many friends of Mr. A. E. Pitts will be pleased to learn of his return to Fort Worth as manager of the boot and shoe business of Messrs. Lewis Bros. Mr. H. P. Hilliard, cashier of the Bank of Weatherford, passed through the city yesterday with a lovely young bride whom he lately led to the altar in Austin.

Capt. Frank Ryan of Dallas, general superintendent of the Texas State fair, and Mr. A. Rouse of Sherman, were welcome visitors at THE GAZETTE yesterday. Col. John D. Rogers of Galveston arrived in the city yesterday morning on his return trip to Galveston.

Mr. G. N. Richards, editor of the Standard, published at Warrensburg, Mo., accompanied by his wife, is here visiting Maj. J. J. Jarvis, a brother of Mrs. Richards.

Mr. R. H. Lindsay, an extensive dealer in the "fleece staple," with headquarters at Shreveport, was a welcome guest at the Pickwick yesterday, as he and the general host, Mr. Kennedy, were old time friends, having fought for the stars and bars together in the Sixteenth Louisiana regiment, Gibson's brigade, of which Mr. Lindsay was the gallant lieutenant-colonel.

ON THE STREET. Parties giving social entertainments of any kind, festivals, etc., in town or county will confer a favor on THE GAZETTE by sending a short notice thereof to this paper. The GAZETTE desires to note all such entertainments and trusts that its friends will appreciate the difficulty of covering the whole city without any outside assistance. The races will doubtless draw a goodly crowd to-day. Another term of the district court begins next Monday. The more the Mardi-Gras enterprise is talked of the more favor it finds in the eyes of the public. The county commissioners attended to some road business yesterday and swore in a few more new officers. County Clerk John F. Swayze formally succeeded himself in office yesterday. His three skilled deputies, J. F. Prosser, Jesse Nunnelly and Felix O'Duhigg, were also re-installed. A Dallas codge: Telling strangers that Fort Worth is not a good city to locate in from the high rate of taxation caused by the city's indebtedness to railroads. It is hardly necessary to state that Fort Worth as a corporation never gave a dollar to get a railroad. It was done by the voluntary subscription of the most public-spirited people in Texas. Death of F. Quickenstedt, Sr. At an early hour yesterday morning at the residence of his son-in-law, A. G. Rintleman, Mr. F. Quickenstedt, Sr., departed this life. He was in his fifty-fifth year, and had been in ill health for a long time.

MOST PERFECT MADE. Prepared with strict regard to purity, strength and wholesomeness.

The funeral will take place at the residence of Mr. Rintleman, corner of Thirteenth and Throckmorton, at 10 o'clock this morning.

Retiring Officers. Of Walter Maddox, late sheriff of Tarrant county, it may be said truthfully that he retires from that office carrying with him the good will, respect and confidence of thousands of his fellow citizens.

Real Estate Transfers. For the last two or three days the young men that have to record the warranty deeds in the county clerk's office, have had all they could do to keep up with the business.

ILLINOIS EXCURSIONISTS. WILL STOP IN FORT WORTH ON THEIR WAY BACK FROM CALIFORNIA. The noted excursion from Illinois to Texas and California, under the auspices of the Texas & Pacific railroad, arrived this far on their journey last night.

THE WRONG MEN. TWO MEN HELD FOR MURDER ON A DENISON DISPATCH. Yesterday City Marshal Ris received a telegram from Marshal Cutler of Denison asking him to arrest two men named Fugh and Byrnie, wanted in Denison for murder.

Good Citizens Arrested. In the recorder's court yesterday, his honor, Mayor Broiles, was fined for leaving his horse hitched to an awning post on Main street. He submitted gracefully to the penalty—a V and trimmings—but took occasion to say that the statute forbidding the practice was in hourly violation in Fort Worth, and intimated that it would be well for the police to look after other offenders.

His advice was promptly acted on and inside of two hours several of Fort Worth's most solid citizens were undergoing the novel luxury of being arrested, among them, Frank Twombly, J. H. Robinson, Walter West, L. Stein, E. W. Provine, Thomas Franklin, Bill Richardson and others.

It will take just the same amount that the mayor contributed for these gentlemen who (without malice aforethought) violated the ordinances to get a clean receipt from the city. Henceforth it will be well for vehicle drivers to carry a darkey along to hold their steeds, or else drive animals that, like Dr. Adams', don't need any hitching.

Another city ordinance that the authorities say has been long a dead letter, but which they now mean to enforce, is the law against sweeping trash and debris of every sort into the gutters.

Water! Water! The scarcity of water, feed, etc., has no effect. We still board horses at $12.50 per month. Mitchell Bros.
