NUMBER 52

WILSON ADMINISTRATION UNDER HEADWAY

May Confine Special Session to Tariff and Appropriations. No Change to be Made in Foreign Policies.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—House leaders are strongly urging President Wilson to use his influence for a plan to confine the special session to tariff legislation and the passage of the appropriation bills which failed to pass at the last session of Congress.

Secretary Wilson's Last Act.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—The last official act of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson was to reinstate C. G. Elliott, chief drainage engineer, who was dismissed during the Florida everglades investigation.

Will Reduce Number of Military Aides.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—President Wilson plans to cut in half the number of his military aides and adopt the custom of their wearing full dress uniforms when touring the country with him.

When Senators Bryan and Fletcher of Florida called on President Wilson today about two appointments, he referred them to the Attorney General.

No Change in Foreign Policies.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—It is indicated by Secretary of State Bryan's action today that the new administration will make no immediate important changes in this country's foreign policy. He approved the recent letters to consuls.

It is announced the new administration intends to use every proper means to avoid friction with Mexicans on the border.

Progressives to Control.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—The chairman of the Senate caucus presented a list today for a steering committee, giving control to progressive Democrats. The caucus approved the list.

Wilson Very Modest.
[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 6.—After today's Cabinet meeting Secretary Lane said: "The thing that impressed me most was the extreme modesty of the man at the head of the table. He listened to every consideration and decided without the slightest hesitation what should be done. He seems to have an administrative mind."

PROCEEDINGS IN THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE

Bill May Pass Proposing to Make It a Felony to Sell Liquor Outside of Restricted City Districts.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 6.—The House today refused to revive the full crew bill.

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the bill making it a felony to sell intoxicants outside of restricted city districts, which amendment makes the possession of an internal revenue license prima facie evidence of the sale of liquor.

The House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the married women's rights and Alamo bills. These amendments were sent to conference. This makes the Alamo legislation unlikely of success.

The Senate spent all the morning arguing the Cotton Belt consolidation bill.

New Senate bills included one by Senator Warren providing for the filing of a corporation's charter in the county where the corporation has its headquarters.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 5.—The Senate today finally passed the marital rights bill by a vote of 19 to 8. The House had already passed it.

The Alamo bill, placing its control in a commission of which the Governor is a member, finally passed. Representative Roger Byrne was endorsed for customs collector at either El Paso or Laredo.

The House this morning began consideration of the bill to make the home rule amendment effective.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 7.—In the House today the liquor traffic committee reported favorably the Lewelling bill for 7 o'clock closing of saloons.

The House passed many Senate measures to the third reading today, including the Hudspeth bill for the sale of school lands in one-sixteenth sections; the Willacy bill that towns of over 5000 inhabitants may have a commission form of government election on petition of 10 per cent of the voters, and the Senate railroad hospital bill.

The Senate spent the entire morning considering the women's nine-hour day bill. It adopted an amendment permitting stenographers to work as much as eleven hours a day, provided they do not work more than fifty-four hours a week. It also adopted an amendment exempting telephone operators in times of calamity.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 8.—The House today passed bills rapidly, including one to place county and precinct officials on a salary basis. It also passed the amendment to the anti-pass act to give Confederate veterans and their widows passes. This bill was amended so as to give passes also to five deputy sheriffs in counties of over 100,000 population, to city health officers, to presidents and superintendents of orphans' homes, to insurance adjusters, and State officials. Use of passes was restricted to official business only. Amendments were lost to give passes to Governor, to State Revenue Agent and to Legislators. An amendment was adopted striking out in the present law the privilege of passes to State Railroad Commissioners.

Senate Passes McGregor Bill.
[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 8.—The Senate today passed the McGregor bill terminating the paid tubercular commission and substituting therefor a citizens' commission, to be paid only for actual services rendered.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 10.—The house is working rapidly. In less than three minutes today it engrossed the Burgess-Glasscock bill affecting all Texas irrigation development.

Considering Bond Issue.
[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 10.—The House spent this morning considering the Hill bill for a $3,000,000 bond issue for the State penitentiary system. Representative Hill, in defending Governor Colquitt for abolishing the contract plan, said:

"I had rather see the system $3,000,000 in debt than turn back to the old system of contracting under which men were beaten to death and women about to become mothers driven into fields and worked like beasts by brutal guards."

