Learn The Science Of Correct Food Preparation

Most everyone can prepare an eatable meal but there is much more to domestic "chemistry" than the mere mixing, cooking and serving. Do you know that most everything the doctor does with medicines can be better done with the correct selection and proper preparation of foods.

You are cordially invited by The Herald to attend these FREE cooking school classes that will give you new ideas in culinary as it is applied in serving your health, as well as your taste. Do you know a correctly balanced diet for a healthy adult? This is one of the many things you'll learn.
