A HAPPY SOLUTION

CHRISTMAS * PRESENT * PROBLEM

Do you love the sad, sweet memories of the Southland? Do you prize her present greatness, and glory in her future grandeur?

Then you will hail with delight The Sponsor Souvenir Album and History of the U. C. V. Reunion, 1895. As a memorial of a great occasion, as a unique work of art, and a delightful Christmas present, it will be appreciated by patriots and all lovers of the truly beautiful.

Photo Engravures.

The excellent photo-engravures of Miss Winnie Davis and her sister, Mrs. Maggie Davis Hayes, of the U. C. V. State Sponsors, of Generals Lee, Jackson and Johnson, Postmaster General Reagan and Dan Emmett, the author of Dixie, are alone worth the price of the book, not to mention the fine likenesses of General Gordon and the Division and State Commanders of the U. C. V.

Beautiful Women.

The South is the home of beautiful women, and rarely has there been such a gathering of her fair daughters as that which graced the Houston Reunion. They came from every State of the dear old South—a perfect galaxy of beauty. This volume contains Engravings of over Five Hundred representative Women of the South, Sponsors and Maids of Honor of U. C. V. Camps.

An Object Lesson for Texas.

The New York World says: "The prodigious efforts of Georgia to induce northern men to emigrate to the south are already bearing fruit. A colony of 12,000 families, comprising something like 50,000 persons, is to move in a few weeks from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Kansas into a tract of 100,000 acres of high, level country, which has been secured in Wilcox and Irwin counties. The colonists have $500,000 in their treasury, and have bought a railway 16 miles long, and planned a city to be called Maryopolis. Two thousand of the immigrants are already on the ground."

Acknowledged the Corn.

We have been asked so many times to publish the full populist vote in all the states in which elections were held in November that we think it due our readers to say frankly why we have not done so. When the report of the result came in through the channels of the associated press, the populist vote was reported so small that to have reported it at the time would have subjected us to the severest criticism of many strong partisans who believe that the populist vote was suppressed by the associated press, but later advices from reliable sources have shown no increase of the vote over the first report.—People's Journal.

Here we have it from the Journal in a nutshell. It is refreshing to find such fair words as these coming from a populist paper. It is the custom at the end of each

JUDGE NUGENT DEAD.

After a lingering illness, Judge Thomas L. Nugent, the recognized leader of the populist party in Texas, died at his home in Fort Worth at 2:40 a. m., Saturday morning. The people of the whole state, irrespective of political affiliations, join in mourning deeply the loss of a man whose purity of life and sincerity of purpose, like that of Allen G. Thurman, so lately deceased, were never questioned by even his opponents, and whose ability, integrity and honor commanded the profound respect of a great commonwealth. A great and good man has been "gathered to the fathers," and Texas pauses upon her onward march to drop a tear upon the grave of one who loved her unselfishly and served her faithfully.

This is a remarkable month in that for the first time since the birth of Christ, or nearly 1900 years, there are two full moons during the month of December—on the 2d and 31st.—San Angelo Standard.

As many persons have asked the reporter about the matter, we take the liberty of stating, on behalf of the D. Y. K. club, that no admission cards were issued with the invitations, for the reason that they are usually lost, and not presented at the door. All persons who were invited will be admitted at the door. Only members of the club will be required to present cards at the door. Visiting young men will be supplied upon reaching the city.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE.

Workmen Have Reached Millican—Coming to Bryan.

Workmen have reached Millican in the work of distributing poles for the long distance telephone line being put in by the Western Construction company, a part of the Bell syndicate, and we learn that the line will soon be in Bryan, and will connect all the principal towns along the Central. It will be a big thing for business men, by facilitating orders, and its coming will be hailed with satisfaction on all sides.

Dr. West preached two strong sermons at the Presbyterian church yesterday, upon the subject of faith, as illustrated by the life of Moses. The night sermon treated of the motives which led Moses to choose the bondage, poverty and misery of Israel in preference to the royalty, opulence and luxury of Egypt. The speaker applied the underlying principles involved to individual character in the present day, and incidentally scored the gambler, speculator and business man, whose selfish methods are all shaped with an eye single to present personal self-gratification.

The county treasurer's report was approved at the special session of the commissioner's court last week. Judge V. B. Hudson, Commissioners T. L. Grace, P. H. Arrington and Felix Phillips went out Friday and selected a site for a new bridge across the creek on the Mumford and Bryan road, six or seven miles from town.

There are more than forty of them in Valparaiso and Santiago, and there are others in all the head towns of departments. Chili has many literary men, including a regiment of poets, and also many scientific men and a multitude of statesmen and generals. The schools are free, and the educational system provides for provincial lyceums, normal schools, an agricultural school, schools for the arts and trades, military and naval academies and a national university, all supported by the government. In some years there have been 1,000 students at the Santiago university.

Scott's Universities. In the last seven and twenty years the number of students attending Scotch universities has more than doubled; for in 1861 the number was 3,289, and in 1890 it was 7,000 odd.

Grover Stands Pat.