The bond issue debate probably will continue all this afternoon.

Date Set to Elect Successor.
[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 10.—April 5 is the date set for election of Tenth District Congressman to succeed Albert S. Burleson, resigned.

To Pardon Sergeant Manley.
[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 10.—Papers seeking a pardon for Sergeant Manley were filed with Governor Colquitt today.

In the Senate.
[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 10.—The Senate today sent to the rules committee the Townsend resolution calling for immediate consideration of the criminal procedure reform bills, thereby indicating it had no desire to hurry this legislation.

The Senate finally passed the Wiley bill liberalizing laws governing relations of guardian and ward, and the Brelsford-Hudspeth bill, which the Governor disapproves, extending relief to certain western settlers who have defaulted on land interest payments.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, March 11.—The Senate today adopted the free conference bill on marital right. This is the substitute for the committee bill. Senators Vaughan and Wiley urged its passage, and Senators Morrow, Collins, and Nugent opposed it.

Senate judiciary committee No. 2 favorably reported the Collins bill making it a penitentiary offense for a newspaper to conduct a contest. Senator Nugent made an adverse minority report. The majority report favored an amendment forbidding any contests between two or more persons, but allowing newspapers to offer prizes, premiums and commissions to those getting subscriptions.

The House amendment to the pistol totting law, making the penalty a felony, was favorably reported.

The Senate passed the Westbrook bill making common law marriages null and void.

NO MORE MADEROS IN MEXICO

WILL SELL ALL THEIR PROPERTY IN NATIVE COUNTRY AND SETTLE IN DIFFERENT PARTS OF WORLD.

START NO REVOLUTIONS

Emilio Madero Says He Himself Will Shoot Down the First Madero Who Tries To Be President of Mexico.

[By Associated Press.]
San Antonio, Texas, March 7.—Emilio Madero, who is here, today said:

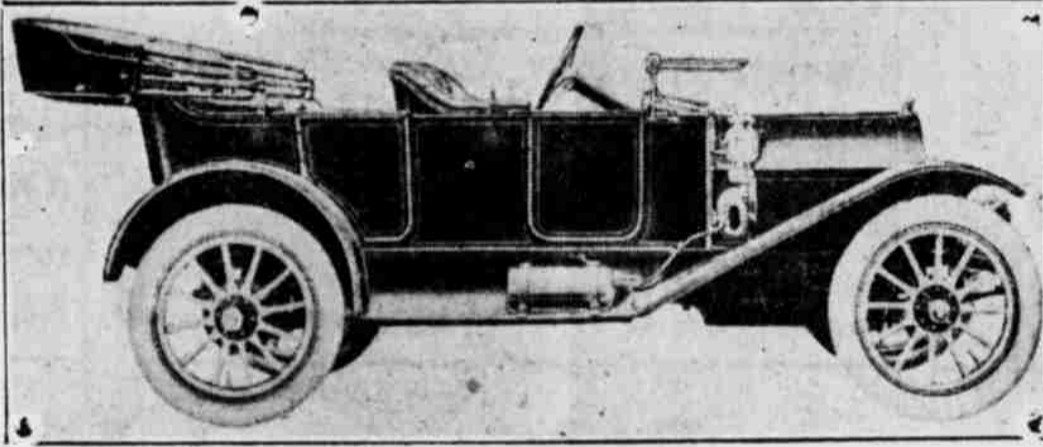

"None of the Madero family ever will live in Mexico again. Each member will dispose of all his property and the family will scatter in other parts of the world, some in the United States and some in Europe.

"The first man of the Maderos who seeks to establish himself as President of Mexico I myself will shoot down."

He said none of the family would inaugurate a revolution for revenge.

NOW LISTEN! I was told the other day that some of our good friends said that "Old man Myers was too sharp to let that automobile get out of his family." I want to say in candor I do hope that the public will not pay any attention to this talk. This talk is caused from envy and jealousy. I do hope that the people of this county have a higher regard for me than to believe any of this talk. You know it's the "hit dog that always howls." I am no trickster. This car will be
