Mrs. Johnson Is Guest Of McAllen Club

At the regular monthly meeting of the McAllen Pan American Round Table at Las Palmas hotel, Mrs. G. W. Johnson of Brownsville was guest speaker and had charge of the program on Mexico.

Mrs. A. F. Hawkins, director, presided. Four new members were introduced, this number completing the membership of twenty-two. All were present and there were ten guests.

Luncheon was an elaborate affair with the theme of decoration typically Mexican in keeping with the day's program. Brilliantly colored Saltillo serapes lent richness and charm to the table which had for its central adornment an Eagle cactus. Two statuettes the Charro and China Poblana on horseback, were placed at opposite points on the table. Of marked distinction were the place cards with the Mexican Coat of Arms exquisitely finished. They were hand painted and donated by a Mexican lady who is a friend of Mrs. Lauro Izaguirre, wife of the Mexican consul, recently transferred to the Consulate General in San Antonio.

Mrs. Izaguirre asked that her program be moved up so that it could be given before her departure. She requested Mrs. Johnson to take charge of the program on Mexico, and made it one of general history with a few geographical descriptions and traditions. Included among the latter was the story of the Coat of Arms, and Mrs. Johnson gave a colorful delineation of the legend.

During the meal a three piece orchestra from Reynosa played and sang, donating their services in honor of Mrs. Izaguirre.

Jose Espino, pastor of the church, read the ring nuptials for Miss Eutimia Barrera of Mission and Santos Gorenz, Jr., of Edinburg in the presence of about four hundred relatives and friends.

The bride was beautifully gowned in an eggshell satin with tulle veil which fell into the train of the dress, and carried an arm bouquet of lilies and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Beatriz Barrera, and all wore pastel lace gowns with small matching hats to match. The groom's brother, Adan Gorenz of Edinburg, served as best man.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Santos Gorenz of Edinburg and is employed with the Fidelity Abstract and Title Company in that city.

After the marriage a reception was held in the basement of the church during which a program was presented and refreshments were served. With C. G. de la Garza acting as master of ceremonies, the following program was given: piano solo, Miss Anna Maria Barrera; two vocal solos, Miss Eloisa Ramirez of Edinburg; piano and song, Miss Angelita Guerra and Tommy Guerra both of McAllen and a talk by Hidalgo Ramos of Laredo.