The St. Louis Republic says: "Mr. Cleveland boldly asserts the Monroe doctrine in the Venezuelan matter. He declares, unequivocally, that the insistence of England upon the establishment of an arbitrary line beyond which she will not accept arbitration as a means of adjusting differences, cannot be entertained, for the reason that it contravenes the spirit of that doctrine. It would be difficult to make a stronger statement of our case. There is in the declaration no unfurling of the flag from the mountain peaks, and no strident screaming of the eagle in vainglorious vanities of prowess and empire, but every American with a self-respecting consciousness of his country's strength will feel that he has found a voice in the message. And that the message is regarded as the expression of a people capable of backing it up is clearly proved by the resentful tone of the London press."

Nugent's death clears the populist gubernatorial track for Kearby.

election for the populist rags over the country to howl and whoop about the "subsidized associated press." The associated press is a business concern, and its function is to supply the news, regardless of partisan flavor. But when the populists come up short, as they usually do, their organs are quick to accuse the telegraph wires of fraud. The populist party is fast disappearing from the face of the earth, and doomed to death.—Lampasas Leader.

Nugent was not a spoilsman or an office hunter. He did what he did for the good of Texas, and was the noblest populist of them all.

Commenting upon President Cleveland's proposition to retire the greenbacks, the Fort Worth Gazette says: "It is estimated that forty-six per cent of the outstanding $346,000,000 greenbacks have been destroyed. At that rate, government retirement will in the course of time become unnecessary."

A Fatal Wreck.

New York, Dec. 9.—Three men were killed and two more were injured in a railroad wreck yesterday on the New York and New Haven railway in Harlem. The killed are: Thomas Fitzgerald, engineer, 55 years old; Frederick K. Naples, brakeman, 30 years old; Thomas C. McNally, brakeman, 45 years old. The injured are: Thomas Bannon, conductor, scalded; Thomas McKeon, fireman, scalded.

All the killed were residents of this city. The accident occurred between One Hundred and Twenty-second and One Hundred and Twenty-third streets. The engine No. 16, of the company's equipment was used as a switch engine and was bound west to Van Vest station with its crew of men. The accident occurred at a short curve and so explanation of who was responsible for the trouble could be ascertained. Everything was in its proper shape and the engine and tender were gliding along at the usual speed, when, without warning, the engine left the track and went bumping along over the ties.

Bannon, the conductor, and McKeon, the fireman, leaped for their lives at the minute the engine toppled over at the west bound track before the others of the crew were able to save themselves from being crushed beneath the weight of the boiler. Police and fire alarms were at once turned in. The firemen went to work with axes and cut away all the wood work of the cab, and in that way were able to take out the bodies of Fitzgerald and Naples, both of whom were pinned down by the cab. The body of McNally, however, was under the boiler and the firemen were not able to release it.

A wrecking crew was sent for from the company's yard and the work of lifting up the engine, which lay on its side, was begun. After many hours of labor, the engine was jacked up and the body of McNally was taken out. All of the bodies were crushed and scalded, death evidently having been instantaneous. Fitzgerald's head protruded through the window of the engine cab and he was sitting on his seat at his duty when the accident happened.

Corbett Talks Again.

New York, Dec. 9.—James J. Corbett will issue a statement over his signature in a few days setting forth his position pugilistically. He outlined this statement Saturday:

"My sympathies are heartily with Maher in his match with Fitzsimmons," said Corbett. "I hope he will beat that Australian's brains out. But if he does not I'll make Fitzsimmons fight for any amount of money he pleases or for a shoe string. I'll show that fellow up before I get through with him."

"But in case Fitzsimmons loses, what about Maher?" asked the reporter.

"I intend to let Maher alone unless he makes cracks at me. In that case I'll have to call him, that's all. I do not care to enter the ring again, but I won't allow any one to make any bluffs in my direction."

Employees Must Not Organize.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—An important order was issued Saturday by Postmaster General Wilson, directed against the organization of postal employees to secure legislative action. Reports have been current for a comparatively long period that employees of various classes were combining and pooling funds to furnish expenses of committees or other representatives sent to appear before congressional committees and in behalf of legislation. This action is now practically prohibited and a penalty of removal imposed by Saturday's order.

Another Defaulter.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 9.—A special from Frankfort says: State Inspector and Examiner Gardner made a report to Gov. Brown Saturday of an investigation of the office of the registrar of the land office, which shows a shortage of $952.72 in the accounts of Hon. Green B. Swango (Dem.), the present registrar. The shortage, while comparatively small, runs back through the entire four years of his incumbency, a part of the fees due the state being withheld on each statement, which under the law are made every six months.

Three Men Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Postmaster General Wilson has dismissed William W. Hill of Mississippi, assistant superintendent of the free delivery department; Samuel Bright of Indiana, a clerk in the free delivery bureau, and another clerk named Sullivan, now of the dead letter office, but formerly of the free delivery bureau, for giving out of information and conspiracy to defraud the department.

Biometallist.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Paris says that the French biometallist league has convened an international conference, which is to meet on December 10, continuing until December 12, to agree upon the terms of an appeal to the representative governments to renew negotiations for an international agreement to renew the use of both gold and silver as money metals. Representatives of England, Belgium and Germany will attend.

America is threatened with another visit from Dunrayen.
