MOULTON.

The man with the striking machine is here.

Alfred Kubitz and Charles J. Brunner paid Shiner a short visit Sunday.

Misses Maud and May Cheatham and Minnie and Eulah Cherry, of the Institute, were here Saturday.

Mrs. C. W. Harpfil returned Friday from a visit to relatives in Terryville.

Mr. Wm. Ogsdon, of Nickle, was in town Saturday.

Alex Vauhan returned from the Indian Territory Saturday.

The incomparable C. H. Cox, representing the Galveston News, was here Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Tom Thompson came in from Floresville Saturday.

Prof. Cherry, of Stonewall, was here Sunday.

The young people enjoyed an ice cream party at the residence of J. F. Dockery Saturday night. There were those present, Misses Minnie and Eulah Cherry, Mary Dockery, Palmie Hampil, Elisa and Emily Kotzobue, Annie and Cyde Dockery Pearl Keese, Alf Kubitz, Joe Houston, C. J. Brunner, Julius Hampil,

G. Fleury, S. Gattlieb, Alex Kotzobue, Lon York and your correspondent. Miss Annie Dockery made a charming hostess and when good nights were said, everyone expressed themselves as having spent a delightful evening.

Dr. Weddington has in his possession the skull of the negro, Monroe, who was killed here a few weeks ago. It is an unusually thick one and the bullet hole shows very plain. The Dr. recently removed 76 full grown scraw worms from a little Bohemian girl's head. They had gathered there through carelessness and neglect.

Total cotton receipts up to noon Monday was 4026 bales. Fred, Ed and Aleck are kept hustling to take care of the cotton.

F. J. Helweg took in the celebration at Witting Monday.

It is said that the inhabitants of Moulton are not losing so many chickens now as they did a short time ago.

Mrs. G. J. Bohnenkamp has been quite sick this week.

Ed Armin returned Sunday from Yoakum.

Fritz Luecke and O. T. Highsmith visited Shiner Monday.

Justice court convened here last Monday morning before Squire Jackson. Lawyers Rogsdale and Ellis were over from Hallettsville. The following cases were disposed of:

State vs. Julius Seipert, assault; plead guilty and was assessed $5 and trimmings, which floated up $15.

State vs. John Krueger, guilty; fined $5 and costs, total, $10.

State vs. Fred Warren, assault; fine and costs, $15. Then Sam Warren came in for a little attention at the hands of the court.

Sammy contributed $15 and felt better.

State vs. Felix Tylecek, disturbing the peace; fine and costs, $10.

State vs. Jake Weleck, assault and battery; continued to Nov.

State vs. Galeck, assault and battery; continued to Nov.

COUNTRY SCHOOL.
Moulton Institute.
MOULTON, 1894.

EDITOR GAZETTE.
Mrs. Price came in last Sunday. She will assist Mrs. Allen in the school.

The Institute school opened last Monday with twenty-five pupils in attendance.

Rev. Leach contemplates moving to Yoakum.

John Armin and G. Buescher passed through here last Monday on their way to look at some land a few miles west of here.

John Tannenberger has rolled up the cotton sack and laid it away and is now proceeding to make a further improvement in his mental capacity. I hope he will succeed so that he and Mr. Maury will be able to hold a consultation and uphold the mysteries that they found in the Mississippi river problem.

John says he is in favor of organizing our Literary Society again. A good many will be in favor of that, John, as we love to hear you talk about things that lay over in "Dutchland."

Whew! Jake sure smelt the blood of his daddy. That's right Jake, you take up for and smelt by your little village. I am sorry I said anything about it. You know that passage of scripture: "If thy brother strikes you on the cheek, do not strike back but
