John Harwood came up from Jackson county Saturday, and on Monday went down to Moulton to see his mother.

Emil Buescher of Moulton, was here Monday. He stated that he did not expect any cotton at Moulton this week as the prairie cotton is slow to open.

"The first bale" seems a little backward about making its appearance here. Nearly every other town of note has had one but the cotton seems to be late about here. Joe Sulak had 1000 pounds picked Saturday and will be able to complete his bale some time this week.

There will be a match game of ball between Moulton and Bastrop at Turnverein park Saturday evening and again Sunday evening. In order to make expenses the boys will charge 15 cents admission. The contest will be a hot one and well worth ten times the admission price.

The "Dandy" is a good mill. It combines all improvements known to windmill manufacturers. Its furling device is perfect; the weight can be adjusted so that the mill will set itself out of the wind at any speed desired. The tower is absolutely guaranteed against wreckage by storms. The spinnings go closer together as the journals wear. The mill and tower weighs more than any steel mill built and it is not so expensive as many.
