FIRST EFFECTS OF STANDARD OIL DECISION

Standard Oil Stock Slumped and then Jumped. Other Stocks Phenomenally Active After Weeks of Inactivity

[By Associated Press.]
New York, May 16.—Prices went upward with a rush on the stock market this morning after weeks of inactivity. The gains ranged from large fractions to three points on every active stock.

Although Standard Oil opened on the curb market at 67 1/2, a loss of 4 3/4 overnight, it recovered in a few minutes and rose to 68.

On Wall street the American Tobacco Company's stocks jumped fifteen points at the opening on the curb. On the stock exchange American Tobacco opened ten points higher. The crowd of traders on 'change was largest in many weeks.

Opening gains were, as a rule, well maintained.

Statement from Company's Solicitor.
[By Associated Press.]
New York, May 16.—The Standard

Oil's first word on the decision came this morning from M. F. Elliott, the company's general solicitor. "The company proposes to obey the decree," he said, "and it will be some time before any reorganization plans are given out. Meanwhile, the companies affected expect to carry on their business as usual."

No Flurry in London.

[By Associated Press.]
London, May 16.—There is surprisingly little interest or flurry in financial circles here on account of the United States supreme court's Standard Oil decision. The afternoon papers generally hold the opinion that the oil decision is "a theatrical but probably fruitless victory over the money power."

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST LABOR LEADERS

District of Columbia Supreme Court Begins Action on its Own Motion.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO CAPT. AND MRS. MOSES

The faculty of A. & M. college will tender a farewell reception to Capt. and Mrs. Andrew Moses on Thursday evening, May 25, from 8:30 to 11 o'clock at the Shirley club house on the campus. The ladies of the campus, instructors and officers of the college and the commissioned officers of the regimental staff are invited to attend.

Captain Moses has served four years as commandant of cadets and professor of military tactics at A. & M. college, and as the United States government only allows this period of time to be spent in any certain place by officers of the army, Captain Moses will be removed at the end of this session. As the military standing of the college has been raised to the very highest possible point during Captain Moses' administration, the efficiency of his work is evident.

Official private advices from Washington indicate that the war department will detail a first lieutenant to succeed Captain Moses.
